THE LITTLE LAURAS OF LONG AGO AND NOW

I was reading a letter from a lady who was a little pupil of mine more than fifty years ago when "Little Laura." knocked at my door.

More than fifty years ago! I was no cynic then, for fortune had not brought me into contact with the rougher aspects of life, which no doubt existed then just as they do now, and so I question if man is rapidly degenerating into a soulless animal as is often asserted. My pupil of more than fifty years ago, (she had more than fifty years ago, (she had more than fifty sectorial section of more than fifty years ago, (she had more than fifty years ago, (she had more than fifty sectorial sectorial shown by the extracts from her letter which are reproduced below, and that such qualities are extant in the rising generation no one can doubt who knows Little Laura, my little lady scholar. Though only six years old, and though her manners are those of a child, they are those of an accomplished and unaffected lady of the world.

But here are the extracts from the letter of my former pupil to which I have alluded:—

"My Dear Friend,
"We begin to realize the approach of winter—and the holidays will soon be athand. I wonder if they are sad days to you as well as me? We all used to look forward to Thanksgiving as a bright day of the year when our children were at home or where they could come. Now there are vacant chairs around the bounfared to the more than fifty years ago! I was no cynic then for you soon. I do not have anyone to talk to. you as well as me? We all used to look forward to Thanksgiving as a bright day of the year when our children were at home or where they could come. Now there are vacant chairs around the bountiful tables and sweet voices are hushed. Why wonder that we are sad and lonely! Christmas is naught but vanity to me now. I would like to make nice presents but the world is full of such things and the young now a days do not appreciate anything unless it is costly!

"Both my boys have been prosperous thus far, and that with health. Everything seems rushing and no one seems to have any time to stop to rest! What will 'he next generation do at this rapid rate? We can only wonder and guess. I do not think the world is growing any better. Do you?

MANUFACTURE OF CONCRETE BLOCKS FOR SACKVILLE BUILDINGS

Plant to Be Secured - Liquor Wrecking Home, Young Matron Applies to Court - Football Season Ends

Sackville, N. B., Nov. 26—A plant for the manufacture of concrete blocks, with which to build houses, will be purchased next spring by Sackville interests. It is understood that a good number of houses will be built here next year.

A young married woman called on Police Magistrate Jordan this week and implored him to do something to prevent liquor being sold to her drunken husband. She said that they had moved to Sackville from Moncton, where her husband had got along all right. Since coming to Sackville, however, he had gone from bad to worse, and drank for weeks at a true. B. C. Raworth, who recently built of splendid new brick factory, is giving considerable attention to repairing machinery. Sackville has had no machine ship.

James Steele, of Port Elgin, was in town today on his return from North Anson, Maine, where he has been employed.

When the special train conveying the Mount Allison football team reached Sackwille last evening the boys were met by a Mount Allison football team reached Sack-ville last evening, the boys were met by a large crowd. The Citizens' Band greeted them in fine style, something the collegians much appreciated: Later on a bonfire in front of the university residence marked the close of the season of 1910 and the re-turn of the King-Richardson trophy to Sackville.

Schooner Laura C. Hall, 99 tons, of Parrsboro, Capt. J. H. Rockwell, arrived at Sackville on November 11th from River Hobert, in ballast. She sailed next day with 180 tons of grindstones, valued at $2,169, for E. H. Weaver, New Haven. Schooner Annie Louise Lockwood, 266 tons, Capt. Oscar Joston, of New York, arrived at Sackville on November 17, from New York, w th 330 tons of moulding sand for the Amherst Foundry Company. She will be loaded with laths.

No woman can afford to be indifferent to the appearance of her hair. A mass of nice snappy hair, becomingly dressed will add more in genuine good looks than a pretty face, or an expensive gown. Don't allow the scalp to become clogged with dirt and dandruff. Don't let the Dandruff Germ destroy your hair. If your hair is uneven, dead, dull and brittle and comes out by the handful every time you draw a comb through it, the germ is there. To kill that germ and check the loss of hair should be your first anxiety. Newbro's Herpicide will do this and at the same time put the hair and scalp in a sanitary condition. Herpicide appeals to those of greatest refinement on account of its expuisite odor, its purity and clearliness. It contains no grease and does not stain or dye. There is nothing more dependable than this remarkable scalp prophylactic. The hair responds readily to a regular and intelligent use of Newbro's Herpicide. Try it and see.
