

PROPOSES TO RENEW MORE OF WATER MAINS

Commissioner Wigmore Asks For Authority to Do $55,000 Work

Douglas Avenue Matter Is Again Gone Into—Coal Tenders Opened

Proposed renewals of old water mains in the city with new larger ones, what the estimate of cost of the diversion of Douglas avenue included or did not include, a proposed conference with a delegation from the West Side Progressive Association and tenders for coal were matters which took up the time of the Common Council this morning in committee. The coal tenders were referred to the several commissioners, and it was decided to hear the delegation from the West Side Progressive Association on Thursday morning.

Commissioner Frink said the day for talk had passed. What was wanted was action. The city was moving in the matter of harbor improvements and it seemed to him that this communication was a challenge to the competency of the council.

Commissioner Harding suggested that a communication be sent saying the council were dealing with the matters referred to.

It was decided to hear the delegation on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock and Mayor Potts had a copy of the letter from the association sent to the Board of Trade, along with a notice of the time of the meeting.

Commissioner Frink said he had discussed the matter with the city engineer and Mr. Hare said the work of the diversion was included in the estimate, but he could not find any authority for this in the order, which mentioned the Douglas avenue only. He read an estimate of cost presented to the then mayor, E. A. Schofield, in 1920, by Mr. Hare, as follows: concrete arch, $40,000; 1,000 feet retaining wall, Chesley street, $12,000; fill, Chesley street, $24,000; excavation Douglas Avenue, $20,000.

EXMOUTH STREET PICNIC ENJOYED

More than 800 people attended a highly successful picnic held by the Exmouth street Methodist church on Saturday at Crystal Beach, this outing opening this year's picnic season. A programme of sports was heartily entered in upon and enjoyed. Boating, baseball games and bathing were participated in by many.

THOSE ASSISTING

The Women's Bible Class had charge of the serving of dinner and supper on the grounds and Mrs. Fanny Andrews was the efficient convener. E. E. Thomas, superintendent of the Sunday school, was general convener for the picnic and members of the men's committee included J. W. Williamson, H. W. Jones, Robert Goodrich, George Withers, G. C. Cosman, W. L. Beville and Richard Irwin. Rev. E. E. Styles, the pastor, was present and helped in making the affair successful. The sports were in charge of Fred Withers and Fred Myles. All of the committees did valiant work.

AGAIN TOMORROW

Commissioner Harding said he thought the council should consider the fact that in a few years it might be compelled to build an overhead bridge at this point. Mayor Potts said what he wanted was an estimate from an engineer of the cost of the diversion, and just what it included, and Commissioner Frink said this could be gotten by calling in Mr. Hare.

PORT CONFERENCE

Mayor Potts brought up the matter of the conference for which the West Side Progressive Association asked to be held by the members of the City Council, representatives of the Board of Trade and a delegation from the association, with particular reference to the matter of having the breakwater extended.

Commissioner Frink said the day for talk had passed. What was wanted was action. The city was moving in the matter of harbor improvements and it seemed to him that this communication was a challenge to the competency of the council.

WATER MAINS

Commissioner Wigmore said he would like to get authority to make a number of water main renewals, the total cost of which would be $50,000, and for which bonds would have to be issued. The proposed works were as follows: Union street, St. Davids to Crown, along Crown to Queens, $23,130; North street, Mill to George, $11,185; St. Andrew, Sydney to Carmarthen, $2,894; Elliott Row, Carmarthen to Pitt, $4,000; Richmond, Waterloo to Prince Edward, $6,905; Exmouth, from Richmond north, $2,130; Broadview avenue, Charlotte to Carmarthen, $4,195; King street, Carmarthen to Crown, $6,290; Sydney, Queen to south side Queen square, $2,510; Chubb, Rockland Road south, $1,040.

Commissioner Bullock referred to the report of Mr. McInnis, in which he said the weak link in the city distribution system was the two mains from Little River and asked if there was any intention to renew these or if the proposed work was the more important.
