Thieves dig tunnel under jewelry store.

Remove Window Flooring and Escape With Diamonds.

Valued at $1,500.

Ely, Nev., May 31.—After digging a tunnel twelve feet long from the basement of Tex Rickard's saloon to a spot directly beneath a show window of the Clark and Lindsag jewelry store in this city, thieves removed a portion of the window flooring and secured diamonds valued at $1,500 that were on exhibition. The robbery happened while Lindsag, one of the proprietors, stood within twelve feet of the window.

The basement in Rickard's saloon, from which the operations were based, is used only by a Chinese porter, and the thieves were able to work upon their tunnel without fear of detection. It is thought that the excavations beneath the show window required several days' work.

Between the time of the robbery and the discovery that the gems were missing, the thieves had ample time to escape. Lindsag said that he heard peep noises near the window, but thinking they came from the street, paid no attention to them. A passerby on the opposite side of the street stated to-day that he saw a hand groping about the window, but believing it to be a shadow, gave it no further thought.

Police officers and detectives employed by the jewelry firm are at work on the case. The robbers did their job in a workmanlike manner and left no clue. The whole case is surrounded by mystery and the officers are at a loss to know where they will begin their investigation.

RIOTING AT PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 31.—The street car strike grew serious this afternoon, and a number of disorders in outlying sections of the West Philadelphia and Kensington have been reported. Strikers this afternoon announced that the crews of the subway and elevated roads would quit work within 24 hours in sympathy with the employees of the surface lines.

Five hundred strikebreakers, who are receiving 25 cents an hour, are operating some of the surface lines to-day. It is reported that if the rioting continues 2,000 special policemen will be sworn in to-morrow.

DEPEW OBJECTS TO GERMAN INFLUENCE

Says Document Regarding the Tariff is Attempt to influence Congress.

Washington, D. C., May 31.—In discussing whether or not the communication from the German government regarding the tariff transmitted to the finance committee by the state department, should be accepted as accurate testimony, Senator Depew of New York on Saturday declared that the document was an evident attempt on the part of Germany to influence the senate of the United States.

The report from the German government, which aroused the discussion, contained many anonymous statements. Depew ridiculed the spectacle of the senate of the United States, supposedly constructing a tariff to meet the requirements and necessities affecting domestic industries, yet finding a foreign government entering through a senate committee to assist or obstruct the consideration of a measure.

"If Germany were preparing a tariff bill," he declared, "and American manufacturers, competitors, should appeal to President Taft to send statements and figures to the German government having a bearing on the legislation, it would lead to consequences more serious than any international difficulty that has ever arisen between the United States and a European power."

Depew then referred to the evident effort of Chancellor von Bulow to influence congress by forwarding a statement so far-reaching in effect and particular in detail, that it even entered into a discussion of a tax on razors.

"The spectacle," he declared, "is simply that of the German government sending here to tell the congress of the United States what it must do." Depew's arraignment of the German communication and the motives behind its presentation was the result of a request by Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, that the report of the German government to the state department be printed as a document.

Senator Aldrich objected, contending that the communication was in the nature of diplomatic information and hence confidential.

INDICTMENT OF MAYOR OF TACOMA QUASHED

Prosecuting Attorney Will Not Appeal From Superior Court Decision.

Tacoma, Wash., May 31.—The indictment recently returned by the grand jury against Mayor John W. Linck fell flat under a decision rendered by Judge Easterday of the superior court. The case against the mayor is ended, for the court quashed the indictment and the prosecution states that no appeal will be taken.

The indictment charged Mayor Linck with having failed to enforce a city ordinance against the operation of a restricted district. Bond was given upon the day in indictment and the demurrer to the indictment was sustained by Judge Easterday.

The court ruled that the mayor is an executive officer and is entitled to use his discretion upon matters similar to that in question. The court also held that the indictment failed to describe time, place or manner of the alleged offence, as is required by section 7213 of Ballinger's code, upon which the indictment was based.

City Attorney Stiles argued only upon the first point of the demurrer because of the court's ruling relative to the mayor's latitude of discretion.

Prosecuting attorney L. McMurray appeared for the state and announced that the court's ruling was final and that the matter would not be taken on appeal to the higher court. Under a subsequent order from the court the indictment was dismissed, the mayor's bail exonerated and the case thrown out of court.

The funeral of the late Frederick Louis Wilmer took place on Friday at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence, 910 McClure street, and at 2.45 o'clock at Christ Church cathedral, where Rev. A. E. Cooper conducted an impressive service.

A pleasant and interesting event took place Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Parritt. They are leaving next week on a visit to the Old Country, which they left many years ago, and intend visiting many eastern cities in Canada and the States, commencing business and pleasure. The members of the firm of Bros. Parritt, who have been in the city for many years, made it the occasion of presenting the senior member with a handsome photographic album, suitably inscribed on the front page, and containing the photo of members of the firm and filled with photographs of the many jobs made in and carried out by them, and others in course of construction. Needless to say the recipient was agreeably surprised and delighted.

The University of Toronto local examinations in music will be held this year in St. Ann's Academy as usual. MYSTERY SURROUNDS DUEL AT VIENNA

Statesman Reported to Have Wounded Himself in the Head.

Vienna, May 31.—Friends of the two statesmen who engaged in a duel over "Une Affaire Politigue," are laughingly differing over the details of the meeting of the fire-eaters.

Some detractors of Herr Malik declare that gentleman became so nervous when he faced Baron von Lohberg that he shot himself slightly in the forehead. Others aver that neither desired to have the blood of a fellow-creature upon his hands, so after a toss of a coin, the loser shot himself, slightly and honor was satisfied. One thing is certain, however, that is that Herr Malik has a flesh wound in the head, and the statesman and nobleman are now the best of friends.

A small fire in the Mahon block was discovered yesterday and was quickly extinguished by the brigade. Dr. Burgess, who has offices in the block, discovered his office full of smoke. The fire was due to defective wiring.

George C. Hiller was placed under the Indian act for one year by consent in the police court this morning. One drunk pleaded guilty and elected to stay in jail for five days. James Dalziel, charged with the offence of vagrancy, pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy, where Rev. A. E. Cooper conducted an impressive service.

FENCES IN DISTRICT TO BE PUT RIGHT

Saanich Council Will Enforce Its Resolutions on Subject.

Saanich council is still agitated over the question of property owners' crocheting upon the roads. Some of those who were offending on Cook street have complied with the request of the council to move it back. At the meeting of the council on Saturday night the matter came up again.

Councillor Sewall wanted to know if anything had been done in the matter of having the fences moved back on the Cook street fences.

The reve said he had noticed some were moved back. Others were not. Councillor Sewall suggested that attention had not been paid to the resolutions passed by the council there should be steps taken to enforce them. Councillor Nicholson did not favor resolutions of the council being ignored. It made the council a laughing stock.

Councillor Jones advised caution until it was proved that the road highway was in such shape as to give the council power to act.

Other councillors pointed out there was no question as to the right of the council.

It was finally decided that the road superintendent should see Mrs. French with reference to moving the fence back.

CHILDREN ON APPROVAL.

Inauguration of Novel Scheme by Board of Guardians.

A novel system by which children may be adopted on trial has been inaugurated by the Lambeth Board of Guardians. A pretty Swiss girl, called Rosie, was sent from the guardians' schools at Norwood to a would-be father and mother—"on approval."

Rosie is three years old, and is a good-looking child, with black curling hair and dark eyes and very winning ways. Her new home has been inspected by the Adoptions committee and found quite satisfactory.

The new departure is part of an experimental scheme for placing Poor Law children in homes where they will be brought up as members of the family. A short time ago Mr. Burns made the suggestion that "there was scope for an enormous number of people who were comfortably off but who had no children of their own to adopt poor children."

At Lambeth a sub-committee of the School Committee, with three lady members, has recently been formed to take in hand the question of the adoption of children. The new system is one of the first practical results of its working.—London Daily Mail.

Damascus is undoubtedly the oldest existing city in the world. Benares and Constantinople, exclusive of Chinese towns, come next in point of age.

BRITISH MEMBERS FAVOR INDEMNITY

By Large Majority Commons Votes in Support of Principle.

By a majority of 152 in the House of Commons a resolution was passed in favor of payment of members, says the London Chronicle. J. S. Higham (Liberal) called attention to the question, and moved a resolution to the effect that any measure of general electoral reform should be accompanied by arrangements for the payment of members, and that the treasury should be responsible for the expenses of the returning officers.

Mr. Fenwick (Labor), seconded the motion.

Mr. Lewis Harcourt said this was a matter which the government was willing should be left to the discretion of the House. Most of them on that side were pledged to the payment of returning officers' expenses, and many of them were also pledged to the policy of the payment of members.

But whilst he said this he was not prepared to pledge the government as to whether the funds for such official expenses should come from local or imperial resources, or as to the making of provision for the payment of members under present circumstances. They would require, roughly speaking, £200,000 a year, and that was a material consideration in the view of the chancellor of the exchequer. But the financial point was not an argument against the policy, which had his warm approval.

He saw no degradation in a man being paid for important public services, and it would not make him corrupt by giving him a fair wage for honest work. He should have pleasure in voting for the resolution.

Arthur Henderson (Labor), regretted that the government had not made a definite statement on the subject.

Sir Wm. Bull (Conservative), held that all the best work in the world was done for love. (Laughter.) While returning officers' expenses should be paid, if they paid members of parliament, they must, if consistent, pay the members of local bodies.

W. H. Lever (Liberal), contended that the time was never more opportune than the present for giving effect to this proposal. The reform was beyond the zone of debatable argument, and ought to be carried into effect.

Swift MacNeill stated that according to history when members were paid parliamentary life was the purest.

Hamar Greenwood repudiated the suggestion that the payment of members led to corruption, and said that without the corrupting influence of the drink traffic no one in fifty of the members of the opposition side of the House would be in parliament at all.

In the end the resolution in favor of the payment of members was carried by 242 against 92, a majority of 152.
