VOL 11, NO 397.

Statutes-In Jall for two Birest-A Beavy Statutes-In Jall for Wom Defined by the advocated the establishment of a curfer for children on the street after mine o'click at night, they had an idea there might be some old and nearly forgotten law while ould be utilized for their purpose. The police officials, ambitions to shine as moral x formere, thereupon set about to find such a law, and they were stimulated by the re-marks made by J.dge Tuck, in the Wells thus illegally arrested and imprisoned. Even had the authorities had law on their

marks made by outge first, a the trial, on the depravity of young girls whose home training was neglected. They found a section? in the Police Act which they thought could be applied to the situation, and which would apply if certain essential clauses of sentences could side in this instance, and had they power to enforce a curfew law, or a law against immoral people walking the streets, th usual course would have been to impose merely a sufficient penalty to warn others, for the order was but a recent one and it may be hundreds had never heard of it. Instead of this, the magistrate, in his great be ignored. This section was quoted in full in PROGRESS last week, and it is not necessary to repeat it. It gives a policeman authority to arrest certain persons, in-cluding night walkers, loose idle and diszeal for public morals, imposed a penalty of $20. an amount which, at servants wages, it would require three or four months to earn. It is just the sum which at certain intervals, is levied upon this or that orderly person,s "whom he shall find disturbing the public peace," or be suspected of having committed or being about to com-mit somm. Further, he may arrest be-tween 9 p. m. and 5 s. m., at this seson, proprietress of a notorious den of infany, who is charged with the light:st possible offence of ke:ping liquor for sale, and who any person "lying or lurking" in any highway, yard or other place and not givis known by the police to sell it persist-antly in quantities which make the fine a ing a satisfactory account of themselves. This is the extent to which this section of the law can be applied, and mere trifle off of the profits. In default of this fine, the two ignorant young women were sent to jail for two months, to be this section of the law can be applied, and any arrest made under it without the essential conditions quoted is clearly an unwarrantable trespass. were sent to jail for two months, to further demoralized by the vile associates they will have there. with his plunder. But the main question is not as to the amount of the fine or the length of the sen-tence. It is that there should have been as by no means necessary. In other words, he seems to think the police can arrest all night walkers, loose and idle persons wher-ever they are found, and that a policeman no fine, no imprisonment, and no arrest in the first instance. If it is desirable to deal can stop an orderly man, wo-man or child on the street, order with such cases, as good people think it is, let there be a law under which proceedings man or child on the street, order them to go home, and arrest them it they refuse to do so. As the law makes no distinction as to age or sex, it applies to the there be a law under which prosecular can be taken. The spectacle of the magis-trate and chief overstepping their authority is one that must not be tolerated.

As it was, the reduction was first decided upon and then Dr. Pugsley was cilled on to show cause why it should not

He did so, claiming that his charges standing that he should be paid at the rate he had previously charged in cases of similar importance. He had been sought by both parties to the suit, and could have ap-peared for Connoly had he not decided to espouse the cause of the citizans, for which he is now, no doubt, profoundly sorry. As a climax to his arguments, he stated that rather than make the proposed riduction he would make the city a present of his services. The council has decided to accept his generous offer It is not often the city gets a Christma present, especially from a member of the legal profession, and it is not likely the custom will be followed to any great extent. According to Dr. Pags-ley, the amount of the gift is $841.16, but the city will only be grateful for $500. It is a difference of degree, but not of kind. Figuring the amount of the gift at $500, case are that when Mr. Willis entered his horse Pilot Jr. in the Danforth meeting he wired to the secretary to enter him in the ree-for-all. Inglewood, near Bridgetown, N. S. locked their new pastor out of the church, a few pastor in search of a flock happened to come along and proffer his aervices. They were accepted by another portion of the congregation, but this move of the opposition failed to make the de facto government resign and give up the keys of office, including the key of the church.

They used the latter to lock up the building, and by this piece of strategy they were able for several weeks to resist the innovation and exclude the innovator.

The adherents of the new minister, after a due consideration of the case and a survey of the door casing, made a brilliant coup d'etat by the summary and simple expedient of taking off the old lock and parposes, and his friends were of the same opinion. He decided to hold service as usual, whether the new man liked it or not. Deacon Isaac was on hand betimes on Sunday evening, and so were his followers, who ranged themselves on one side of the In answer to this we received word that they would not allow us any discount and and the goats, but which were the good and which were the bad depended algether upon the point of view from which the opinion was given. There was a pretty air division of the congregation on the government and opposition benches. The new pastor had no doubt prepared himself with a timely discourse on bro herly love, and his face beamed with pious fervor as he rose to begin the service of prayer and praise. Just then Deacon Clements also came to the front with a do or die look on his face and a hymn book in his hard

Then came the pastor's opportunity, and he made a very much more lively address then he had had in mind on his way to church. With all the vigor of outraged dignity he denounced the proceedings, and asserted his right to alone conduct the services in that church. He concluded his remarks by a scathing rebuke of the leader of th singing, whom he indignantly denounced as "that old nigger Clements." With this parting shot he dismissed the con-gregation and left the building. Better days may be in store for the colored brethern of Inglewood, for a number of prominent baptists of Bridgetown, including Rev. F. M. Young and W. A Craig, are striving to put an end to the contentions and to restore peace among the colored brethern.

THE GLUBM'S "TRADE" EDITION An EnterprisingiDeparture Successful From a Business View.

The diverting of the Globe from its usual pessimistic policy and issuing a six-teen page "trade edition" has been the topic in journalistic circles this week PROGRESS congratulates them upon the enterprise which prompted such a venture and the success which their advertising canvassers met with. Perhaps there were too many of these "notices," however, to suit the man who would naturally look in a "trade" edition for some facts and figures He did so, claiming that his charges were fair, and reasonable and only in line with the importance of the suit, to which he had given great attention. His feer were less than those willingly given to the counsel on the other side, and no more than he had previously received in large cases. He could not admit that his services and knowledge were worth any less than those of the opposing counsel, and he con-sidered there had been an implied under-business abread, at the same time we feel of the general trade of the city. Suffered by the Big Failure.

BRIDGETOWN, N. S. Dec. 12 .- Among the many victims of the financial disaster, occasioned by the failure of the late firm of Farquhar Forest & Co., of Halifax, is th Rev. John Cameron of this place. Mr. Cameron is a retired minister of the presbyterian church, who can ill afford to lose the amount which he had in the firm's hands. The loss, although considerable for one in his circumstances, might have been much greater-indeed all the savings of a life time would have been swept awayhad he not, fortunately, withdrawn from them a year or two sin e, the greater portion of the amount, in order to pur-chase some land. He was intending to withdraw the balance a few weeks hence in order to erect a new barn, and fix up the premises in which he resides ; but the failure came, and now this loss has upset all his plans.
