NEW NOVEL BY H. A. CODY

St. John Author Writes Interesting Story, Dealing with Adventures of Northwest Mounted Police in Yukon.

BY COLIN MCKAY.

The Long Patrol, the latest novel by H. A. Cody, pastor of St. James' Church, St. John, is a decidedly meritorious contribution to the literature of the Canadian North Land. As a story, it grips the reader's interest from the start and holds it with increasing tension to the end. The plot, which revolves around the adventures of an officer of the Northwest Mounted Police sent out in search of a child kidnapped and held for ransom, is natural and well-balanced. It moves forward with a steady directness quite in harmony with the spirit of the famous force, never turning from the trail for danger, disaster or sudden death, running into thrilling adventures and startling situations, but always advancing to the denouement. The treatment is somewhat conventional in spots, but without artificiality. The theme is too big, the setting too grand and somber to permit of the theatrical; and the impression as a whole the story makes upon the reader is a long way from conventional. Indeed, the story has a good deal of the stark power of Jack London's best tales of the north; and it is just because the author portrays so well the strong, stern, indomitable men of the outposts of civilization, and makes us feel the grimness, the grandeur, the forbidding mystery of the northern wilds, that we resent the occasional intrusions of the conventional attitude.

But the book is never dull, and never tedious, even when the author forgets his art, remembers he is a preacher and suspends the narrative to become conventionally didactic. Mr. Cody's delineations of character and descriptions of scenery are not mere photographic records of the kind we are accustomed to skip; he draws a character with a few deft, sure strokes and invests it with the flavor of individuality; he sketches in the predominant features of his scenery in a few words, and manages through his ability to convey his feeling for atmosphere to make us visualize the whole setting with unusual vividness.

The story opens in the Big Glen Barracks of the Northwest Mounted Police, in the far flung northern Yukon territory. A child has been stolen; suspicion has been directed to a gang of bad men living in a wild region, haunted by weird tales; Constable Grey is sent to capture the rascals and bring back the child to its frantic parents. Grey is a typical product of the iron discipline and splendid traditions of the famous force. Six years before his English sweetheart was reported drowned at sea, but he has been nursed a hope of meeting her again, and has long been possessed with a passion for exploration. So it is with the fascination of the unknown upon him that he takes the trail to the wild and mysterious land of Hishu. On the way he is awed by the attitude of the Indians who seek to persuade him from entering a region which they believe to be filled with nameless terrors, and the sinister aspect, the sombre and menacing desolation of the land he traverses fill him with gloomy forebodings, and morbid fears; but he goes

For Two Years SUFFERED SEVERE PAIN IN THE BACK.

Many people fail to understand the significance of a lame, weak, sore or aching back. When the back aches or becomes weak it is a warning that the kidneys are affected in some way.

Take notice to the warning and cure the backache on the first sign, for if you don't do this, serious complications are sure to arise, and perhaps develop into Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's Disease, the three most deadly forms of kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills go right to the seat of the trouble, cure the back and prevent any further trouble from the kidneys.

Mrs. D. J. McNamee, Carleton, P.E.I., writes:—"For two years I had a severe pain in my back. I was so bad that when I would stoop down I could not straighten up for quite a time. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they helped me so I kept on using them until I had used three boxes, and now I am completely cured. I think they are the only remedy for disordered kidneys."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents a box 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. M. M. Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering direct specify "Doan's."

GROWING GIRLS AND ALL WOMEN. Should Keep Their Blood Supply Rich, Red and Pure.

On every hand you see women and growing girls in the deadly clutches of anemia. Slowly but surely a pallor as of death, settles on their cheeks, their eyes grow dull; their appetite fails; their steps languid. Daily they are being robbed of all vitality and brightness. The trouble, if neglected, becomes more acute until the signs of early consumption become apparent. What women and young girls in this condition need is new, rich, red blood, and there is no other medicine can do the work of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, in making this new, good blood. These pills make girls and women well, and bring back the charm and brightness of perfect, regular health. Here is a bit of proof: Miss Lillie O'Connell, Newwood, Ont., says:—"About two years ago my health began to fail. I was weak, run down from the start and held it with increasing tension to the end. The plot, which revolves around the adventures of an officer of the Northwest Mounted Police sent out in search of a child kidnapped and held for ransom, is natural and well-balanced. It moves forward with a steady directness quite in harmony with the spirit of the famous force, never turning from the trail for danger, disaster or sudden death, running into thrilling adventures and startling situations, but always advancing to the denouement. The treatment is somewhat conventional in spots, but without artificiality. The theme is too big, the setting too grand and somber to permit of the theatrical; and the impression as a whole the story makes upon the reader is a long way from conventional. Indeed, the story has a good deal of the stark power of Jack London's best tales of the north; and it is just because the author portrays so well the strong, stern, indomitable men of the outposts of civilization, and makes us feel the grimness, the grandeur, the forbidding mystery of the northern wilds, that we resent the occasional intrusions of the conventional attitude.

Every anemic sufferer can obtain equally good results through a fair use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LAST PERFORMANCES OF ALICE IN WONDERLAND

Today will witness the departure of Alice in Wonderland, the fairy spectacle which during the week, has delighted thousands of theatre goers in the Opera House. The opinion of those who have witnessed the production is that it presents something entirely novel in local theatrical circles. The host of pretty children with their dances and fancy marches, as well as the clever specialties and the really excellent work of the juvenile principals, make up the big spectacular extravaganza provide a splendid entertainment. In addition the proceeds are to be devoted to the playground movement, so those who witness the production will not only be delightfully entertained, but will have the satisfaction of aiding in a most worthy cause.

LYNCHING IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Steele, N. D., Nov. 8.—George Baker, in the Kidder County jail here, charged with the murder of his wife and father-in-law, Thomas Giles, was taken from the jail early today and lynched. It is the first lynching in North Dakota within a decade.

grimly on, with never a thought of abandoning his quest. In a breathless adventure with a grisly, his terrified horse throws him and bolts, but he kills the bear, and proceeds on foot. Coming to a river he witnesses the destruction of a canoe in the rapids, plunges into the boisterous waters, icy cold from distant glaciers, and saves a little boy who was nearly sent after. When night spent, without matches to light a fire, he discovers a friendly Indian who leads him to his wigwam where the boy is looked after and saved from perishing, though he develops a dangerous cold. The Indians have no remedies, and Grey alarmed for the child's condition, starts off for a mining camp in Hishu, led by the Indian, Hishu Sam, who carries the child the most of the way. Arriving at a raw, dismal looking mining camp, Grey inquired if there were any white women in the camp, and was directed to the house of Old Meg. While he was angrily urging Old Meg to cure for the child, it was seized by a paroxysm of coughing and a young woman suddenly appeared and rushed to the lounge where Grey had deposited it. In the young woman Grey recognizes his sweetheart of other days, and dumfounded at finding her in such circumstances, with a horrible idea in his mind, he rushes from the house. Before he could make up his mind to inquire into the status of the young woman, she and the child are carried off by Indians.

From then on the action of the story moves with the swiftness of a northern torrent. Grey and Trapper Dan set off in chase of the Indian kidnapers, and meet with many exciting adventures, and are caught in a desperate situation when war breaks out between the Indian tribes.

Mr. Cody knows the Indians as well as the white men of the north, and writes of them with understanding and sympathy. His pictures of the Indians living in primitive tribal communities, his testimony to their many fine virtues, are specially interesting. The Long Patrol is published by Wm. Briggs, of Toronto.

WILL BE VERY BUSY SEASON IN WEST END

Construction of Elevator, Added to Winter Port Traffic, will Furnish Even More Work Than Usual.

With the opening of the winter port and the large amount of construction work now going on, the west side promises to be a busy place for the next few months.

The work on the new C. P. R. elevator is to be carried on during the winter more extensively than hitherto, and the working force is to be increased as soon as a sufficient number of laborers can be secured.

Although the weather this month has been unfavorable for outside work, about one hundred and fifty men have been employed and satisfactory progress made. The foundation work has been carried along rapidly and good results obtained. F. R. Hodge, the general superintendent of the Metcalf Construction Company, which has the contract for the erection of the elevator, is in the city in connection with it and to arrange for the work to be done during the winter. To The Standard Mr. Hodge said that it is the intention to continue the work during the winter and rush the construction along as rapidly as possible. The concrete work which is a large undertaking is to be started at once. In expectation of the extensive operations the present staff of workmen is to be augmented by about two hundred and fifty men, and a call for the additional crew has been issued by the company.

MONCTON FEELS THE FORWARD MOVEMENT

Real Estate Activity in Railway City—Outside Investors are Becoming Interested—New Industrial Life.

Sheriff Willet, of Dorchester, arrived in the city last evening and will accompany the remains of his cousin, Rupert Willet to Granville, N. B., where interment is to take place. Sheriff Willet in conversation with The Standard said last evening that Moncton, and in fact the whole country of Westmorland is getting in line for the advance movement which is sweeping over the province, in and about Moncton there has been evidence of increased activity in real estate circles, and outside investors are getting interested. The town of Moncton is looking out for new industries, and the industrial life of the city has already received a marked stimulus.

Borings for natural gas have been started at Upper Dorchester in Westmorland, and the town of Dorchester is looking forward to the piping of the gas within another year.

The Big Brother Movement. D. D. Milligan, boys' secretary, at the local Y. M. C. A. when seen by a Standard reporter last evening with regard to the Big Brother movement which is being carried on by the association and the churches of the city, said that the movement had so far made good progress and its ultimate
