

The Imperial Gazetteer. A general Dictionary of geography, physical, political, statistical, and descriptive; including comprehensive accounts of the countries, cities, principal towns, villages, seas, lakes, rivers, islands, mountains, valleys, etc., in the world. Edited by W. G. Blackie, Ph. D. Illustrated by about seven hundred and fifty engravings, printed in the text, comprising views, costumes, maps, plans, etc. 2 large thick imperial 8vo vols, 2657 pp, half calf, 4.00. Blackie, 1855. 683

—Another copy, in cloth, 2.50. 684

"This excellent work of reference. * * * All the articles we have examined, whether long or short, exhibit a greater degree of correctness in minute detail than we should have thought practicable in so comprehensive a work."—Athenaeum.

The Imperial Dictionary. English, Technological, and Scientific; adapted to the present state of literature, science and art, comprising all words purely English, and the principal technical and scientific terms, together with their etymologies, and their pronunciations, according to the best authorities. By John Ogilvie, LL.D. 2 large thick imperial vols; with Supplement, containing an extensive collection of words, terms, and phrases in the various departments of literature, science and art; together with numerous obsolete, obsolescent, and Scottish words, found in Chaucer, Spencer, Shakspeare and Scott, not included in previous English Dictionaries. Together, 3 vols, half calf, nearly 2500 illustrations, 7.00. Blackie, 1850-5. 685

"Dr. Ogilvie has not only produced the best English dictionary that exists, but, so far as the actual state of knowledge permitted, has made some approach towards perfection."—British Quart. Rev.
