HUMOROUS.

A school of design is a mother and her six marriageable daughters. An Irish lover remarked that it is a great Lewis Fuller, of Fulton, has been granted a decree of divorce from Anna Fuller. They were married in 1867. He was Fuller of matrimony than he cared for, and probably he don't want Anna more.

"You must admit, doctor," said a witty lady to a celebrated doctor of dignity, with whom she was arguing the question of the "equality of sexes,"—"you must admit that woman was created before man." "Well, really, madam," said the astonished divine, "I must ask you to prove your case." "That can be easily done, sir. Wasn't Eve the first maid?"

A school of poor children, having read

A school of poor children, having read in the Bible the denunciation against hypocrites who "strain at a gnat and swallow a camel," were, afterwards examined by a benevolent patroness as to their recollections of the chapter. "What, in particular, was the sin of the Pharisees, children?" said the lady. "Aiting camels, my good lady," was the prompt

ADVICE TO A YOUNG MAN.—Cultivate self-control until it becomes natural to you. Self-repression isn't self-control. One time I knew one of these men who are accustomed to self-repression. was a quiet, soft-spoken man, with the most ungovernable temper that ever tore most ungovernable temper that ever tore a human passion into rage. But he rarely showed it. One day, in the Autumn he was trying to made a joint of six-inch stove-pipe fit into the end of a five and one-half inch length. And during the struggle he smote his thumb, about midway between the nail and the joint, with a round backed hammer. He arose with a sad, sweet smile, laid the hammer down softly on the carpet, changed the lengths of pipe, fitted them and put the pipe up, and never said a word. But he was pale, and there was a glowing light in his eyes. And the next day about three o'clock in and there was a glowing light in his eyes. And the next day about three o'clock in the afternoon, that man walked out of town up the B. and M. grade, and stood in the woods and foamed at the mouth and howled and raved about stove-pipes and people who made them until he frightened a thirty-ton engine off the track. Self-repression isn't self-control, my son.—Burlington Hawkeye.

'Twas Always Thus.

The Chairman of the Committee on the Sick, reported that Josephus Root, a resident of the western suburbs, was lying on the bed with a broken jaw, and felt himself entitled to draw his §3 per week. "Did you inquir' how he got that jaw broke?" asked the president.
"We did, sah. He was gwine up Illinoy Street the other day, when he cum upon a daug fight. Dar was a crowd, an' our respected brudder climbed upon a fence to get a cl'ar view. A bo'd broke down, an' our respected brudder took a fall an' broke his jaw." The Chairman of the Committee on the broke his jaw."

"In de fust place," said the president, after a look through the by-laws, "de Lime Kiln Club am opposed to daug fights. In de next place, the brudder took his own risk in climbin' dat fence. It am not 'zatly a case whar' de club kin legally and consistently be called upon to furnish relief, but, on de odder han', it am human to err. Old as I am and as much as I want to be good, dar am sunthin' 'bout a daug fight which draws me nigher, nigher, an' 'fore I knows it I'm frowin' up my hat an' offerin' to bet two to one on the crop-eared canine. Relief will be on the crop-eared canine. Relief will be granted in dis case, but I won't answer fur any jaws broken in de misty fucher." Free Press.

Hotel Mysteries.

"Why is it," asked the man with the sample case, "that at the average hotel the shortest man is always set down at the end of the table, where there is nothing and where he can reach nothing else?"

"And why," asked the sad passenger,
"is the waiter always fluttering over some deliberate, fussy old gourmand, who is going to stop over three days anyhow, when you have only fifteen minutes and then have to run for your

"And why," asked the tall, thin passenger, "is the black pepper cruet always in the castor on the next table?"
"And why is it empty when you get it?" And why is it empty when you get it?"

asked the cross passenger.

"And why," asked the fat passenger,

"do the two young married people who sit opposite you always stop eating and gaze at you with such pitiful reproachfulness every time you happen to look at them ?"

"And why," asked the brakeman, coming in to light the lamp, "doesn't the

"And why," suddenly said the woman who talks bass, "don't men talk sense?"

The peaceful silence came drifting into the car, noiselessly as a Fundy fog, until the car was full of it. And these questions are unanswered coundrums even unto this day, especially the last one.

A Nice Old Lady from Otsego.

A Nice Old Lady from Otsego, with her niece Nancy, was in town on Saturday, and visiting the assembly chamber when the members were all absent.

"You see," she sald confidingly to the reporter, "I come down now oftener than usual, 'cause Gil, my son-in-law, has got a place, and I can stop to his boarding place and see how he's treating my darter. These are the great pictures I hear about.

"Yes'm, those are Hunt's greatest

"I recken yes. He must have had a powerful long brush to reach up there. I knew that picture the first thing. Seen the chromo its tuk from—Washington crossing the Delaware. We have one up in the kitchen, hain't we, Nance? That ere picture I don't remember."

"That, madame, is called the 'Flight of Night.' It is considered a great work, representing something important, but just what, I don't know."

"The Flight o' Night.' I recken it refers to the colored exodus from the South."

After some further remarks, in which what is the difference between the postoffice and one of the churches? One has the postmaster and the other has the most pastor.

"Are you the mate of this ship?" said a newly arrived passenger to the cook.

"No, sir; I am the man that cooks the mate!" said the Hibernian.

THE TIEST

THE TIEST

The careful, tidy housewife when she is giving her house its spring cleaning, should bear in mind that the dear inmates of her house are more precious than houses, and that their systems need cleansing by puri-fying the blood, regulating the stomach and bowels to prevent and cure the dis eases arising from spring malaria and mi-asma, and she should know that there is nothing that will do to profestly or surely nothing that will do it so perfectly or surely as Hop Bitters, the purest and best of all medicines. policies—a number never below the cept by itself.

Intending Insurers Will Note,
1st. That the "London Mutual" was the pioneer of cheap farm insurance in Canada, and that its rates have always been placed as low as is commensurate with the hazard;
that, being Purely Mutual, it has no stockholders, and all profits are added to its reserve fund to give better security to its members.

bers.
2nd. That it is the only Company that has always strictly adhered to one class of business, and now has more property at risk in the Province of Ontario alone than any other Company—stock or mutual—English, Canadian, or American, [vide Government Returns].

3rd, That it has paid nearly a million dol-lars in compensation for losses, having dis-tributed the same in nearly every township tributed the same in nearity every township in the Province
4th. That its books and affairs are always open to the inspection of the members, and the Directors are desirous that the privilege should be exercised.
