

W. L. Mackenzie King Papers
Volume C.43

are other factors ~~become~~ for ~~the~~ ~~work~~ ~~of~~ ~~the~~ ~~service~~ ~~of~~ society in the one case, which goes unremunerated, on the other of the other factors in production which are exploited - they he said that when the entrepreneur is not a remunerated -ed he receives his just return in net profit which large on small, that when he is a hired official, he receives instead of a possible large or small remuneration, a fixed amount which if it is less than the actual surplus return in paid out of net profit, the balance goes to the entrepreneur on profits not in order of their efforts but because they have succeeded in ~~obtaining~~ obtaining an entrepreneur who was willing to pay out of a fixed amount guaranteed, to allow any of his share return to go to them, the other hand should the fixed amount of the entrepreneur's salary he to more than the surplus return the portion of it he receives as part of it all the net profit, and the balance is paid to him by the capitalist, out of their interest on ~~the~~ other means of their disposal. This receives being necessary on their part in order to work the kind of effort willing to accept a part of his net ~~return~~ when it exceeds the salary which he has agreed to take, sharing of the work by earlier economists after a number general has governing the average rate of profit Professor Marshall has said with a few lines the nature of the case cannot state, since in our conclusions we have been led to regard profits as the return for a service which from its nature is inseparable of measurement and which depends for

C 34659

43/