

ROBERT FRAZER.

He settled in North Easthope the same year as John Crerar, in 1833; he also came from Glenquaich; he has four sons, all able to assist in farming and in clearing land. He says his was the first family which moved into the back lots off the main or Goderich road. He applied for and settled on lots twenty-three and twenty-four in the third concession, and also lots twenty-four and twenty-five in the second.

The farm which he occupied in Glenquaich was a small one, being three acres of arable land and five of meadow, with the same right as the rest of his neighbours to a portion of the "hill pasture." He considers his situation now as far different, having about ninety acres of cleared land on his lots, and ten acres chopped. His barn with additions, built of logs, is  $104 \times 24$  on lot 25, and he has another barn  $75 \times 28$  on lot 23, both covered with shingles.

When he removed to his land in the bush, and when the many difficulties of a new settler were before him, he had only in money £20 or 80 dollars, and part of this money he paid on the land.

As before mentioned, his improvements in cleared land consist of ninety acres, and ten acres ready for burning off, all which has been effected by the persevering industry of his sons. He is an old man, about eighty years of age, and only three of his boys were able to work and assist when he first settled. He has in
