

You can't beat it!

THE roofing material our fathers—our grandfathers—used on their buildings. The material that makes a roof which gives a generation and more of perfect service.

Although men have for years been experimenting with roofing materials, there is today known to the builder, engineer or scientist no more lasting and satisfactory product than

British Columbia Red Cedar Shingles

Decay proof, weather resisting, storm defying—its solid cedar covering of a uniform thickness of 1 inch provides a roof which, when properly laid, gives a lifetime of satisfactory service without repair or renewal.

Send for our Shingle Booklet—tells you all about British Columbia Red Cedar Shingles—why they are superior—proofs as to durability, etc.—a handbook every person intending to build should read.

ABERDEEN-ANGUS

Quite a surprise was sprung in the Angus judging by the appearance of a small herd belonging to E. C. Woods, of Warman, Sask. This new breeder has put together a number of high-class animals and in several of the classes beat the entries from the well-known Glenearnock herd of J. D. McGregor, Brandon. Woods purchased a number of his animals from Kershaw, Oklahoma, and he also got some of his females from John Lowe's Ontario herd. That he used fine judgment in his selection was apparent from the class and fitting of his animals, and much credit is coming to this breeder for his first display of "Goddies" in a Western show ring. His aged bull "Blom," by "Ben Hur," is a long stretchy fellow, deeply set, well covered over the shoulder and smooth as an egg.
His junior yearling "Musgoose 29th," first in his class, is blocky and compact, short of leg, and shows quality all through.
In the senior bull class, he was again first. "Musgoose 71st" beating McGregor's good entry "Black Peer." In the junior bull calves, he was third with "Bryon of Eastview," while in the aged cows his entry, "Middlebrook Pride," gave Mc-Gregor's well-known winner, "Majesty Queen," a race for the money.
In the two-year-old heifers, he was second with "Balmiedia Pride II," a heifer of rare substance, and again gave Mc-Gregor's "Pride of Glenearnock" the strongest of competition. Woods fell down quite a little in the showing and handling of his animals in the ring, and quite a few of the ringside experts expressed the opinion that if this last heifer had been better handled, she would have gone to the top. It took the judge quite a little time to make up his mind. In the next class however, the senior yearlings, with a thick low-down, typey heifer, "Musgoose Heather Girl 1st," showing sweet femininity and a lovely head, he beat McGregor's junior champion, Edmonton, "Predista of Glenearnock." Woods had also second place in senior and junior calves, with "Musgoose Heather Rose" and "Musgoose Duchess 3rd," to McGregor's
"Karama of Gwennar," and "Glenearnock Blackbird." McGregor's well-placed animals got all the balance of the first placings, but altogether it was quite an achievement for the Warman herd to wrest the above ribbons from Canada's premier Aberdeen-Angus herd. McGregor won the senior championship with his two-year-old bull "Pathfinder of Gwennar." Woods was reserve with "Blom." McGregor also won the junior and grand with his senior yearling "Blackcap McGregor," and the reserve with "Pathfinder." His aged cow, "Majesty Queen," was senior and grand champion female, and his senior calf "Karama of Gwennar," was junior and reserve grand female. McGregor won all the herd prizes with Woods second, and he also won the prize for the best Aberdeen-Angus on the grounds.
The herd of Bowman, of Guelph, was not forward, having gone on to Medicine Hat.

Dairy Cattle HOLSTEINS

Only the herds of Clark & Sims, East-view, Argyle, Man., and Geo. Bevington, Wintburn, Alta., came together here, the Okanagan herd of Jos. H. Laycock, having gone from Edmonton to Medicine Hat.
There were a few changes from the Edmonton decisions. But Bevington got the majority of the first prizes. Clark & Sims, however, were first in senior yearling bulls with "Ekeveke Ureanal," and first in junior bull calves with "Inferno Woodcrest." In the aged cow class their good cow "Ruby
