

A LIFETIME OF SICKNESS

Worn Out, Thin and Miserable Until She Took "Fruit-a-lives"

PALMERSTON, June 20th, 1914.
"Stomach Trouble and Distressing Headaches nearly drove me wild. Some time ago, I got a box of 'Fruit-a-lives,' your famous fruit medicine, and they completely relieved me. To-day I am feeling fine and a physician, meeting me on the street, asked the reason for my improved appearance. I said, 'I am taking Fruit-a-lives.' He said, 'If Fruit-a-lives make you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can.'"

CANNERS FALL OUT; BIG SUIT

Trent Valley Cannery Alleges Dominion Cannery is Combine.

Names of members of Parliament are mentioned in connection with the charges made by the Trent Valley Cannery, Ltd., in their defense to the action for breach of contract brought against them by the Canadian Cannery, Ltd. The amount of damages claimed is $50,000.

The Canadian Cannery claimed that they had a three-year contract for the entire output of the Trent Valley Company. They stated further that the option was not recognized by the defendants, and that they suffered great loss in consequence.

The names of Messrs. David Marshall, M.P.; Hon. E. D. Smith, J. J. Naish; Samuel Nesbitt, M.P.; R. L. Innes, F. R. Lawlor, M.P.; W. P. Innes, W. Lumbers, H. Bedell, Mark Smith, John Wall and T. Bell are mentioned by the Trent Valley Cannery as members of a combine which endeavored to restrain trade by reducing the price paid to farmers for raw fruits and by raising the price of canned goods to the consumers.

"The said persons held meetings and endeavored to obtain the assistance and co-operation of all other persons and corporations engaged in the canning business in the Province of Ontario," the statement reads.

The Trent Valley concern claimed that the above-named men obtained control of the Canadian Cannery, and an attempt was made to limit the production of the Trent Valley factory to 61,000 cases, although it was capable of producing at least 42,000 more. They endeavored to sell these on their own account, and repudiated the three-year-old contract. They stated that the option is illegal.

The case is proceeding to trial. McMaster, Montgomery, Fleury & Co. will appear for the plaintiffs, and Bain, Bicknell, Macdonnell & Gordon for the defendants.

A GIANT PINE.

One of the largest pine trees felled for many years in this section was taken from the old Wallbridge property about three miles north of Trenton one day last week. It was 42 inches in diameter at the stump and made 12 twelve-foot logs. It was converted into lumber at Lynch & Grant's mill and measured about 4 M. feet.

WILL BE A PILOT.

Mr. Richard Hadden, hardware merchant, Picton, is going to take the military aviation course to qualify as pilot for the Royal Flying Corps. Mr. Hadden had some experience in the air in California on his recent visit, and as the call for aviators is very insistent, Mr. Hadden deems it his duty to take up the work. The Dominion Government grants $100 to each Canadian pilot who is accepted by the War office, gives a grant of $250 per trained pilot and is willing to take up to ten per month from Canada to the end of the war.

YOUNG MEN NOT IN KHAKI.

For many months there has not been as many young men not in uniform parading Madoc's streets on Sunday afternoons as there were this week. In the early afternoon two automobiles coming into town were very conspicuous by the absence of khaki on the passengers and all afternoon and evening these young gentlemen paraded Madoc streets, apparently unconscious that wherever they went Madocers were exclaiming, "Why, who is that not in uniform?" We are thankful to state that these youths were not residents of Madoc but of our neighboring towns of Marsburg and Stirling. We sincerely hope the young ladies who have claimed the attractions of these gentlemen will utilize their charms to secure for the sake of liberty and justice a few of these visitors for the 155th Battalion, C. E. F. This, girls, is your opportunity—Madoc Review.

THE FIRST CONTINGENT

Presented for publication to The Ontario by Pte. Wm. Stiles invaded home from the 2nd Battalion.

You say that the First Contingent Are bums, and rotters and snides, You say that we sullied our honour, And a whole lot else besides, We are probably all that you call us, But you must admit we're men, So I smile when I hear you bragging—For we fought at St. Julien.

We were a bit wild and roughish, Though a soldier isn't a lamb, And we drank and squandered our money, And none of us cared a damn, So you thought us as black as painted, But you'll change your opinion when You meet the souls of the Germans That died at St. Julien.

When you've learnt the lust of battle, When your bravest and best have gone, When seventy per cent. are stricken, And the rest keep fighting on—You cease to mind the ravings Of an editorial pen, When you've tasted blood and slaughter, At a fight like St. Julien.

For though we of the First Contingent Are bums, and rotters, and snides, The dregs of a nation's manhood, And a whole lot else besides, Though we ruined your reputation And blackened your name, but then—We held the line for the Empire At the fight at St. Julien.

Composed by H. Smalley Sarson, 4th Battalion, Vlamertinghe, Belgium, April, 1915.

RECORD IN HEN FRUIT.

Mr. T. E. Fennell brought to The Register office a box of six eggs, which for weight and size were certainly a record in hen fruit production. Each egg weighed one quarter of a pound and measured 7 x 8 inches in circumference. The exhibit was further remarkable from the fact that the eggs were all the product of one hen, a three-year-old Rhode Island Red.

Mr. Fennell said that his attention was attracted to the hen by the abnormal size which he thought might be due to a tumor. He therefore decided to kill the bird. A post mortem examination revealed the hen to be full of eggs, the six eggs described above, being taken from it, while three other large ones were broken in extracting them. Many smaller eggs were also found. None of the eggs possessed a hard shell—Norwood Register.

ELECTRIC LIGHT ON THE FARM.

Convenience and Attractiveness Assists in Keeping the Young People on the Farm.

The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, in its Seventh Annual Report, gives some interesting data on the advantages and cost of installation of electric lighting in farm homes and outbuildings. The report says:

"The farmers in the districts that are being served greatly appreciate the improved condition on their places by reason of having electric light in the house, barn, drive shed and yard. With previous forms of lighting, the dull appearance of the place from the road and from the yard had a depressing effect. The attractive contrast that is the result of installing electric light will probably be beneficial in keeping the young people on the farm. The decrease of fire risk on the premises due to the absence of coal oil lanterns and lamps is another feature that is usually considered by the farmer in arriving at a conclusion regarding the installation of electric service on his premises."

"Installation in barns are now being made in conduit, as this method is found necessary for the protection of the wires and fittings. The cost of installation varies according to conditions in the different districts. The open wiring varies from $1.25 to $1.75 per outlet, and the concealed wiring from $1.50 to $2.25 per outlet. Conduit installations in the open that is in barns and farm buildings, vary from $3.25 to $4.50 per outlet. The outlet in each case is the opening for either fixture or switch; it does not include (except where drop cord is used) the fixture, but does include the switches."

Pte. Peter Lorne Smith is reported wounded. He came from Picton.

On Monday evening of last week the barn of Mr. Frank Milling was struck by lightning, and he only saved his three horses and their harness, which he had not removed yet after coming from work in the field, and a lumber wagon, which was on the barn floor. There was burned in the fire, 1. catter nearly new, a new set of single harness, sleighs and neckyokes, whiffletrees, and a lot of small implements. 15 tons of hay, 30 loads of straw and 500 bushels of oats. ### MADOC'S TAG DAY.

Mr. Hubbs has been teller in the Standard Bank for some time. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hubbs, of Picton.—Times.

A PROFITABLE CROP.

Eighty-three pounds of wool were clipped off six sheep on the farm of Mr. P. J. Murphy, South Ops., this week. Over fifteen pounds were sheared from one sheep alone. This is conceded to be a record by those conversant with the wool industry, says the Uxbridge Journal.

ANOTHER BATTALION FOR UNITED COUNTIES.

Lt-Col. L. B. Scobell of St Catharines to Command 235th Battalion.

According to an announcement made on Monday, Lt-Col. Scobell, of St. Catharines, is to command the 235th Battalion, which is to be raised in the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham. Recruiting for this Battalion will commence as soon as the 139th, Northumberland and 136th Durham Battalions go into camp at Kingston on Monday next.

Lt-Col. Scobell was formerly adjutant of the 19th Regiment of St. Catharines. He was later second in command of the 84th Battalion, and since the formation of the 136th Durham Battalion has been second in command. He will enter upon his new duties at once.—Guide.

ST. LAWRENCE OUT OF BOUNDS.

For some time past members of the local detachment who are not yet of age have been securing liquor at the St. Lawrence Hall hotel. This matter came to a head on Monday evening when the bartenders served whiskey to two soldiers under the age of eighteen. On Thursday morning an order was issued by the officers in command placing the St. Lawrence Hall out of bounds to all ranks. In future any soldier found at that hotel will be arrested.—Madoc Review.

FOR CHRISTIAN FUNERALS.

Rev. Byron H. Stauffer writing in The Christian Guardian on funeral customs says: Oh, for a really Christian funeral! Let there be no crepe on the door. Let the light of the glorious day stream through the uncurtained window. Let it not be a house of mourning from which the abandoned tent of flesh is being carried. Let no sad word be said, no look of sorrow worn. Let bouquets and potted plants abound. Raise the tune of a cheery hymn and read the 23rd Psalm and 1 Cor., 13th chapter. Visualize the dear departed one as living and happy if we really believe our loved one to be alive now let us allow the thought to beam out in our conversation. Speak of him as having a present consciousness.

CHAMPION IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE.

One of the champion cows in Mr. G. A. Brethens' Holstein herd, gave birth to three fine calves last week. The cow is also a record milk producer. The theory that heavy milkers are not prolific in offspring certainly does not apply to the Hill Crest strain, which seem to possess both qualities. Mr. Brethens is much elated over his cow's latest performance, which has added materially to its value.—Norwood Register.

A WONDERFUL CHANGE.

What a wonderful change has taken place in the last ten, or even five years, in water transportation on the local Bay of Quinte routes. A few years ago Deseronto used to be one of the busiest ports on the bay, both for freight and passenger traffic; in those days the Hero, Varuna, Elia Rose, Armenia, Resolute, Pilgrim, Aloha, Reindeer, Caspian, North King and several others made Deseronto one of their principal stopping places.

The only vessel to survive the blow landed water traffic by the railroads, is the Lamonde, which vessel makes two trips daily between Picton and Deseronto, the first being from Napanee to Napanee in the evening on the return of the second trip from Picton.—Deseronto Post.

PREMATURE EXPLOSION WORKS INJURY.

Harry Beasley, a lad of about fifteen years, was severely injured by the premature explosion of an improvised cannon on the morning of Victoria Day. He had rigged up a piece of gas pipe, loaded it with gun powder and stuck a broom-handle into it. The fuse with which the powder was to be ignited had apparently gone out, but when he picked the weapon up the powder exploded and the broom handle was driven through his body just below the shoulder. It made a nasty wound but missed the lung, and it is expected that he will recover.—Picton Times.

DIDN'T WANT TO BEAT TRAIN.

A resident of L'Amable district was a passenger on the C. N. R. train the other day and was paying his compliments to the management of the road in language which was not exactly polite, but we have no doubt was justified, when the brakeman told him he did not like it to get off and walk. "I would," replied the irate passenger, "but my family do not expect me home until the train reaches there."—Bancroft Times.

THE ATTRIBUTES OF CHRIST.

Not mortal man, no human thing of clay
Who came to earth to blot our sins away,
Thou art our hope, of faith our prop and stay.

Thou fisherman of Galilee didst cast the net,
The fishes drew with brave and honest sweat,
Didst walk among the corn Thy meals to get.

Thou fisherman of Galilee didst cast perverse,
Jew of the Jews—yet Thee they sought with curse,
Nailed to the Cross—oh, form of death—what worse

Tempted in all things like the human race,
Yet from the God-head didst Thy Son-hood trace,
For human sins Thy pure soul didst abase.

To earth again some day Thou shalt return,
And with that thought we feel our heart to burn,
Shall we the Teacher see—and hear—ing learn?

When He shall come no human knowledge tells,
But in the East amid pomp of glory's swells,
He shall appear, who wrong and evil fells.

Men may not for long centuries see that day,
Kingdoms may come and kingdoms pass away,
Yet Thou enthroned in heaven dost know their sway.

Thou seest the evil and the wrongs of men,
Thou judgest the mighty and the cruel when
They bend and break—to Thou art present then.

And soon the grave envelopes all their pride,
To dust the warriors who to battles ride;
Quelled all their tumults who with death abide.

Thou Christ Who stilled of Galilee the wave,
Who tolled—a humbled—human souls to save,
Who to redeem didst triumph over the grave.

Grant Thou to us the wish to be like Thee,
Open Thou our eyes to see true majesty,
And from fell sway of sin set Thou us free.

Without Thy aid we fall and die with sin,
Come Thou abide and keep us pure within,
Hedge Thou our way that we shall walk therein.

Not mortal man, no human thing of clay,
Who came to earth to blot our sins away,
Thou art my hope, of faith my prop and stay.

—Alice Pyne McDavitt.

BAY OF QUINTE CONFERENCE.

Will Assemble at Peterborough in 33rd Session Tomorrow Morning. Everything is in readiness for the holding of the 33rd session of the Bay of Quinte conference in Peterborough commencing Wednesday morning at ten o'clock, under the presidency of Capt. Rev. H. B. Kenny, Bowmanville, who is stationed at Cobourg.

The statistical committee met on Monday, May 29th at eight p.m. in George Street Church and the stationing committee in Trinity Church Sunday School hall at the same hour. The conference is composed of an equal number of ministers and laymen, among them being Rev. Dr. Endicott, who will speak on Missions. Professors Michael and Gifford, Education, and Dr. Haelwood, Evangelism. Rev. R. Mammoth will give an address each day at 9 a.m.

The public meetings will be of exceptional interest because of the great themes to be discussed by able speakers. Saturday afternoon the delegates will be the guests of the Peterborough ministers and laymen at an outing down the Otonabee River.

The conference promises to be largely attended, and Peterborough should derive much benefit by having at least 250 ministers and laymen as visitors during the course of the conference. On Sunday, June 4, many of the pulpits will be occupied by conference ministers.

Miss Ponton, Belleville, who has been spending a few days in town as the guest of Miss Marjorie Rathbun, returned home on Friday afternoon. —Deseronto Post.

STONE ELEVATOR FELL ON BARGE

The Sligo was Crushed Beneath Thousands of Tons at Her Dock.

BOAT IS A TOTAL WRECK

Cause of Collapse is a Mystery and Damage is Heavy.

The stonehooker "Sligo" which is owned by the Point Anne Quarries Company, Limited, was wrecked beyond repair yesterday, when a large stone elevator owned by the same company collapsed, falling across the barge. The damage is not yet estimated, but it will be heavy.

The elevator which rose to a height of one hundred and thirty feet, was situated on the east side of a slip at the foot of West Market street. The "Sligo" was docked on the west side of the same slip where she had been since the winter. When the elevator fell, filling the bay and surrounding section with thousands of tons of crushed stone and debris, it landed directly in the centre of the barge, causing it to buckle and list to the side. When workmen on the other lake schooners which were discharging their cargoes at the time, heard the noise they rushed to the scene to ascertain if anyone had been injured. Luckily the vicinity was quite deserted at the time and none near the structure.

The cause of the collapse is at present unknown, but several of the workmen claim that they heard strange noises before leaving work on Saturday and feared an accident. Others on the waterfront say that it is quite probable that the dock was undermined.

STIRLING'S TAG DAY A GREAT

Saturday was a busy day for the fair sex of our town, as well as a few of the sterner sex who were privileged to drive with them through the country as they gathered in funds and sundries for the benefit of the 155th Battalion. Both in town and out of town the ladies met with unqualified success in their sale of flags and favors. The tea-room, too, was well patronized, a dainty lunch or a good-sized meal being served on request. Over $31 was taken in during the afternoon and early evening. The total proceeds for the day were $451, besides two pigs.—News Argus.
