QUEENSTOWN, MAY 7 .- THE CUNARD STEAMER LUSITANIA HAS BEEN TORPEDOED AND SUNK.

22 2 3 . BY A TORPEDO TITANZIT

LONDON, MAY 7 .-- 5 P.M. -- THE LUSITANIA WAS SUNK OFF OLD HEAD, KINSALE BY A TORPEDO. ASSISTANCE HAS BEEN SENT TO HER.

The Cunard Line officials would only admit this afternoon that they had received a despatch from London that the Lusitania had been torpedoed at 2 o'clock this morning off Kinsale and had sunk thirty minutes later. Kinsale, off which the Lusitana was torpedoed, is a seaport of Ireland, 13 miles southwest of Cork. It lies near the entrance of St. George's channel, between Ireland and England, through which transatlantic vessels pass on their way to Liverpool.

NEW YORK, May 7 .- The New York office of the Cunard Line announced this afternoon that the Lusitania had been sunk.

The Lusitania sailed last Saturday from N ew York and is due in Liverpool to-day. When the Lusitania sailed she had aboard 1,310 passengers. Some nervousness had been caused because of the publication in the morning papers of Saturday of an advertisement warning intending travellers that a state of war existed between Germany and Great Britain and her allies; that the zone of war includes the waters adjacent to the British Isles, that in accordance with notice given by the German Government vessels flying the flag of Gr eat Britain are liable to destruction in those waters, and that travelers sailing in the war zone on ships of Grat Britain or her allies do so at their own risk. This advertisement was signed "Imperial German Embassy." The warning apparently did not cause any cancellations, for the ship sailed with a very full passenger list. Charles P. Sumner, general agent of the Cunard Line, was at the pier and in a statement made then said that the voyage of the Lusitania would not be attended by any risk whatever, as the liner had a speed of twenty-five and a half knots and was provided with unusually water-tight bulkheads.

LONDON, May 7, 5.50 p.m.-The manager of the Cunard Company has informed the Liverpool Evening Express that he received this after noon the following message from the wireless station at Old Head, Kinsale:

"The Lusitania was sunk by a submarine at 2.33 this afternoon, eight miles south by west of this point.

"It is believed that her passengers are safe. No details of how they may have been rescued, however, are at hand. One message received here says:

"It is not known how many of the Lusitania's passengers were saved."
