Asleep Two Weeks.

CENTRALIA, Ill., Nov. 12.—Dora Meek, seventeen years old, lay down at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, two weeks ago tomorrow, to take a nap, and she is still sleeping. She has never been sufficiently to swallow more than two tablespoonsful of water or soup at a time. She has not been even partially aroused more than once a day, and each time before the third spoonful would be given, she would fall into sound sleep. Several physicians have examined her and vainly attempted to arouse her. Leo has been rubbed on her back, but it had no effect. Physicians ascribe her condition to hysteria and nervous prostration.

Dead at the Poker Table

Wednesday night a dead man sat in a game of cards for two hours in the saloon of James F. Hedrich, at Eight and Locust streets, in Quincy. He had taken a seat as a spectator between two of the players and while the cards were being dealt about the table he was dealt the cold hand of death. His head sank forward on his chest, and he seemed to be dozing. Once the corpse swayed against one of the players, who pushed it back to an upright posture, with there mark: "Great God!" exclaimed the man with the good hand. "He's dead!" Chairs were overturned, the cards were scattered upon the floor and the corpse sank forward against the table. When Roinke walked into the room about 5:30 o'clock he told the proprietor's wife that he was sick and asked her to make him a cup of coffee and then sat down at a table where a number of men were playing cards. It was his last request on this earth.

THE MASONS.

President Roosevelt, speaking to freemasons at Philadelphia, said: "One thing which attracted me so greatly to Masonry that I hailed the chance of becoming a Mason was that it really did live up to what we, as a government, are pledged to do, to treat every man on his merits as a man. The lesson of brotherhood—that is the lesson that has got to be taught and got to be learned and applied to us as a people if we are to solve the great industrial and social problems of today. Masonry makes no care for the brethren that stumble and fall save for the wives and little ones of those who are beaten down in the harsh battle of life."

Masonry is credited by the President of the King of the Belgians this morning as His Majesty was proceeding to the Cathedral to attend a Te Deum in memory of the late Queen Marie Henriette. No one was hurt. The man who fired the shot is an Italian. He stood in front of the Bank of Brussels, on the Rue Royal. The other hostages in his belt proved to be blank, so it is presumed that those fired were equally harmless. The man was immediately arrested and the police had some difficulty in rescuing him from the hands of the crowd. He gave the name Royal. The Royal cortege consisted of several carriages besides that of the King, containing the Count and Countess Landers, Prince and Princess Clemensina and aide-de-camp and ladies of honor.

Attempt to Assassinate King of Belgium.

BRUSSELS, 15.—Three shots were fired at the King of the Belgians this morning as His Majesty was proceeding to the Cathedral to attend a Te Deum in memory of the late Queen Marie Henriette. No one was hurt. The man who fired the shot is an Italian. He stood in front of the Bank of Brussels, on the Rue Royal. The other hostages in his belt proved to be blank, so it is presumed that those fired were equally harmless. The man was immediately arrested and the police had some difficulty in rescuing him from the hands of the crowd. He gave the name Royal. The Royal cortege consisted of several carriages besides that of the King, containing the Count and Countess Landers, Prince and Princess Clemensina and aide-de-camp and ladies of honor.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 16.—The big plant of Armour and Co., which occupied three and one half acres of ground at the extreme south end of the stock yards district, was destroyed by fire, which started at 1:25 o'clock on the second floor of the fertilizer building. The loss is estimated by Charles W. Lennon, manager of the company, to total $900,000. The insurance is $721,500. The cause of the fire was either spontaneous combustion or an imperfect dryer. Six hundred men will be thrown out of employment all winter by the fire. At three o'clock the flames burst through the heavy fire wall that separated the big hog house from the other buildings. The hog house was the largest of all. When the hog house caught fire all steamers were turned in that direction, but the water seemed like oil. In the building were 3500 dressed hogs and 2,500,000 pounds of pork products. At 3:25 o'clock the fire department gave up the fight. It was apparent that all efforts were useless and that the entire plant would burn all day. This evening there was a heavy explosion which threw bricks and pieces of iron for hundreds of yards, endangering crowds of spectators, but no one was seriously hurt.

Here is the question: The governor of Kgovjni, a very mean man, desiring to give a very small dinner party, invited his father's brother-in-law, his brother's father-in-law, his father-in-law's brother-in-law and his brother-in-law's father-in-law. How many guests were there? Here is the answer: None—The governor dined alone. Here is the explanation: The governor was a widower, with a marriageable daughter and a marriageable sister. The governor's father was also a widower. The governor and his father married sisters. Thus the governor became his father's brother-in-law. The governor's brother married the governor's stepdaughter, thus the governor became his brother's father-in-law. The governor's father-in-law married the governor's sister; thus the governor became his father-in-law's brother-in-law. The governor's brother-in-law married the governor's daughter; thus the governor became his brother-in-law's father-in-law. The governor therefore dined alone.
