CAN NAME ONE.

"Bystander," in the Weekly Sun, says the present political situation in the province is favorable to intrigue and corruption. The Sun writer is correct, and already it is said on pretty good authority that several Opposition members have been approached—in fact we are in a position to name at least one.—Ridgetown Dominion.

OUR SUMMER RESORTS.

Nova Scotia is beginning to be taken into account as a summer resort for Americans, the region which Longfellow made famous in Evangeline being the most famous portion of the peninsula. It is said that this year the travel, which is largely from Boston by way of water, has been very large in spite of the inclemency of the weather.—London Free Press.

Canadians of Ontario and the eastern provinces should awaken to the advantage of catering to the American tourist traffic, comments the Ottawa Citizen. The railways do their share in the way of fixing special rates and in advertising the scenic advantage of districts in Canada but the trouble lies in the lack of accommodation for tourists. Tourists cannot live on scenery, and poor hotels and bad cookery will water air up for the finest fresh water air and most sublime beauties of Nature in the world in the mind of the average tourist, his wife and daughters. And with some notable exceptions there are few of our tourist regions where the slightest enterprise is shown in furnishing accommodation which ranks over that of the limited ideas of "food for man and beast" which prevail at the most unprogressive cross-roads tavern. Not only does this state of affairs prevent the tide of summer tourist traffic setting into Canada but it actually drives Canadian tourists of the best paying class to the Maine coast watering places, the Blue Mountains and other resorts in the United States. This year the hotels on the coast of Maine are crowded with Canadians. It may be said that the sea bathing attracts them. No doubt it does but it is equally true that a large proportion of Canadians if they could get the same comfortable accommodation over here would not go to the States. Also that large numbers of Americans would come here.

To the south of us is a nation of seventy million people and every summer a considerable proportion of the wealthy population spend the summer months at summer resorts or abroad. In the Highlands of Scotland, where the scenery is not a whit more beautiful than can be found in a dozen sections of eastern Canada, the hotels are thronged all summer almost exclusively with American tourists. But there are hotels all over the Highlands and the hotels are comfortable and the cooking excellent, even if the buildings may not be in any sense palatial. The average tourist does not expect large and expensively equipped hotels, in fact he rather prefers it otherwise, but the hotels must be clean and comfortably furnished, the meals well cooked, even though plain, and they must be well served. That is not the case in a large proportion of our summer resorts. Canadians are very independent, especially the semi-rural Canadians. They have a standard of their own and if the people who swarm out of the cities in the summer months do not like it there is a disposition to let them do the other thing. But that is not business. Any city merchant who adopted such an attitude towards his customers would soon find himself in the bankruptcy court. The summer tourists and boarders have money, they are not unwilling to spend it, but while they are enjoying the scenery, the fresh air and the outing they want to be reasonably comfortable. It may be said that the accommodation afforded is as good as the prices charged call for, but that is not the point. The difficulty is that in many summer resort regions you cannot get comfort-

Dragged-Down Feeling

In the loins.
Nervousness, unrefreshing sleep, despondency.
It is time you were doing something. The kidneys were anciently called the reins—in your case they are holding the reins and driving you into serious trouble, reining and driving you into serious trouble.

able accommodation at any price, and the people who provide accommodation show no disposition to study the wants of their patrons and cater for them in such a way as to make more money and attract a large number of the better paying class. In fact the majority who have to put up with existing conditions would gladly pay higher rates for better accommodation.

Canada, geographically, is the natural summer resort region for the wealthy nation to the south, most of whose well-to-do citizens have to seek a cooler climate in the summer. We have any amount of mountain and lake scenery, easily accessible by comfortable railway trains. If a large tourist business worth hundreds of thousands of dollars annually can be attracted to Canada it is obviously worth the while of those who furnish summer accommodation to show enterprise in encouraging it by catering to the requirements of visitors.

GOLDWIN SMITH ON THE SITUATION.

In this week's Sun Dr. Goldwin Smith again makes reference to the political situation in Ontario. Dr. Smith is decidedly of the opinion that it is the government's duty to call an early session of the legislature. He says:—

"There can be little hope of persuading a political party or government to forego an apparent advantage, and the party government of Ontario may deem that its advantage lies in fighting out the battle in the election courts and in such bye-elections as may ensue. But general policy seems to point the other way. Strong as confidence in the judiciary is, it will be severely strained when the judges virtually have to decide not only on the validity of the elections, but on the fate of the government. The strongest temptations will obviously be held out to intrigue and corruption, and after all, not the legitimate voice, but the long purse and legal technicalities may prevail. The best course surely, so far as general policy is concerned, and the most obvious, would be an immediate meeting of the legislature for the special purpose of taking a decisive vote, after which the House might be adjourned. Upon the vote the government would decide whether it should continue to hold office with the present support of the House, or resign and appeal again to the country. Another election without a meeting of the legislature can hardly be seriously proposed. It would be forbidden not only by policy, but by procedure. A parliament must be organized before it can be dissolved."

If we can get a second we would move that the poet laureate of the empire be asked to send in his resignation and that new tenders for the position be called for.—Ottawa Citizen.

Old Kruger evidently feels sore at the idea of seeing Botha, De Wet, Delarey and the rest of the patriots who "fit into the war" having a good time in England while he has to sit in exiled isolation on an alien shore and watch the empty champagne bottles floating down the channel with the tide.—Ottawa Citizen.

CANADA'S GREAT SCHEMES.
Boston Herald.

Canada is showing a wonderful enterprise in self-development. One sign of it is the projected fast steamship lines across the Atlantic in connection with the Canadian Pacific railway. Another is the projected new transcontinental railway, paralleling the present one, but far northward of it, so that, as regards local business, at any rate, they will hardly be competitors. There is a great West of Canada which is rapidly filling up with settlers. Thousands have emigrated to it from the United States during the present year, and thousands more have come from Great Britain. The new railway line is designed to encourage this population. Starting from Port Simpson, on the Pacific, it will go through the Pine, or the Peace River pass, through the Peace river district in Athabaska, thence southward across the north-eastern corner of Saskatchewan, passing north of Lake Winnipeg, through the district of Keewatin and Northern Ontario to Moose factory, on James' Bay, through Northern Quebec to Chicoutimi, with extensions to Montreal and Quebec, and branches to Winnipeg and Toronto. Many of these names are strange to our people now, but they are likely to become familiar before the century gets old.

Advice to Mothers

If your little boy or girl comes home with a sore throat, the first thing to do is to rub the throat and chest with Polson's Nerve-line. Don't be afraid to use Nerve-line freely—a whole bottle full wouldn't burn or blister the tenderest skin. Rub in until all taken up by the pores, and just before the child goes to sleep give him a glass of hot water into which 30 drops of Nerve-line has previously been stirred. This is a sure, pleasant and speedy cure. Large bottles 25 cents.

Alas! how great the number of folks who have existed without having lived.
