KENT COUNTY PARLIAMENT

Many Matters Discussed and Acted Upon by Commissioners

THE COUNTY'S TAX RATE

FRIDAY MORNING.
Routine business held the attention of the council upon meeting this morning.

The sitting was only a short one lasting from eleven o'clock to twelve. Before resuming, several committees met and prepared reports.

The Secretary of the Ontario Municipal Association wrote, asking the Council to appoint a delegate to the annual meeting this year.

Chairman French presented the report of the Roads and Bridges Committee recommending the granting of certain sums to assist the townships in improving the roads and bridges.

Several of the Councillors thought that the total of these grants was too much for the county to pay on its rate of $28,000 for the year.

Councillor Ross moved an amendment, seconded by Councillor Hornal, that the report be not adopted and that the Council not pay any of the grants recommended in the report.

Mr. Grant thought that the granting of these sums would leave a deficit at the end of the year. He opposed the adoption.

Mr. French said that although he had moved the adoption of the report he did not think that the Council could pay them unless the by-law to raise money for this year's expenses be increased to $30,000.

Mr. Somers thought that all grants made to meet equal grants from townships which were not used during the year, should be cancelled next year. This would encourage the townships to push their improvement work.

After an animated discussion the Warden put the amendment and only two councillors voted in its favor. The report was adopted by a majority of 11 to 2.

Councillor Stewart presented the report of the Printing and Contingencies Committee recommending the payment of certain accounts and also that the tender of S. Stephenson, for this year's printing be accepted.

The report was adopted. The House of Refuge Committee report was read by Chairman Hornal and adopted.

Under the head of unfinished business, Mr. French asked what steps the Council would take to raise the required extra amount of $2,000 to enable them to make the grants recommended in the report of the Roads and Bridges Committee.

The Warden in reply, stated that the only way to provide for this extra amount was for the Council to go into Committee on the Whole and amend the by-law.

The Council adjourned at 12 o'clock until 3 p. m.

SLUG TWO

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Routine business again occupied the Council's attention yesterday afternoon.

The report of the Collegiate Institute at Ridgeway was read and referred.

The Clerk read a petition which will be sent to the Government asking that a commission be formed to enquire into the hog cholera trouble in this County with a view to having the hog quarantine lifted. The petition stated that no cases of hog cholera had been reported in Kent County for some time and was addressed to the Minister of Agriculture.

Councillor Haggart presented the report of the Finance Committee. The report recommended, among other things, that in regard to the auditors' request of $25 extra remuneration, no action be taken. That a grant of $50 be made to the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, that $15 be granted to defray the General Hospital's expenses in connection with William Ansley, and that the matter of granting $2,000 to assist in building a fire hall and garage in Tilbury, be left over until the December session.

The report further recommended a grant of $25 to the Kent Fruit Growers' Association, and that no grant be made to the Kent Bowlers Association to assist in the entertaining of the English bowlers. The report was adopted.

Mr. French asked if the Council could obtain a statement of the present insurance on county buildings, with a view to adjusting the policies.

The Warden referred him to the County Treasurer.

MOTIONS.

A VERY HOT DISCUSSION

London Conference Will Oppose Sunday Excursions And Funerals

MR. RUTLEDGE'S VIEWS

The Sabbath observance committee at the London conference held in Windsor, presented a lengthy report in which they condemned Sunday excursions, pleasure-seeking and Sunday school functions, together with all other Sabbath-desecrating practices or tendencies. The committee also urged Methodists to refrain from participating in Sunday funerals and society parties and to discontinue the same wherever possible.

"They deprecate the fact," the report proceeded, "that the authorities in connection with Grimsby Park are apparently anxious to make a gain by charging admission fees on the Sabbath day, and we ask any who may be in any way associated with those authorities to use their influence to the contrary, even though it may mean the closing up their gates on the Sabbath day."

This clause gave rise to a vigorous discussion, ex-President Philip claiming that there was no difference between making a charge and taking up a collection. He said the taking of money at the gate kept out the rough element.

Rev. W. L. Rutledge, of Chatham, said the delegates knew all the circumstances they would admit that the charge for the admission was advisable in the interest of the Lord's Day observance, but Mr. Oliver, of Sarnia, said Grimsby Park had produced moral demoralization.

"I think Methodists should stand for Sabbath observance, even if Grimsby Park goes to the dogs," remarked Rev. R. Birks. Rev. E. B. Lancelley, of London, moved a milder resolution, which was defeated by 43 votes to 40, and the committee's recommendation as originally drafted was adopted.

The Church aims to justify its existence by the work it does in nation building. To hear Mr. Ross from the East, Mr. Carmichael, Dr. Hensman, E. D. McLaren, Campbell and Strachan, from the Prairie and the Mines, is to understand why the banner of blue has shown the way in the work of nation making in this young land. Thursday evening had a message that will thrill the Church.

Thursday night has been for many years the great Home Mission night and to-night was no exception to the rule. To one who would know why the Presbyterian church has been called a truly national church, it is necessary to attend this gathering.

ASSEMBLY OF PRESBYTERIANS

They Will Petition Dominion Government Re Lord's Day Act

CANDIDATES ARE SCARCE

Special Correspondence.

London, June 7.—The second day of the Assembly saw the Commissioners down to real work, with the manner of those who realize that "the King's business requireth haste." The great heat led many to leave the auditorium at intervals, so that many groups of commissioners were to be seen in the park opposite the church. The docket for the day included several items of interest.

By a standing vote the Assembly decided to send a despatch to Ottawa urging on the Dominion Government to strike out the clauses in the Lord's Day bill now before the House of Commons, permitting any class or section special permission to engage in the ordinary pursuits of life on the Sabbath Day. The voice of this great branch of the Christian church ought to mean much in determining the character of the bill to amend the Lord's Day Act.

All the colleges reported save Manitoba, of which Dr. Patrick will speak to-morrow. A slight decrease in the number of candidates for the ministry is noted, although Canada has suffered much less in this regard than Great Britain and the United States.

The Board of Knox College was given permission to sell the present college and to build on a site extending from St. George St. to the University lawn.

Hon. John Charlton suggested that it would be a good time to consolidate the theological colleges, but the sentiments of the venerable Principal McLaren, Mr. J. K. McDonald, and Rev. J. A. Macdonald, seemed to find favor and the new college will be built. The enthusiasm of the Knox College men augured well for a handsome college, with adequate endowment.

HE EXPLAINS HIS POSITION

Robt. Coyle Says Mrs. Van Dessel's Ticket Was Paid by Him

A MUCH MIXED UP CASE

In reference to an article that was published in a Detroit paper, and reproduced in The Planet, relating to the Van Dessel fund which was collected here by Fireman Robert Coyle, the following letter is submitted by Mr. Coyle:

To the Editor of The Planet: Sir,—As all Planet readers, many of whom contributed to the fund I collected for Mrs. Van Dessel, must have been surprised at the statements contained in that extract you copied from the Detroit Journal on Monday last, I have decided that it would be only fair to the people who so kindly contributed to assist this stranger, that I should publish an exact statement of what was done by me. I have therefore sent a copy of the following letter for publication in Detroit also.

As there is a communication from the Chamber of Commerce going the round of the Detroit papers in reference to the assistance given Mrs. Van Dessel, of this city, whose husband was killed in the San Francisco disaster, and as the statements contained in that communication not only affect myself, but are entirely erroneous. Will you kindly publish this correction in your widely circulated paper, as it will reach so many of my acquaintances in Detroit, as well as in Chatham, where I am known by everyone, as I have been actively connected with the fire department for 25 years.

The Van Dessels were near neighbors of ours, and as they had been in America but a short time when Mr. Van Dessel lost his life, she and her children were practically left destitute, which was emphasized by her inability to speak English. The family was at first taken in charge by the St. Vincent de Paul Society of St. Joseph's R. C. church. As she saw no favorable prospects here she said she wished she was back at her old home in Belgium. I spoke to some friends about assisting her, and they advised me to take up a subscription for her, which I did, and in a short time the kind people of Chatham handed me $151. This was before any move was made in Detroit. Of this $97.50 was sent to New York on May 13th for a ticket to Antwerp. She was also given a draft on the Bank of England for eight pounds sterling—$40.00—and $3.69 in cash, and the balance had been used for necessities here. The night she left she had supper at my place, and afterwards my wife went with her to the G. T. R. station and saw her baggage checked to New York. These facts would be certified to by the manager of the Bank of Commerce here, Mr. Rispin, the G. T. R. city ticket agent, and the baggage man at the G. T. R. station. If the people of Detroit also purchased a ticket for her they should apply for a refund of the money, as she did not start on her journey from Detroit "on a D. & B. boat," but on a Wabash train from the G. T. R. station here at 1.32 a. m. June 1st, 1906, to go to New York, thence by the steamer Vederland to Antwerp.

Yours respectfully,
ROBERT COYLE,
