caused the murder. Sovereign, the bartender, says the fellow had been paying much attention to Mrs. Tallery during the day, but she rejected his advances. When she went upstains the man followed her, and, it is believed, a scuffle ensued which ended in the shooting. Sovereign says the man leas the place about 6.30, a short time before the woman was discovered, and he declares that he does not know where the alleged assassin went. The police believe he jumped a car bound for Buffalo.

clase that the man was the only Italian coming into Buffalo from the Falls last night.
Marie Tallery, 19 years old, wife of John Tallery, a sloonkceper, was murdered some time between 6 and 1 o'clock last night in a rear bedroom on the second floor of her husband's saloon at East Falls and Twelfth streets. Her assailant, a young Italian who is known to the police, is at large. The woman was shot through the head with a 32-calibre revolver. She died at 7.45 o'clock at the Memorial Hospital.
John Tallery, the woman's husband, went to Rochester at 11 o'clock yesterday morning to visit a sister and left frank Sovereign, a bartender, in charge of the place. About 6 o'clock Sovereign missed Mrs. Tallery, who had been around the saloon all day, and he went to the second floor and found her lying prostrate on a bed in a rear room with blood flowing from her head. Mrs. Tallery was sent to Memorial Hospital and Coroner Scott was summoned. She was unconselous.

Coroner Scott was summoned. She was unconscious. There are five small rooms on the sec-ond floor, all sparsely furnished. The room in which Mirs. Tallery was shot is off the kitchen and its appearance indi-cates that a struggle took place before the abooting. In the kitchen was a new stovepipes were knocked out of place and the curtains were torn. The small linea curtain in the bedrom was pulled from the window and the bed was dis-turbed. In the room was a small table and on top of it was the curtain spotted with blood. There was a pool of blood under the table and a blood-soaked handkerchief on the floor. Mrs. Tallery achieved much notoriety about two months ago as the principal in a white slave case, when she caused the arrest of her husband, chargingshim with forcing her to numerous indignities. Tallery's trial revealed a shocking state of affairs and Judge Banks gave him the court's stiffest penalty—six months in jail, and a fine of $50. He got out a few weeks later on an appeal which, is now pending. The police then took up the girl's case and she begged to be pro-tected from the denizens of the district in which her husband lived. Transporta-tion was furnished for herself and her little brother, who lived with her, and they were sent to their home in North-ern Ontario, where she promised to re-main, but she returned about a month ago and took up her abode with Tallery again. SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS.

Some of the aldermen say the Street Railway Company had better not make too nuch noise over the point that it would be impossible to use large cars with a four-foot devil strip. In Buffalo and Montreal, they explain, where the devil.strip is four feet, the companies operate large cars, keeping them going one way by means of loops at the ter-minal, the broad part of the car being on the outside of the tracks all the time. The Hamilton Street Railway has one loop near the House of Refue now. Some years ago it discussed with the Grand Trunk the advisability of building a loop near the Stuart Street Station for I know that the worldly-wise affect to ook with suspicion on the Sunday school superintendent-want to count the money every night lest he should skip out before morning, and hint that the more diligent he is in church work the a loop near the Stuart Street Station for the convenience of passengers from the railway, but the scheme did not maternore closely he should be watched. Without looking at the merits of the Sunday school teachers, some of them won't bear investigation in that espect, I have no hesitation in saying that they are a sadly neglected class of people. The teacher's job is a trying one at best. Study and preparation are re-quired and the young heathens they have to do with would sometimes try the patience of a saint. But week in and week out they stick to their posts, teaching and exhorting other people's to shun evil and learn to do children well.
