NEW ADORNMENTS AT ST. LAWRENCE.

Rev. Father Brady Describes the Decorations ---Improvements Cost $20,000.

$10,000 Gift From Protestant Friends---Bishop Dowling's Double Anniversary.

To those of other denominations who pender over the adornments in Catholic places of worship a sermon such at preached last night by Rev. Father Brady, rector of St. Lawrence Church, reveals much that at first glance may appear mystifying and meaningless. One realizes after having is explained that the claborate decorations are intended for more than mere display; that each one is symbolic of something capable of inspiring beautiful thoughts and uplifting BISHOP'S ANNIVERSARY.

Emphasizing the importance God attached to the building of a temple in His name when He chose two of the wisest kings of earth to erect the temple of Jerusalem, the speaker declared that there was nothing too good for Almighty God. The Catholic temples were greater than that built by Solomon, for the alt ar has abode. If the temple of Jerusalem he made the tabernacles of the altar his abod. If the temple of Jerusalem was, as Jesus said, "a house Jesus said, "a house of the said of the altar his abod. If the temple of Jerusalem was, as Jesus said, "a house of prayer," how much more so must be the Catholic church.

"Our separated brethren don't understand and never will," he said, "why we throw the doors of our temple open day after day, week after week, and year after year, that the faithful may enter as they ness how a minute in silent as they pass, bow a minute in silent prayer and return to the toils of life as they passe, towa a minute hy stellar prayer and return to the toils of life. There is a magnetism about it that cannot be understood by those who have not the faith of the real presence."

The stately and majestic temples the world over, declared Father Brady, could only be inspired by true faith in Jesus Christ. Go anywhere you wish where the Catholic Church has had its sway, and you will find the country dotted with the greatest temples of earth, monuments of our faith in Jesus Christ, the Blessed Sacrament. This monument of the St. Lawrence is a monument of the vidow's mite and the workingman's offering, and not so bad, after all, compared with the temples in our own country."

Father Brady then reviewed the improvements that have been made during the year. Two crosses are to be placed on the top of the church this week, one is ten feet high, the other a smaller one, from the church where Father Brady was baptized. New cement steps and a railing are included in the exterior improvements. The interior has received three coats of paint, the pews have been varnished, and the altar too, the statues repainted, clusters of electric lights adorn the ceiling, and the glass windows have been improved so as to give better light. The ceiling is decorated with beautiful religious emblems, twenty-including the properties of the following them being a large pillow from the Moulders' Union.

The funeral of Arthur Bradford took place on Sunday at 2 p. m. from his father's residence, 565 John street north, and was largely attended. Rev. H. B. Christic conducted the services, and the ight. The ceiling is decorated with beautiful religious emblens, twenty-eight in number, each of which speaks volumes in the heart of the Catholic. The emblems of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary, the mitre, the tira of three crowns, worn by Christ's vicar on earth, the chalice, the host, the bible, the cross entwined with the shamrock, all these religious emblems were destin-ed to speak volumnes to the religious person.

The angels adorning the walls, suggestive of man's future home in Heaven, thirty-three in number, signifying the number of years Christ lived on earth, hold a script bearing St. Ambrose's Te Deum. "This beautiful prayer," said the speaker, "will again inspire us with the sentiments and feelings our Lord wishes to inspire, "My House is a house of prayer"."

wishes to inspire, 'My House is a house of prayer'.'

There are twelve single and twelve group paintings on the wall, placed on canvas and removable. These include the two princes of the apostles, St. Peter, Christ's first vicar on earth, St. Paul, apostle to the Gentiles; St. Lawrence, patron of the church; St. Patrick, Ireland's patron saint, with the Irish emblem, the shamrock; the Madonna and child, a reproduction of Raphael's great painting; St. Cecilia, patron of music; St. Thomas, the great doctor of the church; St. Anthony and the four evangelists. Grouped along the walls are frescoes that tell the story of the Lord'a life; the angels announcing the glad tidings to the shepherds of the birth of the new bern king, a beautiful and inspiring scene; Christ bending over the little children; Jesus with Mary and Martha; the miracle of raising Jairus' daughter from the dead; Our Lord weening over Jerusalem; Mary parting with Christ, coing to the sarrifice emphasis. St. Lawrence, as it stands to-day, is one of the most artistically decorated churches in the country. Within a year $20,000 has been spent in improvements—surely a notable achievement for a congregation composed almost entirely of working people. In terms of deepest gratitude the pastor thanked them last might for their generosity. The sermon on the significance of ecclesiactical decorations was strikingly appropriate. The text was, "My house shall be a house of prayer."
