A Kind Action.

Jack Rossley entertained the chil-dren from the Church of England Orphanage to the matinee, on Satur-day. The youngsters had a grand time and enjoyed themselves very much. At the finish of the per-formance Mrs. Rossley presented each of the children with a bag of candy, and invited them all to see Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, when they again produce it.

the songs are all new; new dances and novelties. There will be a sur-prise for the andience when two little girls give a correct imitation of Miss Eva Tanguay and Ford in the bunny hug dance, those two clever young-sters have got this difficult dance down to perfection. Jack Rossley and Joe Burkhardt are the two hired assassins who fight a duel over the babes, and that means lots of fun when those two comedians get togeth-er. Some of the songs to be sung: "The Dawn of Love" by Louise Ar-kandy; a high-class ballad: "I Norver Heard Father Laugh so Much Before," "Standing on the Corner of the Street," "I Looked Into the Book," "Oh, Jermiah." "I'm Bugs About You," "I am a Soldier" and others: a great show.
