LONDON, Oct. 7.

The Governor, Newfoundland:
In Champagne the French carried by assault the village and height of Tahure, the latter forming a point d'appui to the enemy's second line. Progress was also made at Navarin farm and over 1,000 prisoners were taken. Four enemy counter-attacks were repulsed in Artois.

Stubborn enemy attacks on the Tahure position collapsed with very heavy losses.

Russia has made progress at various points, and several villages have been recaptured.

BONAR LAW.

VIOLENT GERMAN BOMBARDMENT

PARIS, Oct. 7.

The Germans bombarded violently last night all the French front to the north of Laiscarpe and at the same time delivered four counter attacks against the positions recently conquered by the French near Souchez. They were repulsed at all points. Information was given out by the French War Office this afternoon that there was further more intense artillery exchanges at other points on the front. In the Champagne district last evening the Germans delivered a series of stubborn attacks against the positions lost by them to the French to the north of Tahure. These attacks everywhere failed and the Germans suffered heavy losses. At Eparges the French exploded two mines causing serious damage to the German works.

VERY SLOW PROGRESS.

LONDON, Oct. 7.

During the past month's fighting in the Dardanelles, the British gained on an average something more than 300 yards all along the centre of the four mile Salva front, according to an official statement given out tonight.

RUSSIAN CRUISERS BOMBARD Varna.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 7.
The Cologne Gazette reports two Russian cruisers actively bombarding the Bulgarian port of Varna.

BULGARIAN DISORDERS.

LONDON, Oct. 7.

A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Budapest states that the newspaper Aezet says it learns from Sofia that wholesale arrests of leaders of the Agrarian Party are taking place, and the government is prepared to take stern measures to crush all domestic attempts to impair Bulgarian unity.

THE 'GLOBE' SUGGESTION.

LONDON, Oct. 7.
Commenting on the assiduity with which the damage wrought by Zeppelins is being repaired, the Globe suggests that these buildings be left alone. "Let shattered houses remain as mute witnesses to German frightfulness and as a call to Englishmen never to forget," says that journal.

NEWS WITHHELD.

LONDON, Oct. 7.
The London office of the Associated Press advises to-day by cable, that thousands of words of despatches from its correspondents in Sofia and from German lines on the western battle front, are being withheld by the British censors.

GERMAN-AUSTRIAN FORCES INVADE SERBIA.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.
Large German and Austrian forces have invaded Serbia. The Teutonic troops crossed the Drina and Danube Rivers at many places, the War Office announced to-day. It is stated that the invading troops have established firm footholds on the other banks of the rivers. This German announcement indicates that an invading movement is in progress along a large part of the boundary between Austria and Serbia.

HELD CONFERENCE.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 7.
A despatch to the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger from Sofia, says that after receiving the Russian ultimatum, King Ferdinand and the Premier conferred with the Austrian, German and Turkish ministers in Bulgaria, before making a reply.

ALLIES' ATTEMPTS FRUSTRATED.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.
During recent battles in France, the Overseas News Agency says: To-day efforts were made by the British, French and Belgians to land soldiers in civilian garb from aircraft behind the German front. These men were ordered to destroy bridges and roads, in order to impede the movements of the German troops. A number of persons were sent by way of Holland to Belgium with the same orders. These attempts were frustrated by the vigilance of the German authorities.

AUSTRO-GERMAN ARMIES.

LONDON, Oct. 7.
An official despatch reached London to-day, stating that the Austro-German armies concentrated against Serbia comprise four hundred thousand men.

TOTAL BRITISH CASUALTIES.

LONDON, Oct. 7.
The total casualties among officers of the British army from the beginning of the war up to Sept. 27, number 17,074; of which 5,176 officers were killed or had died; while 10,469 were wounded; 1,429 are missing. In the fortnight ended Sept. 27, the lists showed 131 officers killed, 290 wounded, 111 missing; total 432. The casualties indicating a comparative lull of operations, in the Indian contingent are 20 killed, 39 wounded; Austrians 8 killed, 12 wounded; Royal Field Artillery 3 killed, 15 wounded. Apart from these the losses in individual regiments do not exceed fifteen. During the fortnight two Brigadier Generals were wounded.

LEAVING SOFIA.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 7.
In advance of direct word from the Russian Minister at Sofia, it is assumed by the foreign office that the minister and his associates departed yesterday from the Bulgarian capital. The unsatisfactory nature of Bulgaria's reply caused no surprise here. It is stated that the foreign office is without official information as to Italy's attitude, although it is unofficially announced here that the Italian, Belgian and Serbian ministers at Sofia have also demanded their passports. The British and French ministers conferred to-day with the Russian Foreign Minister.

HANDED HIS PASSPORT.

LONDON, Oct. 7.
The Bulgarian Minister to Italy was to-day handed his passport.

GERMAN COMMENTS.

LONDON, Oct. 7.
Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent sends the following: It is gleaned from German newspaper comment that developments in the Balkans and the drastic situation in Greece are widely, but for the most part cautiously commented on by the German press. Theodore Wolff, the Tagblatt, declares it to be the heaviest blow that could have been given the policy of the Entente Powers, and that it confronts them with extraordinary danger. Herr Wolff considers that King Constantine's action is somewhat daring, but argues that any revolutionary movement in Greece is improbable, as the army is devoted to the King. The same doubt is raised by the Frankfurter Zeitung, which asks which is stronger, the King or Venizelos? It considers it conceivable that, as was the case in Italy, external compulsion through street demonstrations in Athens might cause a reversion to the policy of the parliamentary majority, but only if M. Venizelos places himself at the head of the movement against the King would it, in the opinion of this newspaper, have a chance of success. Germany will gladly greet neutrality, concludes the Frankfurter Zeitung, but if Greece does not remain neutral, we and our friends are ready.

ZAIMIS ACCEPTS PREMIERSHIP.

ATHENS, Oct. 7.
Alexander Zaimis has accepted the premiership in succession to Venizelos, on the invitation of King Constantine. He completed his cabinet to-day. Venizelos is not a member of the new ministry.

THE ANGLO-FRENCH LOAN.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.
Minor details in connection with the closing of the five hundred million credit loan to Britain and France occupied the attention to-day of the Anglo-French financial commission, who were also the luncheon guests of the Chamber of Commerce. Lord Reading and several members of the commission paid a visit during the afternoon to the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., agents for the syndicate of underwriters. When they departed it was said that the contract for the loan probably would be signed this week.

GREECE'S NEW MINISTRY.

PARIS, Oct. 7.
Five members of the new Greek cabinet are former premiers, says a despatch from Athens. The fact that Premier Zaimis takes the portfolio of foreign affairs is significant, as he alone among former premiers is not opposed to the Entente Powers, and it is considered his ideas best represent absolute neutrality. The cabinet will appear in the chamber Monday to make public declarations of its general policy, avoiding all reference to the Graeco-Serbian alliance. The attitude of the Venizelos administration to the government's declarations. It is regarded as probable, however, that the party will not refuse the cabinet a provisional vote of confidence, as it is considered the best solution of the ministerial crisis.

GRAIN CARGOES.

PORTLAND, Oct. 7.
Six large steamers will load more than one million five hundred thousand bushels of grain at this port during the next six weeks for Europe.

French Literally
Cut Their Way

Through Trapped German Army Corps.

Paris, Oct. 3.—By their methods of preparation and attack the French kept their losses in Champagne down to a remarkably low figure. The French tactics and strategy in attack completely deceived the Germans and thereby greatly increased the German losses. The French line swept forward with tremendous gusto to a point, where they seemingly were brought to a halt by the German resistance. The French centre slowly gave ground. Meanwhile the wings held. As the centre fell back, the Germans pressed forward their counter attack hoping to cut the French line and turn defeat into victory. But as soon as the Germans were drawn well into the trap, the French surged forward again along the line and waded into the Germans from three sides with bayonet. The Germans were caught in the mass, and the slaughter went on until the men sickened of the work and closed with each other on sight. The French went forward again then and literally cut their way through the trapped German Army Corps.

HENRY FIELDING died 1754, aged 47. "The Father of the English Novel," the events of his life are not easy to trace. It is certain that on the failure of his wife's fortune, he took a theatre, and, when this failed, tried his hand at law. He was contributing to literature all the time. "Joseph Andrews," published soon after the appearance of Richardson's "Pamela," made his name. Fielding died in Lisbon where he had gone for the benefit of his health.

REMBRANDT died 1669, aged 63. One of the greatest of the Dutch school of painters, who produced many remarkably successful portraits as well as numerous figure subjects, all of them distinguished by their mastery of qualities.

G. DuMAURIER died 1896, aged 62. One of the best known of the "Punch" artists during a long period and author of "Toby."

GREAT WAR 1914. Bombardment of Antwerp continued; flight of the population and retirement of British and Belgian forces during the night; several thousands were cut off by a German attack and entered Dutch territory, where they were interned.

Were half the power that fills the world with terror. Were half the wealth bestowed on the warrior's name would be a name abhorred. And every nation that should lift its hand against a brother, on its forehead Should wear forever more the curse of Cain.

Longfellow.

There were no need for arsenals nor forts. The warrior's name would be a name abhorred. And every nation that should lift its hand against a brother, on its forehead Should wear forever more the curse of Cain.

He was of a gentle disposition and a great lover of outdoor exercise. For very many years he was accountant with Messrs. H. J. Stabb and Company which position he held up to the time of his death. INSPECTOR COLLINS.

With profound regret we record the passing of William Collins, late District Inspector of the Newfoundland Constabulary, whose death occurred at his late residence Port Townsend at 9 o'clock last night. While superintending repairs to his intended future home on Holloway Street yesterday afternoon he was seized with an attack of heart failure which proved fatal a few hours afterwards. Upon being taken ill he was taken to his residence and was attended by Dr. Roberts and Rev. Fr. Ciaran. The latter administering the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church. The deceased had attained his 64th year, and only five weeks ago retired from the Constabulary after a period of 43 years service. On the occasion of his retirement he was presented with an address and handsome gift by his fellow officers as an appreciation of his valuable work. To his sorrowing widow and relatives, a brother and three sisters who reside in Placentia (the native town of the deceased) the Telegram extends sincere sympathy.
