by the Governor to have moved from the drains at the Government House, occupied a couple of days the custom of the great His Majesty's representative should be turned down, if it is not possible to do so, the rules or work of Morris supported the maker and intimated that if he erred, he erred on the side of the Secretary.

Mullaly asked where the drawing was to be held, if the Premier and Attorney-General wanted a similar affair.

Tait agreed with the last objection to the breaking up.

It was then moved that no official of the Government in the future have the right to interfere with the right of power to deal with the matter.

It was considered that it will be a matter for the future to deal with the matter.

Mullaly wished to make it clear that he was elected by the people, and not by the officials of the Council.

His Grace at Argentina.

LAYS FOUNDATION STONE OF NEW CHURCH IN AN IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY.

At Argentina on Sunday last Missa Cantata was sung by the Rev. Father Sheehan in the presence of His Grace Archbishop Roche. The singing of the choir under the able direction of Mrs. M. Murphy was of an inspiring and elevating nature and merited the "Prostrata" of the congregation. After Missa His Grace performed the ceremony of laying the "lapis primarius" of the new Church, to be soon erected and dedicated to Our Lady of the Rosary. It was a coincidence that just twelve months ago last Sunday a like ceremony was performed by His Grace at Portugal Cove, the ancient Cove Parish of which Father Ashley had charge for ten years.

His Grace, whose interests are now not confined to merely parochial matters but to the more general ones of the diocese, and largely populated diocese, addressed the congregation and gave a beautiful explanation of the lay's ceremonies.

From his very beginning, the Church, the Temple of God, is taken hold of and receives through His representatives the Blessings of the Almighty God. The building is carefully watched through the different stages of erection till its apertures in which the Church stamps its solemn seal upon it with the holy ceremony of Consecration whereby it is solemnly set aside for the service of God. Truly Our Divine Master spoke not in majestic temples but from the decks of the fishing boats, by the side of the sea shore, and under the blue canopy of heaven. By this He has impressed upon us the necessity of more of that vivid and lively interior spirit more so than the exterior grandeur of His churches.

His Grace complimented Pastor and people that nothing of an elaborate nature was in contemplation but merely a chaste design suitable to the needs of the Parish.

It was a pleasure to us all to have with us on the occasion the very able Prelate of Placentia, the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Reardon. A very handsome trowel, beautifully engraved, was presented to the Archbishop. The parchment, copies of the daily papers, Newfoundland coins, as well as a copy of this year's school report, were placed in the stone.

The schools of Argentina have had a wonderful record this year despite the fact that an epidemic of measles disorganized the schools from Easter to midsummer. Twenty-seven Passes in the various grades including nine intermediate candidates, two of whom passed in the honours division. Preliminary has been Argentina's record this year. We were proud to see that our scholarship winner of a short time ago, Miss McCarthy, has sustained her reputation at Littledale by winning an open scholarship, and that our other girls at that Institution are well up to requirements and striving to lead instead of to follow.

His Grace returned to St. John's Monday morning in the private car so generously placed at his disposal by the R. N. Co., and we hope that the Archbishop's wish will, on the occasion of his next visit to Argentina, be realized, and that his will be the pleasing duty of Pontificating in the new church so auspiciously blessed by his consecrated hands on Sunday last.

Incandescent Gas Lighting.

The remarkable economy of the incandescent gas lamp is by no means either its chief—or even an important—claim for popularity. It meets better than any other source of artificial light the requirements of ideal lighting.

In the color of the light produced it is far superior to any other illuminant in general and universal use. The investigations of acknowledged authorities indicate that for the approximation of artificial daylight the gas mantle has at least one and one-half times the value of the carbon-filament electric lamp.

This quality is highly desirable, indeed absolutely essential where the approximation of daylight color values is important. For lighting shops, displaying haberdashery, suitings, gowns, millinery, etc., the incandescent gas lamp is not even remotely approached by any other incandescent lamp.

Of all the manifold advantages of gas light, perhaps the most important is its favourable effect upon the eyes. The development of the incandescent electric lamp with its intense brilliant and glaring filament has been accompanied by hitherto unheard-of prevalence of eye troubles and diseases which are forcing themselves upon the attention of the medical fraternity. This is resulting in a greater appreciation of the soft mellow quality of gas light and is rapidly enlarging its field of use.—July 15, 1904

Germany Must Be the Suppliant.

The Allies have no intention of asking for peace. Germany must be the suppliant, not the Entente Powers. And she must accept our conditions. The injustice already committed must be set right. Belgium, Serbia, Montenegro must have their national life restored to them. There must be an end of Prussian militarism. It is not that we want, as Von Bethmann-Hollweg insinuates, to destroy united and free Germany. "We should be glad," on the contrary, "to see the German people free." On this point Sir Edward Grey's words are conclusive. "We believe that the German people—when once the dreams of world empire, cherished by Pan-Germanism, are brought to nought—will insist on the control of its Government; and in this lies the hope of secure freedom and national independence in Europe. For a German democracy will not plot and plan wars, as Prussian militarism plotted wars, to take place at a chosen date in the future." This is a strong and confident prophecy to which Sir Edward Grey's fellow-countrymen will willingly subscribe.—London Telegraph.
