Give the children WRIGLEY'S after every meal

A prominent physician says:

"It is surprising how free from decay the teeth can be kept by using gum after each meal."

You know how hard it is to get the children to clean their teeth. By giving them WRIGLEY'S you not only reward them for cleaning their teeth, but the reward is actually the means of performing this important service!

WRIGLEY'S aids digestion too, and acts as an anti-septic wash for the mouth and throat. Several flavors—all of WRIGLEY quality.

HOW MUCH MONEY IS ENOUGH?

"Whereunto is money good? No hath it not hath hardihood. Who hath it hath much trouble and care. No hath had it once hath despair."—Longfellow.

"And with apologies to Mr. Longfellow, who ever gets more of it than he had only finds more uses for it. A few minutes of mine dropped in at my house on her way home from a shopping tour the other day.

"I saw just the coat I wanted," she said, "but it was a little more than I ought to pay. And it was such a perfect little gem that everything I saw afterwards looked cheap beside it."

She sighed. And then abruptly she laughed.

"What happens when you get more money."

"Isn't it funny," she explained herself, "the way we raise out standards the minute we have a little more money. Why, five years ago I should have thought that a $50 spring coat was wonderful. And today when I can easily afford it, it looks cheap to me and I want a $100 one. It came over me all of a sudden this morning that that's what happens to you when you get more money. You don't get what you want any more than you ever did. I'm always wanting things just the way I used to when I didn't have a third the money to spend that I have now. The only difference is that the things I want are more expensive."

Said Solomon, some three or four thousand years ago:

"When goods are increased they are increased that eat them."

Weren't Solomon and my little friend with her $100 coat expressing very much the same thought?

Your Goal Moves Faster Than You Do

They both had come up against the acute realization of the fact that you can't reach the goal of happiness by accumulating more money, because your goal can move ahead faster than you can pursue it.

When we get something we want we have a thrill that we call happiness. Therefore we think that if we can get a lot of money and get a lot more things we shall have a lot more thrills. We reckon without the fact that which my friend came up against—that in order to enjoy the getting of things we have got to want them very hard first and that as we have more money the expensiveness of our wants always keeps ahead of our power to satisfy them, so the thrills are no easier to get.

She has the money now to buy the $50 coat that would once have delighted her. But she can't get the thrill out of it any longer.

No Greater Thrill

Take the matter of automobiles for another example. A man buys a five-year-old, then he gets a little more money and buys a $2,000 car. Then he gets a little more money and begins to associate with people who speak of a $2,000 car as an inexpensive car, and he longs for a $3,000 car, and finally gratifies that longing. So he works up step by step until he owns the Super Car that people stop on the street to see go by.

But do you think he gets any more thrill out of it than he did the day he brought home the shiny new flier?

Not a bit.

Did you ever see mice running around a treadmill making it move by their own motion and never getting any farther ahead for all their running?

I don't suppose I need to point the analogy.

Excellent Programme at the Nickel Theatre

ATTRACTIVE FILM AND BEAUTIFUL SINGING.

An excellent programme was enjoyed at the Nickel Theatre last night, and in reviewing it, it is rather hard to specify as to which part of the entertainment that was the more attractive. The picture entitled "God's Country And The Law," was particularly to the liking of the audience.

While the programme of songs and duets by May Jackson and Ernest Miller won the instant appreciation of their hearers who applauded with marked enthusiasm. Their numbers were, duets:—"Whispering Hope" and "Marcetia"; Solos:—"Bedouin's Love Song" and "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses." The singing was well up to the standard already set by these popular artists, and in the duets the blending and harmony was all that could be desired by a music-loving audience.

The scenery contained in "God's Country And The Law" is nothing short of magnificent. There is an excellent lesson in the development of the theme which one can carry away and remember. We will not divulge any of the plot of the story as we leave that to those who intend seeing the film to-night when it will be shown for the last time.

To-morrow there will be a complete change of bill containing the beautiful film "Proof Of Innocence," starring Louise Du Pre, Mary Pickford's former understudy. The story centres around the famous Greerwich Village. Watch for this week-end attraction.

Egypt and Europe

Singapore Free Press: Egypt is now free to carry on the work which has been so well founded and to erect a national structure to her own design. In General Allenby she has, we believe, a strong man who holds towards her aspirations a very sympathetic attitude. If Zaghlul Pasha is wise he will cultivate that sympathy and utilize the opportunities for counsel which are available. For if Egypt through perversion should take a course counter to all the interests of Europe she will find that it is not a question of alienating British goodwill, but of creating a feeling of hostility to her through the whole Western world, a hostility which might have disastrous effects upon her prosperity and chances of establishing herself as a powerful and well-governed State.

SELF-RESPECT.

It little matters that I win or lose, Or whether distant strangers think me great? Two ways to go there are, and one to choose— God help me never to desert the straight!

Fame may entice me and success allure, But what shall follow when the wrong is done? Is there for guilty knowledge any cure? Can one be proud of glory falsely won?

What if I hear men cheer, and take the prize? Shall I rejoice if I have played the cheat? Shall not that symbol stand before my eyes, A shining token of my own deceit?

God help me, when the choice is mine to make, Beyond the glamor of the lure to see; Let me not stain my crest for victory's sake, Nor sell my self-respect for any fee.

After Everything Else Had Failed

Quebec Lady Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Miss W. S. Godmyre suffered from rheumatism, backache and headaches and found complete relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Cedars, Que., May 14.—(Special)—"I have suffered for years with my kidneys to such an extent that I had to give up my work for days at a time. I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills after everything else had failed and now I am quite well. I cannot praise them too highly to my fellow sufferers. It gives me pleasure indeed to voice my appreciation of your Dodd's Kidney Pills." This statement comes from Miss W. S. Godmyre, well-known and highly respected resident of this place. She feels that she owes it to other sufferers to tell them how she found relief.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are known all over Canada as the old reliable Canadian Kidney remedy. They are known by the work they have done. You will find that Dodd's Kidney Pills will relieve kidney trouble, no matter where or in what form it is found.

Last Night's Big Vaudeville at Crescent

ATTRACTS LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCES.

Fun and entertainment was prevalent at the big Vaudeville Show at the Crescent Theatre last night. The affair was organized by Dan Delmar who was fortunate in securing a splendid variety of talent, among them being F. King who appeared in character songs, which pleased all. Neville and Green rendered several solos and duets which were loudly applauded. Master Mickey Michaels, the clever boy soprano was obliged to respond to several curtain calls. This youthful vocalist seems to get more popular at each appearance. Dan Delmar, the apostle of fun, made a stupendous hit in his Female Impersonation, which nearly brought down the house with laughter and applause.

On Friday night, the usual big Amateur Contest takes place, so keep that night open for real enjoyment. To millions of book readers, the clergymen and the detective story is the most thrilling and fascinating of novels or plays, to tens of millions of newspaper readers the latest developments of a big crime story are the liveliest and most irresistible of items. A still wider audience for the unfolding of tales of crime and its detection is the motion picture which summons its devotees by the hundreds of millions. At last the screen has had a great detective story filmed. It is the Goldwyn picture, "Sherlock Holmes," in which John Barrymore, gifted stage and screen player, is starred.

Nfld. Students Distinguish Themselves

The following successes of Newfoundlanders in the examinations at Dalhousie and published in the Halifax Herald bear striking testimony to the natural ability of our students and to the excellent foundation which is laid in our schools and colleges. In the following list (which may not be inclusive of all the Nfld. students) are two who are particularly deserving of congratulations upon their splendid records. Miss Anna M. Wilson, the talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilson and a former student of Methodist College has succeeded in winning a $200 scholarship in the 1st year students class, and Mr. S. P. Young, of Bay of Islands, formerly a student of St. Bonaventures, has carried off the Clara Olding Prize, and has passed brilliantly in the 4th year medicine examinations. The list is as follows:—
