MEAT FOR PEOPLE

Washington, April 11.—Now that all dregged and preserved meats will be added to the free list, the authorities in Washington are beginning to figure on the possible chance of a reduction in the retail prices of this important and for other than the states in the matter. The characteristic provides in the states in the matter of relief for the United States in the matter of the Carneghe Franciscular make meat free will be enacted into law, the report of this expert is doubly interesting at this time. He said:

"From the international standpoint the most important and recent development in the meat industry of the Argentine Republic is the entrance and growing ascendancy of the North American interests. Chicago meat companies entered into this field only seven years ago, but have already attained such a position that they are a tained such a position that they are a decided if not dominating influence in tine is that apparently it puts the meat industry of the two principal produc-ing countries in the same hands. Ar., gentina is the largest exporter of beef in the world, and, next to New Zealand, the largest shipper of mutton. Argentina has been looked upon as a competitor of the United States in the beef industry and has even been considered by some as a possible source of cheaper meat for this coun-try. The present outlook there lends Fergus Falls, Minn., April 11.—There was a dramatic scene at the Putumayo info Dana Prairie, near here, committed suicide yesterday some time during the afternoon while her children were at school and her husband was in this city. She shot her youngest daughter aged four years, in the head with a .22 calibre rifle. The bullet stunned her, and thinking she was dead, the mother wrapped her carefully in bed, then taking a heavier rifle, she shot herself several times, finally placing the muzzel in her mouth and sending a bullet through her brain. When her children arrived from 'Directly he did not," Arana replied.
