The line of the Bell Telephone Company is to be extended from Windsor to Kingsville, via Harrow and the present line from Amherstburg to Windsor is to be supplied with the best copper wire. The system from Windsor is now so perfect that communication can be carried on with places as far east as Peterboro.

Last fall Arch. Coutts, of Tilbury Center, began to have a series of headaches, which continued until a few days ago. The cause was a grain of wheat being imbedded in the ear, and upon its removal it was found that it had commenced to germinate. An ulceration which had gathered around the seed was also removed by the physician, and Archie feels somewhat free from aches in consequence.

About 9 o'clock Saturday morning Samuel Allen was discovered in Laing's coal shed, Ridgetown, in a dying condition. Allen, who had been drinking rather heavily for several days, crawled into the coal house Friday evening and remained there until found. He died Mondoy, and the remains were taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Warner, of Rond Eau. Allen spent a peculiar life. Born in East Durham, he when a young man secured a good position on the G. T. R., but was convicted of a serious crime and sentenced to imprisonment for life in the penitentiary. After serving four weary years he was released, the guilty party in a death-bed confession clearing poor Sam. This unjust punishment wrecked Allen's life and he took to drink, going from bad to worse. He served in the American war, and but a few weeks ago was notified that a pension of $12 per week had been granted him.

We sing of the loveliest spot on the earth.
The dear Forest City, bright place of our birth:
The charms of her splendor are becken you there.
To quaff Nature's beauty not met with elsewhere.

She sits like a queen, draped in trappings of Her chaste form surrounded by beauty untold; Kind Nature has sent her such beauty and To see is to love the sweet smile of her face.

The bright sparkling streams that encircle h feet
Lend charms to the scene where the two waters
meet;
Each chorus of wavelets, like sweet chiming

BANISHED THE BARBER. But His Last Customer Was a Good One

But His Last Customer Was a Good One. (New York Tribune.)

He carried a basket of shaving mugs and razors upon one arm and his right hand tightly clutched a big mirror. His face was sad and pensive. He stood on the deck of the Shackawaxon, and looked moodily at the dark waters which rose and fell about the prow of the stately vessel. The man was Isaac Goldman, the exiled barber of Ellis Island. His schedule of prices was higher than most immigrants cared to pay, and he was banished. The last man he shaved did not object to Goldman's prices. It was all due to the interference of Colonel Weber. A Swedish immigrant came to Goldman yesterday for a shave.

"Hair cut?" interrogated Goldman.

"Yah," said the Swede and he was soon shorn of his tously locks.

"Nice dry shampoo?" asked the barber.

"Yah," said the Swede.

"Try some hair tonic?"

"Yah."

"Open a nice bottle of violet water for you?"

Written-up, furbished and polished miracles have had their short day; their influence and catching power with sensible and intelligent people, has vanished like the passing cloud. Our thoughtful people now look for strong and stern facts, backed up by the solid fortress of truth.

Our young Dominion can never become a fertile field for quacks and quackery; the soil is entirely unfitted for the sustenance and growth of fraud and deception.

A new era of light, life and joy for our suffering people was inaugurated when Paine's Celery Compound commenced its wonderful work. Our Canadian people have beheld with admiration mighty cures at their very doors. The people of every village, town and city know of friends and neighbors who have been saved from death through the use of Paine's Celery Compound.

Read the following letter of testimony from Mrs. D. O'Connor, of Guelph, Ont. Mark the strong indorsation! The facts are vouched for by a Mayor and a Justice of Feace.

MRS. D. O'CONNOR.

MRS. D. O'CONNOR.

Messrs. Wells & Richardson Co.:

I have much pleasure in giving testimony regarding the great benefit which I received by using Paine's Celery Compound. I was a great sufferer from indigestion for 25 years, was nervous for the past sixteen years, and had camps for over twenty years, and the dramps for over twenty years, and tried remedy after remedy without effect, and had given up all hope of being cured. Last September I had an attack of these troubles and came near dying. I had such terrible pains in my back, that often I almost fainted; I have also been troubled with neuralgia for years; had noise in the head, so that I could not sleep at night, and could hear every hour the clock struck. My heart was also affected, and I was low-spirited and despondent at times. I had a pain under my left shoulder blade and suffered from rheumatism, which was so bad during the last two years that I could hardly write.

Seeing your advertisement of Paine's Celery Compound, I thought I would try it, and after using six bottles, I find it has acted like a charm, and I am now completely recovered. I have recommended it to others who tried it, and obtained great relief, and can cheerfully recommend it to all whe suffer from nervous debility.

Wars respectfully,

MRS. D. O'Connor.

We have known Mrs. D. O'Connor for many years and can say that her statements can be relied upon,
