IRISH UNIVERSITY

Mr. Stephen Gwynn Advocates the Making of Terms.

Dublin, Feb. 13.-Mr. Stephen Gwynn, speaking this week on the university question, before a large audience of disconcerting to the most self-contain-the Roman Catholic Graduates and ed woman. The feminine intelligence Undergraduates' Association, advocated the making of terms between Trinity College and the Roman Catholic people of Ireland. He contrasted the overtures made by Trinity College with the absolutely negative position taken up by the Roman Catholic hierarchy, and suggested a conference on the lines of the land conference between repre-sentative Roman Catholics and the board of Trinity College. The Roman Catholic laity had a voice of their own, and should frame their own demands. Mr. Gwynn thought that Dublin University might be made a really national university, if, in addition to her existing offer, Trinity College were to give Roman Catholics a separate chair of philosophy and greater facilities for the study of Irish, and if the governing body of the college were made elec-tive from among the fellows.

IRISH UNIONISTS MAY BREAK AWAY

Betraved and Badly Treated to Appease Nationalists. They Say.

Dublin, Feb. 13. — Mr. C. C. Craig, M. P., replying to a vote of confidence passed at a Unionist meeting, held at Glenavy, said, to his mind, there were only two explanations of the reasons which weighed with the present executive when they aided and abetted the Nationalists, The first was that the chief secretary knew full well that it was of vital importance to his career as a politician and a statesman that when he relinquished office, he should close with the reputation of having left Ireland in a state of profound peace and contentment, after a rule characterized by justice and firmness. make sure of that reputation, he had determined, at all cost, and at whatever sacrifice of innocent loyalists in the south and west, that nothing in the shape of Nationalist dissatisfaction or disorder should be allowed to show itself if it could possibly avoided. The chief secretary apparently never thought it possible that this discontent and dissatisfaction would be expressed by the long-sufferest way of attaining his object was by giving the Nationalists all they

The second explanation was that the cabinet had deliberately taken up this line of action. They had poured out public money on the Nationalists, while neglecting the Unionists, for the purposes of obtaining the support of the Sheep—Receipts, 15,000; market 10c to $150, higher; good to choice wethers, $5.70 to $6.10; fair to choice mixed, $4.60 to $5.45; native lambs, $5.75 to $8.10. He believed the mass of Unionists in strong friends to them today as they were during the long years of the home rule struggle; but they have been kept in the dark as to the true state of affairs in Ireland. When they had awakened to the fact that their Unionist brethren in Ireland were being betrayed by a Government of their own making, they would see to it that matters were righted. It must be their duty to enlighten them. What course the Ulster Unionist party was to take when Parliament met was not yet setwhen Parliament met was not yet settled, It was hard to break away from old traditions, but the strain on the bends which bound them to the present Government was quickly nearing the
