

OXFORD LIBERALS LINE UP BEHIND LEADER ROWELL

Nominated at Largest Convention Ever Held in Constituency.

CHOICE WAS UNANIMOUS

Inconsistencies of Conservative Attitude on Bar Question Shown.

[Special to the Advertiser.]

WOODSTOCK, May 31.—At the largest Liberal Convention ever held in North Oxford, Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C., leader of the Opposition in Ontario, was yesterday chosen as candidate in the coming election. The rumors inspired by the Conservatives, that Mr. Rowell would be opposed for re-nomination, were given the lie, for there was no other name brought before the convention for local candidature.

E. W. Nesbitt, K.C., M.P., was likewise again chosen as the federal candidate. There were 277 delegates present out of 294, bespeaking the enthusiasm, which underlies the Liberal party in North Oxford. As Mr. Rowell enunciated in clear ringing sentences, his policies on various ious public issues, the meeting broke forth in spontaneous cheering. When Mr. Rowell stepped to the front of the platform to speak the gathering rose and cheered and the enthusiasm grew. Mr. Rowell was glad to open the campaign in his own riding and to know the people in North Oxford had placed confidence in him. He was ready to obey the people's slightest wish in public matters. He outlined his policy in a clear, straightforward manner, that left no doubt as to what he would do for Ontario if he was returned premier.

is Out Flatfooted.
On the subject of abolish the bar there was no half-way business with him. He was out and out for it, and believed it was fair to all. Every man had a right to his own opinions but every temperance man who wanted to abolish the bar forever from the province should come forward and place himself on record of the same. In coming before the electors he would do his duty as long as he had strength to do it.

The leader explained why the election was brought on at this time. The Conservatives had a double end in view; one was that they would rather take a chance with the people now than a year and a half hence, for the simple reason that by that time the people would know more about them. The other reason was they would have Sir James Whitney at the head of the party and they would rather take chances with Sir James at the head of affairs than some one else of dubious quality.

The Liberals welcomed the issue, and will face it at the polls and would accept the judgment of the people. He believed that the Liberals were now fighting a winning battle.

The Conservatives were becoming divided among themselves at the present time. Independent candidates among the Conservatives were coming to be front on the Abolish Bar policy. He pointed to Mr. Steele, of Welland, as an example of this.

We are going into this fight prepared to win, and win we will, declared Mr. Rowell amid applause.

Agricultural Needs.
Attention should be put on a better basis and if the Liberals were put in power these things would be attended to. Rural communities were decreasing in population for the reason that these places were not receiving the proper attention from the department of agriculture, and this, in his mind, was a vital question.

Puts Red Corpuscles Into Weak Blood

And Thereby Increases the Nourishing Qualities of the Blood — Bodily Weakness, Heart Troubles and Nervous Disorders Cured.

You cut your finger and find it difficult to stop the flow of blood. You get a scratch and it is slow in healing. The blood is thin and watery. In other words, it is lacking in red corpuscles. And since the red corpuscles carry nourishment, this means that your blood fails to supply nutrition to the nerves and other organs of the body.

It may be that you feel tired, much of the time, find your heart beating fast with slight exertion, have difficulty in digesting the food and suffer from weakness of the eyes or headaches. Your blood is failing to supply energy and strength to the body. You need treatment that will increase the number of red corpuscles in the blood.

The workmen's compensation act was good, but should have been enacted years before. The anti-treating system, which was to have been enacted by the Government, must have died in its infancy. Nothing more was ever heard of it, as it is now a dead issue.

Mr. Rowell said there was only one effective way to get rid of the traffic which would do away with the treating system and everything in connection with it, and that was to abolish the bar.

Conservative Inconsistency.
Conservatives were saying "You do not go far enough. If you did we should support you to a man." Mr. Rowell could not see how anyone could be so inconsistent when the Liberal party was at the present time out and out to abolish the bar.

When he asked the meeting if they were prepared to follow him in this, "Here, here," came spontaneously from all parts of the hall. He would be starting out on a campaign in the interest of Liberalism, and would not have many opportunities of speaking to the electors of North Oxford, but left the whole matter in their hands, charging them as Liberals to work as they had never done before and to give old Oxford the biggest majority in all her history.

Mr. Nesbitt's Speech.
E. W. Nesbitt, K. C., spoke first. He went into all the questions that had come before the House of Commons, and clearly pointed out what Liberalism was doing to prevent the too lavish expenditure of public money.

He said that Col. Sam Hughes had gone military-mad. He used facts and figures to substantiate his statements. When the Liberal Government went out of power it had left a surplus of $17,000,000, but in two years the present Government had had to borrow $68,000,000, showing bad management. All large concerns saw that hard times were coming, but the Government ignored the warning. It saw it coming, and should have prepared for it.

He said he was not opposed to spending a reasonable amount on military affairs, but did strongly object to the military expenditures jumping $14,000,000 in a year.

Mr. Nesbitt pointed out many instances which went to prove the wasting of public funds by poor management. He was of the opinion that the Government should have a limit to its borrowing power. He scored the Government on the C. N. R. proposition heavily.

Short but stirring addresses were given by Mr. Valentine Stock, ex-M. P., P. E., and Col. Mayberry, M. P., of South Oxford.

At the conclusion of the meeting three cheers were given for Mr. Rowell and Mr. Nesbitt. James Calder presided.

CONSERVATIVES PICK McFARLANE ONCE MORE

Put Him Up as East Middlesex Candidate for Provincial Election.

Conservatives in convention in the Masonic Temple, Saturday afternoon, nominated John McFarlane, M. P., P. E., of West Mississauga, as candidate for East Middlesex provincial riding.

The following were nominated, but withdrew, in favor of McFarlane: Frank Boyce, of Dorchester, Dr. Warren Dean, of Harrietsville, and R. A. Powell, of London Township.

There were 104 delegates and more than 100 others in the room. The session lasted only about one hour. McFarlane's Temperance Views.
John McFarlane, shook his fist and stamped the platform. "The Conservative party is as good a temperance party as the other is," he shouted. "I told Bowman, that I was going to support the party that would give real temperance to the province."

Delegates showed some apprehension regarding the newly annexed property in East London.

"There's a whisper that this annexed part is not now in East Middlesex," said McFarlane. "I have been told on authority, that it remains in East Middlesex."

Will Win Anyway.
"Get busy," he warned them. "If East London is taken away with part of our good territory, we will win yet."

In conclusion, McFarlane said, "I showed my conservatism in the House. I never shirked a vote. I accept the nomination."

IS BETTER.
"Senator Coffey slept very well Saturday night," said his son-in-law, R. M. Burns, last night. He is a little stronger and able to take a little more nourishment. We feel quite encouraged."

On analysis Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is found to contain the very ingredients which go to form red corpuscles, or, in other words, to make the blood richer in nutritive qualities.

As a matter of fact this is the only way in which bodily weakness and diseases of the nerves can be overcome. The organs of digestion have failed to extract the proper elements from the food you eat, and if you are to avoid physical bankruptcy you must restore the quality of the blood by use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Because it works thus hand-in-hand with Nature, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food makes thorough and lasting cures. Fifty cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

JOHN LAIDLAW AGAIN CHOSEN IN E. MIDDLESEX

Unanimously Selected at Enthusiastic Convention in Hyman Hall.

SUPPORT FOR FREE WHEAT

Convention Places Itself on Record as in Favor of It, and Against C. N. R. Loan.

Enthusiasm ran high at the East Middlesex Liberal convention in Hyman Hall Saturday afternoon, when John W. Laidlaw was unanimously nominated as Liberal standard-bearer in the Ontario provincial elections, June 23. Dr. G. A. Routledge (Lambeth), John MacKenzie (Hyde Park), Ezra S. Hunt (Westminster Township), and Jared Vining (London) were also nominated, but withdrew in favor of Mr. Laidlaw, who was accorded a rousing reception when he was called to the platform.

Proud of Laidlaw.
Mr. Laidlaw was nominated by E. S. Hunt, who, in declining his own nomination, declared that at the last bye-election the Liberal party in East Middlesex had a candidate it was truly proud of. Mr. Laidlaw had gone before the people with claims that appealed to them, and he had won over many of his former political opponents. He trusted Mr. Laidlaw would be given the unanimous support of the convention. Referring to the Liberal leader, Mr. Hunt characterized N. W. Rowell as "a man true to the very core." Mr. Rowell, by not dropping the "banish the bar" plank following his last defeat had shown that he had the welfare of the citizens of the country, and that he was sincere in his support of that policy.

Thomas Robinson, who presided, referred to the expectation that in the forthcoming election the suburbs of London would vote with the city, thus decreasing the number of the Conservative voters in the ridings and giving the Liberals in London Township, Dorchester, Westminster and West Nissouri a much better chance to win.

Jared Vining said that it was the first time in many years that East Middlesex Liberals had a fair chance to win. Unless the Government did some awful horseshoggling in again changing the boundaries of the ridings, the Liberals stood a good chance of winning in East Middlesex. What was needed was the active and aggressive support of every Liberal in the riding for the candidate nominated.

Strong disapproval of the work of the Whitney regime was expressed by several speakers. Dr. G. A. Routledge declared that the only thing the Government point to with pride was the industrial farm.

Thanks Convention.
Mr. Laidlaw, who was greeted with enthusiastic cheers and applause, expressed his gratitude to the electors of East Middlesex for the support accorded him in the last by-election. He referred to the marked reduction in the Conservative majority at that time, and expressed the belief that Liberals might confidently look for success this time if a strong and aggressive fight were made.

Reserves Independent Right.
If elected, Mr. Laidlaw said, he would reserve an independent right to support any measure, which he believed to be for the benefit of the country, and he would support the most advanced temperance legislation whoever might bring it forward.

Support Free Wheat.
The convention unanimously passed two resolutions, one supporting the western farmers in their demand for free trade with the United States and disapproving strongly of the Mackenzie and Mann deal, and the other approving entirely of all the Liberal policy in the Ontario Liberal party and expressing confidence in and approval of N. W. Rowell's policy.

The first resolution, moved by J. K. Little and seconded by James Henderson, resolved:

"That this convention of East Middlesex Liberals desire to go upon record as being heartily in favor of every plank in the platform of the Ontario Reform party, both social and economic, and as being gratified with the brilliant leadership of N. W. Rowell, K.C."

Against C.N.R. Deal.
In the second resolution it was moved by Mr. Elliott and seconded by Angus Beattie:

"That this convention of East Middlesex Liberals regret the commercial conditions in Canada that have followed as the result of the change of government in 1911 and inasmuch as the prosperity of the east depends upon the prosperity of the west, it especially regrets that the Borden government has not seen fit to ameliorate those conditions by giving the western farmers the boon of free wheat into the United States. This convention would also urge Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his able lieutenants in Parliament to continue their fight granting forty-five million dollars to the Borden government, that of granting 40 million dollars to Mackenzie and Mann."

The Fighting Spirit.
In concluding the resolution dealing with federal matters, Mr. Henderson observed that it was in line with the
