Cables lower, Seaboard clearances were 160,000 bushels. Good weather had something to do with the decline. There was a good cash demand at the decline, about 150,000 being taken. Provisions lost all of yesterday's advance on a small volume of business. Bear operators cook advantage of duliness and smpathy with weak wheat to offer the market down, and local holders did nothing to prevent the decline. There is no change in the situation and we think product is worth the price it is selling for.

t. R. Cochran received the following feeling ret. Hopkins & Co.:

CRICAGO, April 27.—The nervous feeling respecting the May deal is wearing away and the July premium has widened. The market has been more natural, responding more freely to ordinary influences. Crop reports and foreign advices have been rather discouraging to holders, but primary receipts and exports have been satisfactory. More rain has failen in California and complaints from there will probably be less frequent. Considerable wheat has been taken here and at seaboard since the decline, but these markets from whence most of the grain has been taken show the least strength. There is no pronounced speculative sentiment; everybody seems to be waiting for something to turn body seems to be waiting for something to turn between the control of the property of
