The market for raw sugar during the week, according to Willett & Gray's circular, has been uneventful, while attempts o advance prices have been unsuccessful Regarding the Cuba crop their correspondent writes that planters and colonas the yield of the juice, and also about the outcome of the cane fields. A further decrease in crop estimates is neces-sary, notwithstanding that immediate receipts continue large. The firm reduce their estimate to 975,000 tons, against 1,087,000 tons last year. A further re-1,05,000 tons last year. A further reduction may be necessary later. Regarding the sowings for the next beet crop some estimates are being received of from 5 to 71.2 per cent. decrease. Advances in refined sugars have not been realized, owing to weakness abroad. A firmer tendency was shown in refined at the close, owing to the growth of the Cuban insurrection.
