PICKERING COLLEGE, PICKERING, ONT.

(In connection with the Society of Friends)

INSTRUCTION—

This school affords excellent facilities for young Ladies acquiring a thorough education in Fine Arts, Music, the Sciences, English, French, German, and Classics. The Science and Language Classes are all taught by University-trained Masters. Ed. S. Shrapnel, A.R.C.A., continues for the third successive year in charge of the Painting and Drawing Classes. Mr. J. Davenport Kerrison, a well-known Toronto musician, is the College Professor of Music, and is assisted in his department by Miss Slater.

FEES—

Being the property of a religious denomination no dividends have to be provided for, and the fees can be placed at very moderate figures; for young ladies they are as follows:—
Board and Tuition per Annum (furnished Rooms) $105, with discount to Ministers' daughters.
EXTRAS.—Music, $8 per quarter of ten weeks.
Painting, $8 per " " "
Drawing, $4 " " "

Free use of an extensive and varied collection of Casts and Models. Latin, French and German are not extras.

DISCIPLINE—

The Superintendent, James F. Barker, who is a Friends' Minister, the Matron, two Governesses, and three Masters reside in the College. A night-watchman is constantly employed for the protection of the buildings. The most careful guardianship is exercised over all students in residence. Lady students occupy separate seats and tables in the school and dining-rooms, have separate entrances, walks, grounds, and gymnasium, and have no intercourse with male students except at the close of the weekly meetings of the Literary Society, when teachers are always present.

RELIGIOUS TRAINING AND OBSERVANCES—

To educate the young in the midst of religious influences and home restraints is the only reason for the existence of the College. Students attend their own churches every Sabbath morning. All must attend the Sabbath-afternoon Bible-school, which is conducted by the Superintendent, James F. Barker, assisted by the College teachers, and, in the evening, Mr. Barker's service in the College is likewise attended by all the students. A Prayer-meeting, attendance at which is voluntary, is held every Wednesday evening.

For the Announcement, address the Secretary, ELIAS ROGERS, Toronto; or
