Whole No. 935.

HAMILTON TIMES (Reform) M.V.S.
 From this (Hardy's Mining Bill) much may be expected to follow. People will ask why one kind of Land belongs to the Community, if another kind of Land belongs absolutely to individuals. Finally it will dawn upon the public mind that Land is NOT personal property; that improvements belong to the individual who makes them, but the bare land is public property and its RENTAL value belongs to the public. This is true of farming land, of building sites in cities, of timber land and of mineral land. Mr Hardy will see the principle upon which his Mining law is based OUGHT to be extended to OTHER LAND
