Moved in amendment to the amendment—

“That inasmuch as is alleged that the report submitted to the Department to be answered, is different from the return asked for by this House, and, inasmuch as it is further alleged that such return as made omits matters asked for, and adds matters not asked for, and, inasmuch as it is alleged that such omissions and additions are calculated to mislead this House, and are a contempt of this House, be it resolved that the return be referred to a Committee to enquire into and report upon.”—(Sir John A. Macdonald.)
