-beyond the member's fees- to operate the club, and our only salvation in previous years was the weekly collection on the Campus. This was sufficient to carry us through our season usually, but, with conditions as they have been these last two years, the public cannot or will not contribute to the same extent as formerly, and as a result the Club must run behind.

This condition will be more exaggerated than ever this season, therefore my views are that a complete reorganisation of the Club even, would only face the executive with a hopeless task to commence the season with such a deficit.

My suggestion, if I may give it is, that it would be in the Club's interest to cease activities for 1933. Let us have a year in which to obtain, if possible, sufficient monies to restore the Club on its feet. I feel confident there are many prominent cricket-minded citizens who would be only too glad to do their share towards this end if approached in the right way, rather than see the grand old game go by the board on the Campus.

I shall be interested to hear the results of your discussions on Friday, and please rest assured that I shall be only too glad to do what I can in the interests of the Club whatever course you decide to follow.

Yours faithfully,

R. Saunders
