BISHOP WILL BE DEPARTMENT CHIEF

Attempt to Effect Dismissal of Subordinates Was Unsuccessful.

DEBATE WAS LENGTHY

Five Members of Board of Education Voted Against Bishop's Promotion.

After three hours' debate the board of education last night, on a vote of 5 to 5, promoted Bishop of the building department to the position of head or chief of the property and building department with full authority to appoint and dismiss all members of the staff.

Chairman McTaggart left the chair to propose the dismissal of Messrs. Wate and Wolfe of the building department. He based his argument on the criticism of the conditions when the staff was under-manned three years ago.

Trustee Houston charged Mr. McTaggart with an attempt to be an artistic headman, and declared that the only offence of the officials was that they tried to do too much work in the night instead of calling for additions to the staff.

After the report of the investigation committee, at which yesterday's World, had been adopted, the chairman of that committee, Trustee Miles Vokes, moved the promotion of Mr. Bishop. It was carried by 5 to 5 on the following division: Ayes—Jackson, Hodgson, Boland, Vokes, Noble, Houston, Shaw, Brown, McKay, Nye, McTaggart, Conboy, Fairbairn, Steele and Ellis.

Trustee Boland surprised the board by insisting that the report of Architect Curry, on the central technical school walls, which was regarded as entirely satisfactory by the property committee, be read.

Dr. Conboy asked what action the advising industrial committee had taken in respect to Architect Curry's letter.

Trustee Ellis, chairman of the committee, said Mr. Curry's report was absolutely fair and that the report thoroughly exonerated the contractors from blame.

Dr. Steele will move at the next meeting that teachers absenting themselves from duty shall report same by 8.15 a.m. on the day of absence. That the chief inspector's office be opened at 8 a.m. to receive reports, and that the clerk in charge be allowed off one hour earlier.

That occasional be sent out by 8.30 a.m.

Youth Was Recognized While Loitering Around Entrance to Penitentiary.

CROPS ARE DAMAGED

Farmers in the Vicinity of Kingston Do Not Like the Weather.

Special to The Toronto World. KINGSTON, March 19.—While loitering around the main entrance of the penitentiary this morning, James Foley, aged 19, was recognized by J. R. Forester, Warden Irvine's clerk, who recognized him, Foley gave no trouble. Last night, at the request of the prison reform commission, Foley was allowed out to work in a lumber camp in Northern Ontario, but he ran away three years ago for theft, and has two years yet to serve. It is believed that Foley intended to give himself up.

Farmers say that the weather is doing extensive damage to new seedling and fall grain crops. There is scarcely any snow covering the fields and this has the effect of heaving roots out of the soil, where they gradually die on account of lack of nourishment.

Another Controversy. Rev. Father McNeil and Rev. W. P. Fitzgerald, of the Anglican Church, are engaged in a controversy over St. Patrick and his nationality, and today in local papers Mr. Fitzgerald invited Father McNeil to debate the question on public platform. Peter Adamowski, a Pole, aged 25, was injured in an explosion of dynamite and lost the sight of one eye.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

The Hen and the Eggs

THE old hen diet has made the price of eggs soar again, they are still lower priced, all things considered, than meat. Even when eggs cost but ten cents and few persons eat more than two eggs at a meal. Where can you buy ten cents' worth of meat that will so well satisfy a hungry man? But thrifty housekeepers do not serve eggs alone, they combine them with other foods, making omelets, creamed dishes, and a great variety of dishes.

In connection with the habits of the hen, which have much to do with the matter of high prices, a grocer's exchange says: "In February hens begin their annual output of eggs for all fizzes and other uses. By April egg factories are working full force and eggs are plentiful and cheap and are being placed in storage. Summer advances and hens begin to work on short time, in October the business closes down for the winter months."

The old hen has a reason for this; like every one, she must have a new suit once a year, but the cock has not been educated to furnish it, so she must do it herself. From October to January, all the angleworms, bugs and tid-bits from the neighbor's gardens, which, in the springtime, would make eggs, are used to produce a new dress for Easter holidays. Result—price of eggs out of sight."

Enter villain of the play—the cold-storage man. Cold storage has its uses and abuses, and it is a far greater blessing than a barn. When it comes to transferring fresh foods long distances, and distributing foods in times of necessity it is one of our greatest benefactors. But when cold storage enables food to be kept off the market until exorbitant prices can be had for it, then cold storage becomes an abuse.

Pennsylvania has a law that limits the time that any product may stay in storage. In that state April eggs must be sold out in December. Other foods are controlled in the same way. Similar laws are the only things that will ever prevent monopolies mulcting consumers.

Another thing that every dairy and food inspector should insist on is that eggs be sold by weight. Ten good sized eggs will weigh a pounds when fresh, but egg shells are porous and eggs are fifty per cent. water. This water evaporates as the eggs stand open in the air, so ten eggs ten days old will not weigh much more than ten ounces. A dozen storage eggs will not weigh more than half a pound.

Tomorrow—How to make omelets.

GALT DOES NOT WANT REDUCTION

Duties on Agricultural Implements Should Not Be Cut.

Special to The Toronto World. GALT, March 19.—After a conference with the board of trade, the town council will determine on a rate alarm system to cost $15,000, and submit a bylaw for the ratepayers' approval. C. R. Hanning of Preston, new senator of the county, is expected to assume his duties until early in summer. Members of the legal profession in the county will arrange a reception. At the same time a farewell will be tendered retiring Judge Chisholm, who has received notice from Ottawa announcing that he has been officially retired on full salary.

Cars for the West. Today 15 pay-as-you-enter electric coaches were shipped at Galt, consigned by the Preston Car and Coach Co. to Vancouver and Victoria, B.C. Twenty-three flat cars carried the load.

"Hands off tariff" formally expressed the sentiment of the Galt Board of Trade at a large meeting at which the question of the proposed reduction in duties on agricultural implements was discussed in a non-partisan spirit. Ex-Mayor Scott declared the proposition wholly in the wrong direction and would react on existing industries and manufacture. He instanced the International Harvester Co., Brantford, the Sturtevant plant, recently established at Galt, as an outcome of the Canadian policy of protection.

THE GARDEN NURSERY

CONDUCTED BY RACHEL R. TODD, M.D.

While Waiting.

All times of waiting are tiresome, but surely none are more so than the waiting for the spring. To the eager gardener this time of waiting is filled with acute suspense and an almost irresistible longing to take a peek at the hidden and sleeping things that winter still persists in keeping blanketed with snow.

It is a time of suspense, because there are so many precious roots that may or may not have wintered well. Vines that may have been winter-killed, rose bushes that may have succumbed to the cold, perennial roots that may be just, and only just, alive.

Not that, such being the case, anything can be done for their good just at present. And then, too, the longing to "take a peek" is so strong that only the strongest common sense will be able to subdue it.

In the meantime there cannot but be many things to look after indoors or in the temporary greenhouse. I mean the hothed. Those of you who have made use of the hothed to start your early annuals, your perennials, your various vegetable seeds, need to keep a watchful eye on the progress of the plants beneath those sashes.

The sun's rays are already strong enough to "encourage" a vigorous growth, especially when those rays are thrown on the plants thru the medium of glass. A stifling heat may be generated that, unless carefully controlled, may work untold harm.

Be careful to lift the glass sashes every day now to let in an abundance of fresh, cool air, so necessary just now to those tender plants that have been living shut up, as it were, all the winter. This fresh air is absolutely necessary to their well-being, rendering them sturdy, strong, and getting them in a fit condition to be transplanted presently.

Do not forget to turn the seedboxes, moving them from place to place that they may better receive all the sun possible. This constant moving also prevents any vermin settling beneath the bottoms of the boxes. Keep the earth in the boxes well moistened. Do not drench the soil one time and another time allow the same soil to become quite dry for two or three days.
