

SCOTTISH CHARACTER SKETCHES

HEATHER FROM THE BRAE

BY

DAVID LYALL

16mo Cloth Decorated 75 cents

"The author, in common with Barrie, Crockett, and MacLaren, has the gift of investing the Scottish character, its life and manners, with the charm of reality, illumined by the glow of feeling, and made human by its very simplicity."—Boston Transcript.

"Lyall is of the school of Barrie and Ian Maclaren, but is far from being an imitator. He writes from conviction, because he has been deeply impressed with the simple pathos of the Scotch character, and because his love of this life is quite as deep as his knowledge of it. His stories abound in illuminating touches which leave no doubt of his being possessed of the clairvoyance of genuine talent."—New York Examiner.

"A better collection of short stories cannot be had. * * * * David Lyall has a style of his own which gives both individuality and charm to his work. * * * * The reader of these sketches cannot fail to be delighted with the charm which pervades them."—Elmira Telegram.

"Those who like the Scotch spirit of story-telling, but are repelled by the formidable dialect of Ian Maclaren, may attack David Lyall's book of sketches, 'Heather from the Brae,' which has not so large a proportion of dialect as to frighten away the most timid reader. * * * *"—Springfield Republican.

"More Scottish literature, and excellent literature, too. Few better character sketches have come to hand lately, Lyall ranking well with Crockett, Maclaren, and the rest."—Binghamton Herald.

Fleming H. Revell Company

NEW YORK: 112 Fifth Ave.
CHICAGO: 63 Washington St.
TORONTO: 140 & 142 Yonge St.