British justice.

Rev. W. A. Wilson gave an inter esting account of the efforts being made in regard to the Hindoos in British Columbia. Mr. Wilson says that altho many of the Hindoos are coolies, many of them are not, some belonging to the higher classes. He further statthat as a whole they were fine mental and physical specimens.

J. H. Russell stated in his address that there was a splendid chance from a cold business standpoint, if from no other motive, of opening up foundries in India, as at present there are no industries there at all.

The Canadian executive of the layman missionary movement hold their first meeting to-day, which will take the form of a lunch at Simpson's, to discuss plans for fall work, especially as regards missionary dinners for men in the various Canadian cities.

Nine new missionaries are being sent out this fall to India and China. So to to Macao, South China. These are Rev. and Mrs. T. A. Broadfoot, Miss Rachel McLean and Miss Lemaitre.
