The Ideal Market Problem.

Mr. Alexander Wallace, 231 Queen-street west, wrote the Mayor on Saturday protesting against the scheme of market extension, as proposed by the Market Improvement Association. He suggests instead that the vacant space surrounding the new city Hall be excavated and the basements utilized for produce market purposes, and for a royal exchange, with reading rooms, telegraphing, telephoning and other accommodation; in short, as a meeting place for general business men, citizens and farmers, "with a view to have truth and bonor prevail as characteristics of men in business"
