Decide to Oppose the Redistribution Bill at Every Point-Talk of an All-Summer Session.

[Special to The Advertiser per C. P. R.] Ottawa, June 1.-A Conservative caucus was held in room 6 today. The subject discussed was the redistribution bill. It was decided to oppose the bill at every stage. One of the Conservative members said after the meeting was over that every constitutional means at their disposal would be taken to block the measure, so as to prevent its going through this session. The meeting was without doubt very unanimous on this point, and those who predicted that parliament would not be prorogued before snow flies may have known what they were talking about.

A TORNADO'S WORK

nett remarks as follows: "Mr. Small- Railway Company. man claims that to recognize the union would be to hand over the management of the road to the employes. As the individuals have no opportunity of a matter of fact, such is not the case." Will Mr. Garnett kindly explain what other interpretation could be put upon the following clause in their document: "Clause 2—All conductors and motor-men employed by the said company shall become members of Division 97 of the Amalgamated Association of he desires, to the directors. Street Railway Employes of America, and before a man commences training he shall take out a permit card from the secretary of this division. After 30 days, if satisfactory to the company, he shall become a member of this association." The second clause in the old agreement read: "2. All employes tions. In a measure, they are on the of the company shall have full liberty to affiliate with any lawful association or club, and shall not be required to selves for their positions, whereas a sign any document abridging their full street railway motorman or conductights under this agreement." Can anything be fairer than the above to the mechanic, as a few days' training will employes? The last clause in our agreement of October last read thus: "This agreement to be in force for six months, or for such further period as the employes remain in the service of the company." Thus plainly indicating that the company were bound indefinitely, but that the employes could either leave the company's service or arbitrate any grievances they might have. We have repeatedly offered such arbitration. Again in the demands which the employes made recently: "This agreement to be binding upon the parties hereto for the space of one year." Thus leaving the matter subject to other demands at the expiration of that time. Mr. Garnett further says: "Where the union is recognized, it is responsible for the character and conduct of its members, and is careful to see that the men are courteous to the officials and live up to the rules of the company." My opinion is that it is the duty of the management to see to these matters. At an interview with Mr. Garnett and others at my residence some days ago, a Mr. Lee, a Yankee organizer (who is no doubt well-paid for his efforts), stated that if the company only knew the benefits conferred upon them by the union, they would recognize it. which I made the following reply: "We have within the last six months failed to see any benefit; but on the contrary noticed a marked change for the worse in many of the employes, and when they can demonstrate the benefits of the union it would be quite time enough for us to recognize it." Mr. Westby, one of the committee, who was present at that interview, said: "We know we have some bad ones in the union." When I replied: "Then in evidence of your good intentions, give us the names of the bad ones, and enable us to weed them out," his reply AT TOLEDO was: "Oh, we can't afford to do that."

When the foregoing, I leave the pub From the foregoing, I leave the public to judge who has right and justice on their side. I am pleased to state that in our eorganization we have secured the services of good and efficient men, who only ask for fair treatment from the strikers and their sympathizers to show the public that they are as good men, or better, than those who have left our service. I would like to ask our old employes how many of them were as well paid before they entered our service as when they left us, or if any one of them ever earned or had it in their power to earn $9 20 per week before. This lat-ter offer recently made to a num-corner Flying Fox was next to me, and I called to Cannon at the turn, saying, 'Come in closer, Morny,' as I did not want him to let anyone between us. Flying Fox had taken the lead and then pulled out and again took the lead, Holocauste going splendidly, without urging. I am convinced he had all the steam necessary to win the race easily, but suddenly I felt him going down. He did not throw me. I got both legs on one side of the saddle, when I found one foot caught in the stirrup. I knew if he fell I would go under him, and held on to his neck with both arms until I pulled up enough to dismount. "The leg had been broken clean off, so that the horse was jamming the stump on the ground at each jump. I never saw such a sight, and yet the horse was so game that I think he would have kept on in the race if it had been physically possible. It is impossible to tell how the accident occurred, though the turf was very hard and he may have turned the leg on some obstacle. Of course, there was Another series of games commences on Tecumseh Park tomorrow, St. nothing to do but to kill the poor fel-Thomas appearing here Friday and low, who had lost his life in the gami-The teams for tomorrow's est race I ever rode."

Rev. Hugh Cairns, of Cornwall, has been elected president of the Montreal Conference.

Work has begun on the Grand Trunk offices, McGill street, Montreal. The masonry contract amounts to over a quarter of a million, and the whole building will cost about half a million.
