SLIGHT BLOCKADE

A wheel coming off a wagon loaded with barrels owned by the firm of Taylor & White in north end about two thirty o'clock this afternon caused a blocking of traffic for a short time. It required quite a little effort to remove the team and the barrels from the tracks to allow the street cars to pass, and several cars were held up.

MINING GOING ON AT NEW COLLIERIES

Birch Grove Mine Giving up Eighty Tons a Day, Will Reach About 800

(Sydney Record)

There is a large amount of development work going on at the new Birch Cove collieries of the Dominion Coal Company. At present there are more than fifty miners' and officials' houses being erected, besides the colliery buildings.

The new bankhead is well under way and will be ready in about one month. The new screening plant and other accessories for the bank equipment will be on the ground soon, and on arrival will be installed as quickly as possible. The new electric power line is being rushed and should be completed in a short time. Work on the erection of a transformer-house has not yet been started, but will be undertaken soon.

The new warehouse, washouse, machine shops, etc, are now practically finished and will be ready when required.

The output now is about eighty tons which by June next should reach about 150 or 200. The mining is now all hand pick work, but as soon as the new electric system is completed the new electric air compressor for the operation of the coal cutters will increase the output, in the meantime a tamping compressor is being used.

When development work is finished on No. 21 and 22 collieries they will have a combined output of about 800 tons a day.

BABY BOY BORN AFTER MOTHER'S DEATH

First Case Known to Physicians—Child Is Thriving

New York, May 14—The world's first baby boy to be born after his mother's death is now a patient in Fordham Hospital, full of vitality and apparently destined to a long life. By a Cesarian operation the child was delivered, the physicians at Fordham Hospital assert, ten minutes after the mother had died of apoplexy. The boy weighed eight and a half pounds.

The case is said by physicians to be without precedent. The boy's mother was Mrs. Rebecca Lipschitz, of the Bronx.

After being taken to the hospital Mrs. Lipschitz died about midnight Friday. Ten minutes later the operating surgeons, headed by Dr. H. S. Chorr, the house surgeon, delivered the baby, alive and strong.

THE FATHER MEAHAN MEMORIAL

(Moncton Times.)

One of the heaviest pieces of work of its kind ever done in the province is now nearing completion at Sherrard's marble works. It is the monument to be erected to the late Father Meahan, which will be ready for setting up some time next month. The base, which weighed five tons, was hauled to the R. C. cemetery on the Shediac road by the last snow, an eight-horse team being required for the purpose. The die weighed five and a half tons in the rough, and about three tons in its finished state.

Work is now well advanced on the Celtic cross, which is cut out of one piece of marble, which weighed ten and a half tons in the rough, and in its finished state, about three tons. The cross is about three feet high, and the measurement all over will be about seventeen feet. Some intricate interlacing is to be cut in the face of the cross, which when finished will present a handsome and imposing appearance.

Bear Grass For Paper

Extensive experiments in the use of bear grass for making paper which have been conducted by a paper manufacturing concern in St. Louis for the last two years have proved so successful that steps have been taken by Dr. F. S. Pearson and associates for the erection of a large paper mill at El Paso. The territory around Van Horn and in other parts of western Texas will be drawn upon to supply the bear grass for the proposed mill and this raw material will be used exclusively by the plant. It is claimed that it makes a very high grade paper. Bear grass grows profusely over a wide scope of territory in western Texas and the southwest. It has been considered heretofore as having no value.

A LOST BALL.

One evening a golfer sat in his grandfather's old arm-chair eagerly scanning the stop-press news, when his little son came to him and proudly exhibited a brand-new "Colonel," which he said he had found over at the links. "Are you sure it was a lost ball, Davie?" cautiously inquired the golfing sire: "Lost," said David. "Of course it was lost. I saw the man looking for it."

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF AT ALBERT OIL SHALE DEPOSITS

The Story of Former Work in Extracting Oil — New Methods, More Money and Better Conditions This Time

In a paper read by Edward McCarthy before the Moncton board of trade on the early history of the place, the following appears:—

"In closing I wish to bring again to notice the late Joseph Salter. After closing his shipbuilding business, he having full confidence in the natural resources of the country, turned his attention to the mountains of oil shale situated at Baltimore in Albert county, on the opposite side of the Petitcodiac from Moncton. He formed a company, erected a plant, and began extracting crude oil by the retort process and carried on a fairly good business. At that time, there were no railroads in this locality and all supplies had to be carried by teams. Coal for the retorts had to be drawn seven or eight miles, up the mountain a part of the way, which was very expensive. At this time companies were boring for oil in Petrolia and Pennsylvania, and when oil was struck in great abundance it was so cheap that the distilling of oil in this form was put out of business. The plant was closed and dismantled and all the material sold. The promoter left New Brunswick, went to Sydney, C. B., and carried on a ship broker's business for many years. He passed away but a few years ago, honored and respected by all who knew him.

While the shale deposits have lain cold in the earth these forty years, the idea of their value has been kept warm in the minds of earnest and far-seeing men who have in recent years been able to demonstrate their worth. Through their efforts, Sir Wm. Mackenzie, of Mackenzie & Mann, has become interested in the business and legislation has been secured whereby it is expected that these works will be re-opened soon, and history is about to repeat itself with newer methods and larger means, and under more favorable conditions."

STREET RAILWAY REPORT.

It is said that there is under consideration by the St. John street railway further extension of their trackage now in use, for the purpose of carrying freight, in addition to passenger service. The idea would be to secure permission from the railways to have cars containing freight for local merchants run from the sidings at the depot along new street railway tracks to points where they could be conveniently reached by dealers. Mr. Hopper of the railway company would not discuss the matter this morning when spoken to concerning it.

FINALLY THEY QUARRELED.

"I love you darling, more than you love me," sighed the swain.

"Ah, that is impossible, precious," she whispered back, "for I love you better than you do me."

"You cannot!"

"But I do."

"You do not!" he argued.

"When I say a thing I stick to it!" she snapped.

An owl shifted uneasily above them.

"Pardon me, Gwendoline!"

"Pardon me, Eustace!"

"Miss Brown!"

"Mr. Jones!"

The owl hooted dismally and sought another bower.

CHEAP CLEANER.

A bicycle pump is a good substitute for a vacuum cleaner in getting dust from nooks and crannies in marble statuary, plaster casts, carved furniture or any crevices where it may lurk in spite of dust cloth and brush. Run the open end of the rubber tubing over the surface to be dusted, while working the pump vigorously with the foot. A soft dust cloth will do the rest.—Minneapolis Tribune.
