

SIX CENTS A WEEK. DELIVERED TO ANY ADDRESS IN THE CITY.

STAR WANT ADS. BRING GOOD RESULTS. TRY THEM.

Favorite Ash Sifters,

as shown. Will keep your coal bill down.

You cannot afford to be without one.

Price 70 Cents.

Also, other styles.

W. H. THORNE & CO., LIMITED. Market Square.

A Successful Stove.

We make the ROYAL GRAND RANGE and stand behind each one with an absolute guarantee that it will prove satisfactory in every respect.

It's a Good Baker.

We guarantee the Royal Grand to be a perfect baker.

Has a Good Draft.

The Royal Grand has direct draft, and will work in a chimney so bad that many stoves would fall.

Easy on Fuel.

The Royal Grand will cook and bake with one-half the fuel that some stoves require.

Have you seen this range?

Prices as low as many inferior stoves.

EMERSON & FISHER, 75 Prince Wm. Street.

HUTCHINGS & CO.

MANUFACTURERS OF AND DEALERS IN

First Class Bedding, Wire Mattresses,

Iron Bedsteads and Cribs,

Invalid Wheel Chairs, Etc.

101 to 107 GERMAIN STREET.

Hawker's Balsam

WILL CURE ANY COUGH OR COLD.

Price 25 Cents.

All Druggists Sell it.

FOR EVENING WEAR!

Our stock of evening Shoes for Men and Women comprises the newest and most popular styles and materials of the day.

King Street. Waterbury & Rising, Union Street.

St. John, November 8, 1902.

CALL AT

HARVEY'S TO-NIGHT

For new Overcoats, Reefers, Suits, Pants, Underwear, Shirts, Ties, Collars, Cuffs, Braces, Hats, Caps, Gloves, Mitts or anything to make men and Boys look well and feel comfortable in cold weather.

- MEN'S OVERCOATS, $4.00 to $12.00
MEN'S SUITS, $3.00 to $14.00
BOYS' OVERCOATS, $3.50 to $8.75
BOYS' SUITS, 75c to $9.50
BOYS' REEFERS at $1.75, $2.00, $2.75, $3.00, $3.50 to $4.75.

SUITS AND OVERCOATS TO ORDER $10.00 AND UP.

J. N. HARVEY, Men's and Boys' Clothier, 199 Union Street, Opera House Block

THE DOUKHOBORS.

The Mad November March of Sifton's Six Hundred.

Eager to be Persecuted and Willing to be Shot for Their Faith.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 7.—The Doukhobors were at Neudale, Man., last evening. A snow storm made their progress today unpleasant, but the men are sticking to their task in good shape, and desertions are remarkably few in number. They expect to arrive at Minnedosa tonight. The presence of a squad of mounted police at Portage la Prairie has excited comment. It is reported an attempt will be made to turn the marchers back by force, if necessary.

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—Joseph Elkinton, the leading Quaker of Philadelphia, is here. He has done more for the Doukhobors than any other man. Sifton, who is in a blue funk, has asked him to go to Manitoba to use his influence with the Spirit Wrestlers.

The following paragraphs are selected from many columns of description of the Doukhobor pilgrimage that appear in the Winnipeg papers of Nov. 4th.

At Binscarth next day, for lack of a better interlocutor, I was made chief spokesman for the citizens, my enquiries being prompted by many of the bystanders. I asked one of them named Konkin where he was going.

"We know not," he said, "we walk on each day we walk. Maybe Jesus come to us—some time, maybe."

He did not know how long they would walk. "Till you die?" I asked. "Yes, or till Jesus come."

"Are you not going back to your farms?"

At this question, which many understood, there was a general chorus of "No."

"Why don't you work?" enquired one of the crowd. "Do not work?" retorted Konkin. "Do we not walk many days for Jesus? You peoples eat, two, three meals each day. We eat what Jesus send. We pick the berries, we pick the fields. Is not that work? Yes, I think so, yes."

"But what good will it do?" asked another.

"You all say so, what good will it do? I say, Canadian very good people. American very good people—high," he lifted his head to indicate our superiority. "and Russian—the poor, the low," and he dropped his hand to the level of his knees to show his idea. "But Canadian, American, he work hard, he get much money—he no think of God. Six day he work, seven day he go to church—perhaps sometime. Now, we Doukhobor, we work for Jesus all time—all days of week, and all time till we die. We come to tell you not to forget Jesus. We walk far to tell all peoples, yes."

I passed on to ask why they left their wives and children. "Do you not love them?" I asked.

"Yes, we love them much. Our wives would come with us, but police take them. Much we are sorry, but the police, the police. We must walk, so we leave our wives."

"Are you never going back?"

"We cannot tell. We don't know."

"Who will keep your wives?"

"The police—they take them—they keep them, they feed them, God feed them."

"Why did you turn your cattle away?"

"Because Jesus says, 'The sheep are mine, the cattle are mine.' We give them back to God."

"But they would have starved?"

"No, no, the police they take them. They sell them."

"But Jesus Himself rode an ass when on earth?"

"Yes, yes; but you see the ass, is His—all the cattle His. They not ours. So we not use them."

And so the argument went on for nearly three-quarters of an hour. Whenever they were cornered up by scripture, "No, no, understand English very well," was their loophole of escape.

"You can do nothing with them," said Rev. J. N. F. Jeffries, of Winnipeg, who happened to be in town. "One might as well try to convince the side of a house."

After a stop of about an hour at Binscarth, the pilgrims started onward again. Just as the last of them was leaving the town, a trio which excited much pity, appeared. Two middle-aged men were assisting between them an aged man, who was completely exhausted. The march for Jesus had worn out his strength, and it looked as if he would soon complete his journey. So weak was he that he could not stand alone. Kind hearted villagers got him food, and endeavored to get him to remain and rest, but he insisted on going with the march. His friends helped him up and the three departed.

"If he die—well, he will go to Jesus," one of them said.

"He's cold; why don't you put your coat around him?" asked a citizen wearing a fur coat.

"Why don't you your coat?" queried the Douk, pointedly.

"Well, Jesus will keep you warm," said the white man.

"That's so," said the Doukhobor, and he gave his coat.

A mile east of Binscarth is Silver Creek, a wide and deep valley trenching through the prairie. It is one of the most beautiful spots in the province, and the view of the advancing host winding its slow sinuous way down its steep tree-clad sides, was a spectacle worth going far to see. At the little stream the pilgrims halted. Many bathed their faces. Then the party divided itself into two nearly equal portions, about fifteen feet apart. One of them started a psalm in which all joined reverently. Then another stepped forward and commenced the chanting of a creed or some verse from scripture, all as before repeating them with the leader. Then one party bowed three times, the foreheads touching the dust with each salutation; the other party doing likewise. This concluded their midway devotions.

COAL SCARCE.

Not Enough Anthracite to Supply the Demands.

A Different Story Told as Soon as the Elections Were Over.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Although coal companies and railroad officials say every effort is being made to supply this city with anthracite, it is stated that only half rations is reaching here, that is New York is receiving five per cent of the output against theoretical requirement of ten per cent. Dealers are now forced to admit their inability to supply the coal promised. A decided drop in the temperature during the past twenty-four hours has caused the shortage to be emphasized and predictions of a cold wave are adding to the fears of consumers.

IMPERIAL DEFENCE. Canadian Government Will Garrison Halifax and Esquimaux.

(Special to the Star.) TORONTO, Nov. 8.—The Globe's Ottawa special says: In a memorandum of the Canadian ministers with respect to imperial defence appears this statement: "Canada in the development of its own militia system will be found ready to respond to that desire. (Desire of British taxpayers) by taking up on itself some of the services in the dominion which have hitherto been borne by the imperial government."

This means that the dominion government is prepared to assume the expense of garrisoning Halifax and Esquimaux.

You still have an opportunity to participate in that great sale of black sateen undershirts which is going on at F. A. Dykeman & Co.'s. Over 110 dozen have been sold so far. Prices are fully one third below what you can buy equally as good skirts for in other stores.

AFTER TWENTY DAYS

Mysterious Disease Causes Death of Nellie Corcoran.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Nellie Corcoran, who for 20 days lay in a state of coma in St. Vincent's Hospital, died early today. Her case was an extremely puzzling one to medical practitioners throughout the city. The girl fell into the state of unconsciousness in the house where she was employed as a servant. At the hospital heroic efforts to determine the cause of her condition met with little success. Hundreds of physicians examined her and every known method was tried to awaken the sleeper, but with little success. At three o'clock she was aroused, and spoke a few words, saying she was sleepy, and again became unconscious. An autopsy will be performed by one of the city's leading physicians on an effort to solve the mysterious cause of the girl's death.

NOTABLE INSTITUTION

To Cost Nearly Half a Million—Mrs. Potter's Gift.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Architects are at work on plans for a great philanthropic institution on the lower east side, modeled after the Hull House in England, according to the American. The institution will be erected by the Alfred Corning Clark. According to the paper mentioned, Mrs. Potter will expend $250,000 in the building, the site of which will cost $200,000 more. There will be a kindergarten, a splendid library, music and reading rooms, a lecture hall and other departments suited to the moral and physical needs of all classes of the teeming east side population.

A sale of black silks is now going on at Dykeman's. Prices run from 50c. to $1.35 per yard. They include taffetas, tamesines, peau de soie, bengalines and satins.

WORLD-WIDE PRAYER.

Special Service to be Preached to Men in the City Churches.

Beginning tomorrow, a week of prayer for work among young men will be observed by the Young Men's Christian Association world over.

The year, it is said, has been one of progress the world over. In North America there are 100 more associations than a year ago, 23,000 more members, 35 more paid officers, 23 more buildings, and an increase of more than $2,000,000 in value of real property. Substantial growth is also shown in the railroad, student, army and navy, colored, boys' and foreign departments, while the educational, physical and Bible study work has developed, the last especially, in a marked manner.

HOW ERMINE ARE CAPTURED.

Perfect fur, of the delicate ermine at least, would be marred by the ordinary snare, so the trapper devises a cunning death for the ermine as the ermine devises when it darts up through the snow with its spear teeth clutched in the throat of a poor rabbit. Smearing his hunting knife with grease, he lays it across the track. The little ermine comes trotting in dots and dashes and gallops and dives to the knife. That greasy smell of meat it knows, but that frost-silvered bit of steel is something new. The knife is frosted like ice. The ermine has licked, so he licks the knife. But alas for the resemblance between ice and steel!

Ice turns to water under the warm tongue; steel turns to fire that blisters and holds the foolish little snout by his inquisitive tongue, a hopeless prisoner till the trapper comes. And, lest marauding wolverine or lynx should come first and gobble up the priceless ermine, the trapper comes soon. And that is the end of the ermine.—Leslie's Monthly.

THE DOUKHOBORS.

The Mad November March of Sifton's Six Hundred.

Eager to be Persecuted and Willing to be Shot for Their Faith.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 7.—The Doukhobors were at Neudale, Man., last evening. A snow storm made their progress today unpleasant, but the men are sticking to their task in good shape, and desertions are remarkably few in number. They expect to arrive at Minnedosa tonight. The presence of a squad of mounted police at Portage la Prairie has excited comment. It is reported an attempt will be made to turn the marchers back by force, if necessary.

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—Joseph Elkinton, the leading Quaker of Philadelphia, is here. He has done more for the Doukhobors than any other man. Sifton, who is in a blue funk, has asked him to go to Manitoba to use his influence with the Spirit Wrestlers.

The following paragraphs are selected from many columns of description of the Doukhobor pilgrimage that appear in the Winnipeg papers of Nov. 4th.

At Binscarth next day, for lack of a better interlocutor, I was made chief spokesman for the citizens, my enquiries being prompted by many of the bystanders. I asked one of them named Konkin where he was going.

"We know not," he said, "we walk on each day we walk. Maybe Jesus come to us—some time, maybe."

He did not know how long they would walk. "Till you die?" I asked. "Yes, or till Jesus come."

"Are you not going back to your farms?"

At this question, which many understood, there was a general chorus of "No."

"Why don't you work?" enquired one of the crowd. "Do not work?" retorted Konkin. "Do we not walk many days for Jesus? You peoples eat, two, three meals each day. We eat what Jesus send. We pick the berries, we pick the fields. Is not that work? Yes, I think so, yes."

"But what good will it do?" asked another.

"You all say so, what good will it do? I say, Canadian very good people. American very good people—high," he lifted his head to indicate our superiority. "and Russian—the poor, the low," and he dropped his hand to the level of his knees to show his idea. "But Canadian, American, he work hard, he get much money—he no think of God. Six day he work, seven day he go to church—perhaps sometime. Now, we Doukhobor, we work for Jesus all time—all days of week, and all time till we die. We come to tell you not to forget Jesus. We walk far to tell all peoples, yes."

I passed on to ask why they left their wives and children. "Do you not love them?" I asked.

"Yes, we love them much. Our wives would come with us, but police take them. Much we are sorry, but the police, the police. We must walk, so we leave our wives."

"Are you never going back?"

"We cannot tell. We don't know."

"Who will keep your wives?"

"The police—they take them—they keep them, they feed them, God feed them."

"Why did you turn your cattle away?"

"Because Jesus says, 'The sheep are mine, the cattle are mine.' We give them back to God."

"But they would have starved?"

"No, no, the police they take them. They sell them."

"But Jesus Himself rode an ass when on earth?"

"Yes, yes; but you see the ass, is His—all the cattle His. They not ours. So we not use them."

And so the argument went on for nearly three-quarters of an hour. Whenever they were cornered up by scripture, "No, no, understand English very well," was their loophole of escape.

"You can do nothing with them," said Rev. J. N. F. Jeffries, of Winnipeg, who happened to be in town. "One might as well try to convince the side of a house."

After a stop of about an hour at Binscarth, the pilgrims started onward again. Just as the last of them was leaving the town, a trio which excited much pity, appeared. Two middle-aged men were assisting between them an aged man, who was completely exhausted. The march for Jesus had worn out his strength, and it looked as if he would soon complete his journey. So weak was he that he could not stand alone. Kind hearted villagers got him food, and endeavored to get him to remain and rest, but he insisted on going with the march. His friends helped him up and the three departed.

"If he die—well, he will go to Jesus," one of them said.

"He's cold; why don't you put your coat around him?" asked a citizen wearing a fur coat.

"Why don't you your coat?" queried the Douk, pointedly.

"Well, Jesus will keep you warm," said the white man.

"That's so," said the Doukhobor, and he gave his coat.

A mile east of Binscarth is Silver Creek, a wide and deep valley trenching through the prairie. It is one of the most beautiful spots in the province, and the view of the advancing host winding its slow sinuous way down its steep tree-clad sides, was a spectacle worth going far to see. At the little stream the pilgrims halted. Many bathed their faces. Then the party divided itself into two nearly equal portions, about fifteen feet apart. One of them started a psalm in which all joined reverently. Then another stepped forward and commenced the chanting of a creed or some verse from scripture, all as before repeating them with the leader. Then one party bowed three times, the foreheads touching the dust with each salutation; the other party doing likewise. This concluded their midway devotions.

NEW STYLES IN MEN'S WINTER HATS.

Including the Black and Grey Rough Hats, so popular this season—$1.50 and $2.00.

J. & A. ANDERSON. 19 Charlotte Street.

FINE BOOT AND SHOE REPAIRING.

NO FANCY PRICES.

- Men's Soled and heeled - - 75c.
Boys' Soled and heeled - - 50c.
Women's Soled and heeled - 40c.

By employing five shoemakers, it enables us to turn out work promptly. O'Sullivan or Velvet Rubber Heel put on while you wait.

W. A. SINCLAIR, 65 BRUSSELS ST.

IN A QUANDARY

To know which is the best laundry to take his linen to a man often finds himself till he asks his friends, whose linen looks faultless in its exquisite finish and color, who tells him that the one and only place to take it if he wants complete satisfaction, unrivalled work and prompt service is the GLOBE LAUNDRY.

50 Flat (white) pieces washed and ironed for 50c.

25-27 Waterloo St.

WILLIAM PETERS, DEALER IN LEATHER AND HIDES.

Shoemakers' Findings, Plastering Hair, Tanners' and Carriers' Tools, Lamplack, etc. 266 Union Street

VERY CHOICE Medium Codfish.

JAMES PATTERSON, 19 and 20 South Market Wharf, 8 City Market.

A REMARKABLE REMEDY well proven during the last quarter of the 19th Century and now more highly appreciated than ever as a cure for stomach, Nerve and Constitutional Diseases. Send for circulars to C. K. SHORT, St. John, N. B.

PRIVATE LESSONS IN SHORTHAND.

(Pitman System) GIVEN BY MISS F. BURNHAM, For terms, &c., apply any evening at 95 PRINCESS STREET, ST. JOHN.

EMPEROR WILLIAM Given a Hearty Welcome on Arrival at Port Victoria.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The German Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with Emperor William on board, accompanied by the escorting German cruisers and flotilla of British torpedo boats, reached Port Victoria at 8 o'clock this morning. The arrival of King Edward's nephew was made the occasion of an imposing naval display. All the warships at Sheerness were dressed, their crews manned the decks and the usual salute welcomed the imperial visitor, who was perambulating the promenade deck of the Hohenzollern.