GREAT BRITAIN PEACE DISTURBER.

So Says a Foolish German Prince.

Says the Foreign Policy Has Been to Make Trouble Between Others - Book Approved by German Press

(Special to the Star.) BERLIN, Oct. 23.-A violent attack upon Great Britain is made in a book written by Dr. Henry Oberwinder, which is just out. Were it not that the author is taken seriously by his readers the tirade might be regarded as amusing. But the condition of affairs is extremely shaky so far as the peace of the world is concerned. The leading Conservative journal, the "Deutsche Tageszeitung," recommends all Germans to read the book attentively.

Dr. Oberwinder begins with the declaration that Great Britain is a disturber of peace throughout the world, and then proceeds to enumerate a few of the troubles which she says she has purposely created for her own purposes. Among the formidable category are the French Revolution of 1789, all of the revolutionary troubles of 1848, the Polish rebellion, the Crimean war, the Russo-German war of 1870 to promote British interests at the expense of France and Germany, the entire Dreyfus scandal, all native rebellions in German colonies, all the Balkan countries, all the Boxer troubles, and last but not least the Russo-Japanese war.

The author states that England has three powerful allies at work everywhere—the press, gold and cables. Liberalism, British as well as German, is said to be alike. They have continued the same foreign policy of reckless brutality towards all other nations.

As examples of British intrigue the author declares that British newspapers concocted the story of an anarchist plot at Alexandria to prevent the British consul from leaving the city, and that the British government sent the Russian court the author says that the Czarina counterfeited the order given by the Czar during the Boer war to send a Russian expedition to the Red Sea.

Again the American press is said to be absolutely dominated by the British, and the author says that the American press is dominated by the British press, and that the American press is dominated by the British press.

The new corporation cup, which was shot for each year by the St. John Rifle Club will soon be completed. The new cup is a splendid one, being many times as large as the last one, which after many years of competition was won in 1904 by E. S. Farrer, tinsmith, of Murray street.

The new cup which is un-rimmed with two handles and an ebony base, bears the city arms on one side and on the reverse the words "Presented by the Corporation of St. John, N. B."

St. Stephen's church services will be resumed in the church tomorrow at the usual hours, 11 a. m. and 7 p. m., conducted by Rev. J. W. Cunningham, A. M., B. D., of Toronto.

Deputy Chief Jenkins found a pair of gold rimmed spectacles in a case on Charlotte street. The owner can have the same on application to the station.

Corwin, to state that this ship will not be open to visitors today, but all who wish to inspect the warships will be admitted on board the Berwick this afternoon. On board the Cornwall this afternoon the city militia officers are being entertained.

DEATH: SHORBRIDGE—At St. John, West, on October 22, James Edward, infant son of Mildred and Mildred Shorbridge.

THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION HAS DEFINITELY BEGUN.

Parties Unite to Form Government Independent of the Czar.

Panic Rules in St. Petersburg--Revolutionists Determined on Bloodshed--No Trains, No Mails, No Telegrams, No Papers.

MOSCOW, Oct. 23.—At a meeting of delegates representing the different political parties, it has been decided to unite in the establishment of a government and to act independently of the Imperial authorities.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—Telegraphic communication with Moscow is now interrupted. PANIC IN ST. PETERSBURG. ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—A condition bordering upon panic prevails here today. Business is completely suspended. Soldiers are everywhere in the streets and bloodshed on a large scale is feared.

The last railroad link connecting the capital with the outside world was broken last night when the Finland railroad discontinued service between St. Petersburg and the Finnish border, but communication by water is still open. The cable is still operating, although the post office is closed and the city newspapers to appear today were the official messenger and the Army organs, which printed directions for the military. The former contained a letter from General Treppoff, who is in command of the St. Petersburg garrison and addressed to the provisional governors, instructing them to allow public meetings for the discussion of political questions and interpret the law liberally under Count Witte's direction. The government resists that suppression by arms in the tremendously excited state of the country would be fatal and meetings are allowed as stated. Further meetings at the University have been prohibited, and buildings set aside for meetings in St. Petersburg and General Treppoff has instructed the governors to select buildings in all the cities.

BULLETINS OF REVOLUTION. ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—Much alarm is shown at some of the embassies for the safety of foreign subjects. ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—Serious rioting occurred at Reval last night. This morning the city is ablaze. The theatre and spirit shops are burning. TIFLIS, Oct. 23.—There is a general strike of every class here. Business is at a standstill. The population is nervous.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—Telephonic communication in this city and with Moscow has ceased. ST. PETERSBURG is entirely cut off from Moscow.

L. P. FISHER'S WILL FOUNDS HOSPITAL, LIBRARY, COLLEGE, TRADE SCHOOLS.

(Special to the Star.) WOODSTOCK, N. B., Oct. 23.—The Lewis P. Fisher will was proved yesterday afternoon, the probate value being $47,000. $2,000 per annum is left to the widow, the provision he made for the benefit of the house, repairs, insurance, etc., to come out of the estate. If she does not die as a widow she gets $200 extra per annum for a residence. Annuities of six hundred dollars are given to six children, and the balance to his widow, Mrs. C. F. Garden and F. H. J. Dibble.

There are other bequests. After the death of the widow the house goes to the public hospital board to be used by the military. The furniture is divided of the hospital and $10,000 is also devoted to that purpose. $20,000 is left for the establishment and maintenance of a public library and $40,000 as a memorial to erect a school building on the grounds where the college school building now is if possible or any site on the north side of Melnikowsky with a special wish that the provision be made for night school. Land is left for a public park. If the residue of the estate does not exceed $70,000 it is divided among the three objects of a public hospital, library and park. It is noted that the amount it goes to technical schools, including an art school, and if desirable, agriculture may be taught in these schools.

Requests are left to the Methodist church, the Salvation Army and to every pastor in Woodstock $25, to be distributed at Christmas among the poor. The executors of the will are A. B. Connell and F. H. J. Dibble.

BURGLARS DROPPED SAFE FROM WINDOW

Then Carried It Away With $10,000 in Gems. Owner Returns Home to Find Visitors Had Rolled Chest to Second Story Window and Let It Fall

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—While the servants in the household of Edward Hale Graves, who lives in Scotland Road, South Orange, N. J., were on the first floor of the house last evening burglars took a safe weighing 200 pounds and containing about $10,000 worth of jewelry, rolled it to a window, 'dropped' it out and made way with it. Despite police guard at every road within an hour, they escaped.

Mr. Graves is a broker of No. 29 Broad street. His residence in the fashionable Montross section of the city is one of the handsomest in the community. It stands a short distance from the street, and there are other houses adjoining and across the road.

Because of suburban burglars some time ago Mr. Graves bought the safe, which the dealer assured him was absolutely burglar proof. He said it would take a burglar hours to make a scratch on the lock. Mr. Graves himself said that it did look formidable and that sometimes even he had trouble in getting the door open. It was kept in the bedroom on the second floor, and with perfect confidence Mrs. Graves deposited in it much of her jewelry, to which her husband added many important papers.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves were in the city yesterday and went home soon after seven o'clock. It is supposed that the robbery was committed some time after six o'clock, as it could scarcely have been done in the daytime. After six o'clock all the servants were down on the first floor.

When Mr. and Mrs. Graves reached home and went to dress for dinner they found a window open in Mrs. Graves' room, and as the lights were turned on, it was seen that there were muddy footprints all over the room. The foot tracks led from the window to a dresser, the drawers of which had been broken open. There was nothing taken from them, however.

When the tracks ran to the corner where the safe had stood. The safe was heavy enough to tax the energies of a strong man who tried to carry it even a short distance, and it is assumed that there were two men. The safe had been rolled or carried across the room and then dropped out of the window. A deep hole in the ground shows where it fell. They had a horse and wagon waiting.

The police were notified of the robbery and men were posted at all the railroad stations, but the burglars probably drove off somewhere in the country. Mr. Graves said last night that he could not tell what was stolen until he had had time to make up an inventory with Mrs. Graves, but the value of the jewelry might reach $10,000.

PRINCESS ENA OF BATTENBURG Has Won the Royal Favor—Daughter of Prince Louis' Brother.

(Special to the Star.) MADRID, Oct. 23.—The latest addition to the prospective brides of King Alfonso is Princess Ena of Battenburg upon whom his will majesty is said to look with particular favor. The Princess Ena is a daughter of the late Prince Heinrich Morris of Battenburg who married the Princess Beatrice, youngest daughter of Queen Victoria and who was killed in the Ashanti expedition.

Princess Ena of Battenburg has won the royal favor—daughter of Prince Louis' brother.

PRINCESS ENA OF BATTENBURG. She was born in Balmoral October 24, 1887, and is the first royal child born north of the Tweed for three hundred years. Princess Ena is a modern girl, is a fearless horsewoman, drives her own motor, as well as has a pony cart; speaks several languages fluently and is almost as good a musician as her mother.

The prospective Queen of Spain is a piece of Prince Louis of Battenburg whom St. John welcomed on Thursday and whose reception in Frederickton is described on another page. Prince Louis and Prince Heinrich were brothers.
