

TRACTOR AND CONTRACTOR.

These four illustrations are eloquent of what can be done in one season under the new "tractor and contractor" plan of farming. No. 1 shows part of 200 acres waste land in Lancashire, England, as seen in May, 1917. A firm of produce merchants took it over and farmed it. The second illustration shows the military tractors ploughing up the soil; No. 3, a corps of

