

"I have here the history of market prices written by our Federal Reserve Bank."

"Won't you take this interpretation of the article and while he did not give MacIntosh credit for being father of responsible government, he consistently placed him in as an advocate of the movement. In doing so, too, he was justifying a rapid withdrawal of support following the line taken by your

Mr. Justice Britton—"Apparently in father in his history?"

Mr. Shepley then took up the article in the Standard which was headed "The South writes that later on Dr. Mackenzie's 'atrocity of responsible government.'" "Then do you find fault with Dr. LeShay for following your father?" "I have no objection to him copying 'Or paraphrasing'" "No."

MACKENZIE ADMITS FAULT.

Mr. Shepley referred to another portion of the history written by the

Mr. Shepley referred to another portion of the history written by the late he came to share the duties of his late secretary, in which Mackay's husband, "She inspired with courage, the last eleven years earlier me that the book stated "All with whom she though the violent movements in converted by her entire freedom from which I and many others were at- fear." Mr. Mackay advised her to leave as well as successful, that success and Mr. Mackay accompanied her deeply injured the people of Canada, ed to Buffalo. On his way he was arrested. It deprived millions of people from a breach of the neutrality law Europe of a home upon this continent, of the United States, giving bail for his escape upon conditions which, though many hundreds of thousands have accepted to accept it, some accept continues, "that he returned to Canada. I am sensible of the errors Navy Island where he remained uncommitted during that period, but Remondel announced his intention to return to Canada, but you then to evacuate it on the 13th." "That is in accordance with fact," stated those views, and your father's history" asked Mr. "I believe it expressed his conscientious belief."

1

MacKenzie King, former Minister of Labor, a grandson of William Lyon MacKenzie, was the second and last witness called by plaintiff. He stated that he had known Dr. Le Sueur since 1909. Prior to Dr. Le Sueur's death, King said, he had many conversations with him in reference to the times of William Lyon MacKenzie.

Guerrant and I had a long conversation

"You would not expect him to make any other deductions than those justified by the records?"

"I would expect he would take the positive rather than the hypothetical as his premises."

"Then as to Mackenzie's complaint about the confiscation of his property, he has been excluded from the conversation?"

"I was indelibly impressed on my mind," continued Mr. King, "because LaSueur spoke very frankly of what he thought of the responsible government period."

BOND HUMB WAS THE MAN.

"There are three things I remember distinctly. First of all he said that Mackenzie had impeded rather than his property at any time?"

When he came back the mention of it to me in that way it did not affect our friendship because I was interested in hearing La Sœur's views. He thought that the Family Compact was the constructive element and Mackenzie the destructive element. The third thing surrounded me because I had not even heard that even the Family Compact made the claim that was that Francis Ross Hild was the man who ought to see the credit for man who ought to get the credit for responsible government."

100

National Archives of Canada
Archives nationales du Canada

001447