

Englishmen Leaving the Old Country for Canada

Will find it to their advantage to keep this journal in their possession. On pages 19 and 20 will be found the locality of the Lodges of the Sons of England, extend all over the Dominion. When you reach your destination look up the nearest lodge to your place of residence, and at once join your fellow countrymen. You will there meet brother Englishmen who have spent years in this country and who will gladly impart to you their knowledge and be happy to extend to you the right hand of fellowship. Not only will the Sons of England assist you but the members of St. George's society will do all in their power also.

The advantages of identifying yourself with one of these societies are manifold, they foster a loving memory of old England, care for each other in sickness and adversity, and bring into organized union true Englishmen, to maintain the liberties and integrities of the British Empire.

These societies extend all over Canada, cast your lot in with them, thereby swelling the grand roll of those bound together in fraternal sympathies.

"A union of hearts and a union of hands,
A union none can sever;
A union of homes and a union of lands,
And the flag, BRITISH UNION, forever."

The officers of any of these lodges will be pleased to give any information.

It Pays

TO issue neat attractive printing. It pays to catch the best class of trade—the money spending trade. You can't catch money spenders with penurious looking printing. You must use attractive work—not necessarily expensive—that will catch your customers' eye and cause him to read it.

A word to the Wise.

There are other railroads, but if you can get a ticket via the New York Central you know you will have not only the best service and make the fastest time, but when you reach your journey's end you will find yourself in the centre of the city to which you travel, and having passed over the most comfortable route you will vow never to go by any other.

"A word to the wise is better than an unbridged dictionary to one who can't read."
