at the museum the other day. I wish you could have went. We saw one collection of relice that was a perfect "rondyview" of curiosities: it is so interesting that I am going to write a "memorial" about it. So you play tennis, do you? Well, since this place has become such a "reservoir" for the tennis players, I want to learn the game so much, and I am sure I could learn in a little time under your intelligent "intuition." And so she kept on in her linguistic gymnastics until there was not a dry eye or an unwrinkled face in the vicinity. And all the time she looked as pretty as a peach, in white gown of China silk, and with the sweetest smiles imaginable.

A common sight on the streets of Victoria and an exasperating one, is a delivery man or driver abusing his horse. A merchant who has such a man should lose no time in dispensing with his services. A man must understand the the disposition of his horse and be governed accordingly, and it is ridiculous to expect an animal to do your bidding so long as it cannot un-derstand what you want done. Whipping and abusing a dumb creature does not help matters.

A Government street merchant said the other day: "How popular in business circles is the man who always pays his bills promptly without quibble or delay. Everybody wants to do business with him. He can buy goods cheaper and secure prompter delivery than those who do not follow his example." A nimble farthing is better than a slow penny, and if the merchant gets prompt returns on his goods he can turn the money over rapidly and with largely increased profits. If returns are slow about getting around he loses the use of this money for a time, hence loses a profit. All business men recognize the value of ready cash in trade, even though their credit be the best. Ready cash always buys goods at a discount.

Before closing, will the brethren please join with me in singing the following appropriate selection from Herrick's Litany:

When the artless doctor sees Not one hope, but of his fees, And his skill runs on the lees, Sweet Spirit, comfort me.

When his potion and his pill, His, or none, or little skill, Meet for nothing but to kill, Sweet Spirit, comfort me.

We parted in the streets of Ispahan, ped my camel at the city gate Why did I stop? I left my heart behind.

I heard the sighing of the garden palms, I saw the roses burning up with love, I saw thee not; thou wert no longer there.

We parted in the streets of Ispahan, A moon has passed since that unhappy day; It seems an age; the days are long as years.

I send thee gifts by every caravan. I send the flasks of attar, spices, pearls, I write thee loving songs on golden scrolls.

I meet the caravans when they return, "What news?" I ask. The drivers shake their heads.

We parted in the streets of Ispahan. -Richard Henry Stoddard.

Turkish Rug and Carpet Cleaning Co.,

85 YATES ST., VICTORIA, B. C.

Carpets taken up, Dusted and Relaid if preferred.

W. FURNIVAL, Manager.

We respectfully call your attention to our new cleaning process, the only method in existence which will take out ink Spots, Grease Spots, Paint, Coal Dust, Lamp Black, Soot and Stains out of Carpets. That carpets cleaned by this process will remain clean as long as a new carpet, has been fully tested; that it is absolutely MOTH PROOF and will restore the colors; that it is a disinfectant, rendering the carpets clean and healthy when sickness or disease has been in the room. We ask a candid investigation of our work. Our process of cleaning is no longer an experiment, but a demonstrated success. It raises the nap and leaves it soft like new, and restores the lustre of their original brilliancy. It covers everything and is a perfect cleaner. Drop us a card and we will be pleased to call and show samples and process.
