The Charlvarl.
When Joseph James Kerplunk was married, the village cut-ups all broke loose, and all the junk in town they carried to his abode, and raised the deuce. They shot off guns and banged tin boilers until the bridegroom, sore distressed, appeared and begged those bughouse toilers to chase themselves and let him rest. And then, to still their foolish ravings, and get some peace for self and bride, he had to blow his hard earned savings for beer, and other things beside. Next day he said: "Though I should tarry for ages in this world of men, you bet your life I'll never marry a female woman e'er again. A bridegroom's treated like a sinner by all these sporty village guys, whereas he should be called a winner, the centre of admiring eyes. And men will shy at matrimony, old maids will haunt this dreary land, until these sports of conduct phoney are rounded up by law and canned. Both men and maids are sad and lonely, they haven't got the nerve to wed; they'd marry twice a year if only the noisy cut-ups all were dead."

An investment that guarantees good returns is a year's subscription to The Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal. The Family Herald and Weekly Star for a whole year and the beautiful picture "Home Again" all for one dollar is the very best dollar's worth that can be had. Postmaster Robb Dead.
Mr. A. W. Robb, postmaster of Walkerton, died on Wednesday morning of last week. Mr. Robb had not been well for some time, being bothered with heart disease. He was at one time Editor of the Chesley Enterprise and three years ago when he was appointed postmaster was Editor of the Telescope. Thirty years ago he was on the staff of the Walkerton Public School. In 1904 he was an unsuccessful candidate for parliamentary honors and for many years he was Justice of the Peace. Mr. Robb has been a useful citizen in the community and his death will be generally regretted.

A Correction.
Rev. J. Ferguson has called our attention to an error which appeared in last week's issue of this paper. The item referred to the meeting of the Dominion Alliance in the Presbyterian church, and stated that the arrangements which were made to hold the said meeting in the Methodist church were called off at the last minute. The first proposal of the alliance was to hold a morning service in the Presbyterian church, and an evening service in the Methodist church to which Mr. Ferguson consented. It was later found necessary to cancel the morning service in the Presbyterian church, owing to prior arrangements having been made for that day, and the alliance then sought to arrange a meeting in the Methodist church in the evening. These arrangements, however, says Mr. Ferguson, were not completed, and consequently could not be called off as stated in last issue.

Mr. Walter Renwick who purchased the Teskey farm recently is now the biggest farmer in these parts. Wat is a hustler.

Mr. Wm. Edwards has started the sawing and chopping mill at Belmore. The burg is a busy place these days. With the mill man, the wagon maker, two good general stores and two hustling blacksmiths, the little town is booming these times and the public find great satisfaction dealing with our business men of Belmore.

We would be glad to hear from our Lakelet correspondent. We wonder what has happened? They must be very quiet people there.

We noticed an article in the last week's issue regarding Thos. Bennett's steed. Now, I think, Mr. Editor, it is very strange that any person would allow a poor helpless beast to fall into the hands of a man that would treat it so cruelly. It is high time that matters of this kind should be looked after by the Humane Society, and offenders punished as they so richly deserve.
