The only objection, so far as we are aware, ever made against the installation of water works is that of the expense. The situation of St. Andrews (which makes it one of the most attractive towns on the con timent of North America), coupled with its sparse population, creates a problem for those who have to consider the way and means of furnishing the desired im provement. It is said (the Town Survey or can correct us if we are wrong) the there is about 13 miles of streets in the Town, and that on some of the stree there are not 13 houses. Certainly it is a Town of magnificent distances as well as of magnificent climate, situation, salubrity and all the rest of it, ad infinitum.

Ought to 'ave sunk, but she couldn't if she tried. An' it was "'Ome, dearie, 'ome, eh, she'll bring us 'ome some day, Rollin' both rails under in the old sweet way,

If she'd been built for sinkin' she'd have done it long ago; She's tried her best in every sea an' all the winds that blow In hurricanes at Galveston, pamperos off the Plate. An' icy Cape 'Orn snorters which freeze you while you wait

She's been ashore in Vallipo, Algoa Bay likewise, She's broke her screw-shaft off Cape Race an' stove 'er bows in ice She's lost 'er deck-load overboard an' 'alf 'er bulwarks too, An' she's come in with fire aboard, smokin' like a flue But its "'Ome, dearie, 'ome, oh, she gets there just the same,

Reekin', leakin', 'alf a wreck, scarred an' stove an' lame ;

Patch 'er up with putty, lads, tie 'er up with twine, The resurrection packet of the Salt 'Orse Line!" A bit west the Scillies the sky was stormy red, "To-night we'll lift Saint Agnes Light if all goes well," we said, But we met a slinkin' submarine as dark was comin' down, An' she ripped our rotten plates away an' left us there to drown.

A bit west the Scillies we thought her sure to sink, There was 'alf a gale blowin', the sky was black as ink, The seas begun to mount an' the wind begun to thunder, An' every wave that come, oh, we thought 'twould roll 'er under. But it was "'Ome, dearie, 'ome, an' she'll get there after all,

This year, next year - rain or storm or shine-The resurrection packet of the Salt 'Orse Line!' We thought about the bulk-'eads-we wondered if they'd last An' the cook 'e started groanin' an' repentin' of the past;

Steamin' when she can steam, an' when she can't she'll crawl

But thinkin' an' groanin', oh, they wouldn't shift the water, So we got the pumps a workin' same as British seamen oughter. If she'd been a crack liner she'd 'ave gone like a stone, An' why she didn't sink is a thing as can't be known; Our arms was made of lead, our backs was split with achin

But we pumped 'er into port just before the dawn was breakin'!" For it was "'Ome, dearie, 'onie, oh, she'll bring us 'ome some day,-Don't you 'ear the pumps a clankin' in the old sweet way ?— This year, next year—rain or storm or shine— She's the resurrection packet of the Salt 'Orse Line!"
