WEDDINGS TRUE-DULL. WOODSTOCK, N. B., July 17.—One of the most anxiously looked forward to events which the town has witnessed this year, took place in the Main street Baptist church this afternoon at four o'clock, when Rev. Dr. Keirstein in the presence of a large and fashionable audience, performed the ceremony which united Miss Lella Augusta True, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. True, and LeBaron Bull man and wife. The church was beautifully decorated with cut and potted plants, and a very well known. In her younger days she was a nurse and was engaged with many St. John families. She is survived by her sister, Mrs. Murphy. Heart trouble was the cause of death.

HEARD A MURDER AT THE TELEPHONE. LOWELL, Mass., July 17.—Hearing a murder over a telephone was the surprising experience of Bernard J. Gately, a constable, who heard the screams and the shot when Mrs. Mary A. McBride, a milliner, was fatally attacked in her office this afternoon. In her millinery shop at No. 229 Dutton street, before her helpless employes, Mrs. McBride was shot down by a man, who rushed in, fired a revolver at her and escaped. The woman is at the St. John Hospital, where she is not expected to live. She regained consciousness long enough to say: "John Kelley shot me."

The constable who had the remarkable experience was some distance away at his office in the Central Building. He called the milliner by telephone regarding a legal matter. The voice at the other end of the wire answered: "This is Mrs. McBride, and I refer you to my attorney, Daniel J. Donahue."

Then the constable heard a scuffle and loud cries, "My God, don't shoot me! Don't shoot me!" Then he heard the shouting over the telephone a revolver shot, followed by a woman's moaning, which grew fainter, until all was still. Gately was paralyzed for a moment at the unusual sounds over the wire, but gathering his senses, rushed for the millinery store. He found Mrs. McBride lying unconscious with an ugly wound over her right eye. In one corner was Miss Vanasse, the milliner's assistant, faint from the experience and moaning that Mrs. McBride had been killed. The assistant explained to the constable that she had seen a man who was madly in love with the married woman. Kelley was found near the scene of the shooting and was arrested charged with attempt to murder. He refused to make any statement.

GIRL TEN YEARS TOO LONG IN PRISON. MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 17.—The legislature is asked to appropriate a sum of money sufficient to pay for work accomplished in the penitentiary by Rhena Rivers, a negro girl, who died serving out a twenty year term when the girl died in the penitentiary twenty months. The clerk of the sentencing court by mistake changed the word "months" to "years," and the young negro died just before completion of her term.

None were wiser regarding the length of the term until the penitentiary, when the girl died in the penitentiary. The strange part of it, according to the officials, is that the mistake was never discovered. The girl served ten years more than her sentence called for. After working at the penitentiary for the girl died in the penitentiary and endured the hardships as did other criminals. Because of her good conduct in the penitentiary she had been made a "trustee" and the general reduction of sentence because of good conduct had almost terminated her sentence when she was stricken with typhoid fever and died.

REV. W. G. COREY. Rev. W. G. Corey passed away at his home in Leicheston, Mass., Monday, July 15, after a long illness of consumption.

MR. COREY was born in Canada, N. B., Sept. 14, 1864, and was ordained to the ministry, being pastor of the Baptist Church in Chipman, Queens Co., during pastorate in Bellisle, Jacksonville and the Cambridge Baptist Church; also Marlon, N. C. In 1899, Mr. Corey went to North Springfield, Vt., in response to a call to the First Baptist Church, where he remained from there to Durfield Centre, N. H., which was his last pastorate.

For his first wife he married Mina Corey, daughter of Deacon George Corey of Jacksonville, his second wife being Alice Munroe, teacher in the N. B. public schools, and daughter of the late G. A. Munroe, Newcastle. The last four years of Mr. Corey's life were years of intense suffering, which he bore without a murmur. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Samuel Woodbury conducting the service. The church was profusely decorated with flowers. A wreath of 43 roses (representing his age) was a gift of his neighbors and friends in the Baptist Church. A quartette, comprising Mrs. W. E. Bridgman, Mrs. Cook, J. B. Adkins and W. Grover Snow, sang several selections.

The bereaved widow and children have the deep sympathy of a host of friends in Vermont, New Hampshire and New Brunswick. Mr. Corey was laid to rest in the Woodlawn cemetery.

MRS. ELIZA DUNLOP. The death took place Wednesday of Mrs. Eliza Dunlop, widow of the late James Dunlop, in the 87th year of her age, at the residence of her son, George Dunlop, White street. The deceased is survived by three sons, Thomas, Montreal; Georges of this city and James of Sydney, N. S.

DRAGGED BY HORSE THROUGH WIRE FENCE. MONCTON, July 16.—Arthur H. Steeves at Irishtown this morning sustained severe injuries through being stepped on by a horse and dragged by the animal through a wire fence. Steeves was unloading lumber when the horses became detached from the wagon and ran over him, one of the animals stepping on the man's chest. He held to the reins and was dragged through a fence, suffering internal injuries, while the horse's foot caused a bad bruise on his chest. He was brought to Moncton and six stitches were placed in a severe scalp wound and his other injuries attended to. He will remain here a few days.

While driving in the vicinity of Wright's mills, near Salisbury, yesterday, Dr. R. A. Botsford of this city encountered a huge black bear. The animal from a distance looked like a cow, but on approaching nearer the Moncton physician found the animal to be a black bear of large proportions. He was apparently harmless and passed quietly along the road.

Nickel theatres are proving a great success in Moncton. The first one opened about a month ago and proved so good an attraction that a second is about to be started.

SUPPORTED DROWNING GIRL SWAM FOR

Heroic Rescue by One of the Columbia's Passengers—Victims Sang Hymns as They Went to Death

PORTLAND, Ogn, July 25.—Miss Maybelle Watson, of Berkeley, California, the 18-year-old heroine, who supported a drowning woman for two hours after the wreck of the steamship Columbia, was one of the passengers arriving here on the George Welder, Miss Watson, with three companions, succeeded in entering a life boat, but it had hardly been lowered when the Columbia sank, the occupants being thrown into the water.

"When I came to the surface," said Miss Watson, "some persons were singing 'Nearer My God to Thee,' and other hymns. I never swam in my life before, but somehow I had confidence enough to try. I had gone but a little way when a woman rose beside me and caught me around the neck. I had to support her with one arm and swim with the other. Several men pushed up but would offer no assistance. I struggled along as best I could until I was picked up more than two hours after the collision by third officer Hawse and his boat. I insisted that he take the woman in first, which he did, and soon had me out of the water. The woman whose life was saved was Miss Emma Griggs, of Cleveland, Ohio."

DEATHS REV. W. G. COREY. Rev. W. G. Corey passed away at his home in Leicheston, Mass., Monday, July 15, after a long illness of consumption.

For his first wife he married Mina Corey, daughter of Deacon George Corey of Jacksonville, his second wife being Alice Munroe, teacher in the N. B. public schools, and daughter of the late G. A. Munroe, Newcastle. The last four years of Mr. Corey's life were years of intense suffering, which he bore without a murmur. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Samuel Woodbury conducting the service. The church was profusely decorated with flowers. A wreath of 43 roses (representing his age) was a gift of his neighbors and friends in the Baptist Church. A quartette, comprising Mrs. W. E. Bridgman, Mrs. Cook, J. B. Adkins and W. Grover Snow, sang several selections.

The bereaved widow and children have the deep sympathy of a host of friends in Vermont, New Hampshire and New Brunswick. Mr. Corey was laid to rest in the Woodlawn cemetery.

"I see that some of our scientists claim that death is largely a matter of habit, depending upon thought and all that," he said. "Nonsense," she replied. "Did you ever know any one who was in the habit of dying?"

DRAGGED BY HORSE THROUGH WIRE FENCE. MONCTON, July 16.—Arthur H. Steeves at Irishtown this morning sustained severe injuries through being stepped on by a horse and dragged by the animal through a wire fence. Steeves was unloading lumber when the horses became detached from the wagon and ran over him, one of the animals stepping on the man's chest. He held to the reins and was dragged through a fence, suffering internal injuries, while the horse's foot caused a bad bruise on his chest. He was brought to Moncton and six stitches were placed in a severe scalp wound and his other injuries attended to. He will remain here a few days.

While driving in the vicinity of Wright's mills, near Salisbury, yesterday, Dr. R. A. Botsford of this city encountered a huge black bear. The animal from a distance looked like a cow, but on approaching nearer the Moncton physician found the animal to be a black
