THE SITUATION

The assassination of the Premier of Austria, finds a place in a war summary for the reason that the opinion quite generally prevails, in the Old Land at any rate that his removal is the culmination of a growing desire on the part of many in Francis Joseph's kingdom, to see the government freed from the clique pandering to the interests of Germany.

additional interchange of trade between the nations now fighting side by side for the salvation of the world from Prussian dominance. That is a prospect of inspiring significance, and should act as a clarion call to the manufacturers and workers of the allied powers for the utmost exertion of output in the days that will follow the coming peace.

Far seeing Germans quite realize that the Fatherland will be largely ostracised, commercially, at the close of hostilities, and they are talking of a commercial pact between Germany, Austria-Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria. The last three, for a very lengthy period will be in a practically bankrupt condition, and even without that feature, no such alliance would begin to make up the trade which the Kaiserites have lost through their insensate military lust.
