HANTSPORT ITEMS

The following extracts from a letter from Mr. J. Forsyth Smith, Canadian Fruit Commissioner in England, shows that the Hantsport Fruit Co. is not satisfied with an inferior or average position on the English Market with its fruit, and believes that a "Top Notch" pack, together with an attractive label, is bound to bring such results as this letter shows. It is all the more pleasing to the Hantsport Fruit Company because they are the Pioneers in the use of the Lithograph Barrel label in N. S. and apple men everywhere were sceptical as to the practical use of it.

Liverpool, March 1st, 1923
Hantsport Fruit Co. Ltd.
Dear Sirs, I have just returned from a visit to . . . where I saw some of your apples with their very attractive label, and had an opportunity of discussing, particularly with the trade, what they thought of this label and also of your pack. I am sure you will be gratified to learn, that your pack is very highly regarded on the . . . market, and does indeed appear to be making quite a name for itself, securing, in many cases, appreciable premium values. You may remember, that when you asked me early in the season about using the Lithograph Label, while I did not discourage it my pronouncement in its favour was not very strong. The general principle is undoubtedly that it is advisable to render as conspicuous as possible any deserving product, "but it must be deserving". Now your Lithograph Labels are practically unique in barrel apples, and if your pack was inferior or bad, this would be a disadvantage, as it would furnish the buyer with a ready means of identifying fruit of your quality, but when you are packing out a good grade of fruit, this works the other way, and I would like to endorse your use of the Lithograph Label much more warmly than I did at first.

BROADWAY PATTERN

"Dreamed last night I was eating shredded wheat."
"Yeh?"
"Woke up this morning—half the mattress gone."
When a merchant talks about "affording" advertising he is getting ready for the live merchant to take his trade away from him. People do not "afford" advertising any more than a man who needs a suit of clothes "affords" them. It is not a question of "affording" advertising, it is a vital necessity.

What we seem to need is an alarm clock that will put you to bed at night.

DANGER IN ELECTRIC CURRENT

No electric appliances should ever be placed where a person in a bathtub can reach them. Such is the assertion of Dr. A. Zimmerman in commenting on the death of a colleague.

Electrocution has taken place with a current of only 110 volts under such circumstances.

The reason is the water on the hands and body provides exceptionally favorable conditions for conduction of the current. It is not safe to touch even an electric light, heater or bell when in the bath. Dr. Zimmerman cites recent cases as follows:

A woman killed by holding an electric light in one wet hand while turning a water faucet with the other; a woman killed by wiping with a wet cloth the current distributing apparatus for an electric heater; a man receiving a severe shock by taking hold of a chandelier while holding an electric light suspended by a wire.

It is very dangerous to change an electric bulb when the hands are wet or the floor is wet; a slight defect in the insulation may cause a severe shock or even death.

A Botanist, travelling leisurely through Scotland, had with him a very fine and powerful glass through which he was studying the flora of the country. One day he was examining a blossom of the heather around him when a shadow fell over the glass. He looked up into the rugged, wondering face of a native who had also seen through the glass. "Mon, but it's wonderful!" exclaimed the old Scotchman. "To think of God making beautiful things like that and throwing them down around us everywhere, and I've never really looked at one until this minute. Why, I've crushed many of them with my foot when there was no need!" Will not some such feeling come to most of us, we wonder, when, with clearer vision, we look back on blessings that have been so plentiful that we called them common, and forgot to appreciate or be thankful? We need to pray for clearer sight lest we trample heedlessly upon the beauty and sweetness thrown in our way.

The business man who sends abroad for any product which can be obtained from or through his fellow business man is doing his own business and the whole town an injury.

FIFTY YEARS A WEATHERMAN

Sir Frederick Stupart, who is also called "Old Probs", is the director of the Canadian meteorological service at Ottawa, the service which he entered more than fifty years ago. Among his duties is that of issuing daily weather predictions. He is a native-born Canadian, whose birth place was near Toronto. He has been president of the Royal Astronomical Society, among other high offices. His home is in Toronto.

We used to hear a line of talk something like this: "Oh, if we only had a steady winter no matter how cold it was or how much snow; if we only had a steady winter like they have in some countries, we would be so much better off. It would be healthier an' everyting." Well, you chatterers, we have had it; how did you like it? Was it as good as you claimed or did it make your teeth chatter too ding-ding-much?

ALWAYS THE SAME

Six men, sole survivors of a wreck, were cast upon a desert island where they abode for some months, till a man-of-war took them off. In his log the captain of the warship noted the radical characteristics of the six thus: The two Irishmen had fought every day for the whole time of the sojourn. The two Englishmen had not spoken to each other because they had not been properly introduced. The two Scots had started a Caledonian society.
