Dinner at Grand Falls.

DIRECTOR CAIRD.

The reply to this very spirited sentiment was made by Mr. Caird, a Director of the Daily Mail of London, one of the "hungry shareholders." He expressed his surprise at the enthusiasm with which the toast was received, and said that at first he felt like the ghost at the feast. He came as the representative of the shareholders who were still waiting patiently for what never came, but who were nevertheless content to wait a little longer relying on the workers in Grand Falls to accomplish the miracle. He himself represents $2,000,000, which is composed mainly of the savings of working people who, trusting to the genius, business sense and sagacity of Lord Northcliffe, hope ultimately to obtain a profit. Hitherto the profit was only enough to pay off the interest on bonds, and leaves not enough for the depreciation on such valuable machinery. Referring to the "A.N.D. Spirit," he spoke of the Daily Mail spirit in London, which made that paper famous throughout the world, and is attributed to Lord Northcliffe. It made wonders there and it will make wonders here. The Gravesend mill have their eye on the Grand Falls mill and will certainly try to go one better every time. He ended an interesting and also entertaining speech by thanking the assembly for their hearty reception of the toast.

MR. LeMESSURIER.

The floor was next occupied by Mr. LeMessurier, who, on rising to propose the toast, "Grand Falls Club," expressed his pleasure in this, and dwelt on the quick growth of the town of Grand Falls, which in his opinion compares favorably with any town he knew. Not satisfied with building a large mill and erecting numerous houses, they have thought of the comfort and health of the community, as well as the pleasure. He spoke in laudatory terms of the influence of club-life on the young men; it provides a place where they can meet and improve one another by intercourse or by reading, and provides a healthy recreation for mind or muscle. This club in Grand Falls served a doubly useful purpose inasmuch as there is a meeting room for societies to meet whenever they desire and transact their business.

MR. M. S. SULLIVAN.

Mr. M. S. Sullivan made a very good reply to the foregoing. He referred to the close relations that had existed long ago between him and Mr. LeMessurier, who was a neighbor in his boyhood days. Continuing, he said it was not surprising the shareholders wanted a dividend; eight years is a long time to wait. It ought to be remembered, however, that the prosperity of next year is due in a large measure to the efforts of the workers of this year. As regards the club, it is a cosmopolitan one, comprising several different nationalities in its membership. He was proud that Newfoundlanders have demonstrated to the world that they can make paper, that they can adapt themselves to new surroundings and new conditions, and that they are now making paper better than anywhere else in the world. As President of the club he was delighted to report that it is standing on its own feet, and going ahead, but nevertheless he would like to repeat his appeal made also last year for the young men to come in greater numbers and enlarge the membership. In conclusion he thanked the people for the great enthusiasm they displayed in drinking to the health of the Grand Falls Club.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles Disappear

Chronie Sufferers Find Relief After
Few Doses of Croxone.

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism, have disagreeable, annoying bladder or urinary disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy that you can depend upon.

It is a positive fact that Croxone promptly overcomes such diseases.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stepped up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutral-izes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate, long standing cases.

You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results. An original package costs but a trifle, and your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time.

Rip Van Winkle.

Will be shown at the Nickel to-day, it comprises two thousand feet of film and was produced by the Vitagraph Co. The old familiar story has been told in a magnificent fashion. Mr. Cameron, the comic singer, has two of his very best numbers, which kept the large audiences in roars of laughter during last night's performance. Mr. Al. Fleming sings "Those songs my mother used to sing" in a most charming manner. Altogether the Nickel has an excellent programme for the week-end. Manager Kielly announces that he has secured some big features for the near future.

"BEAVER"

Is both a
Bread Flour and a
Pastry Flour

The perfect flour is the one that combines the good qualities of Ontario and Western wheat. This is exactly what "Beaver" Flour does. It is a blend of best Ontario fall wheat with a little Western wheat to add strength. "Beaver" Flour is equally good for Bread and Pastry—it has the real home made flavor that western flours lack. NICE, France, Sept. 18.—Three electric cars filled with passengers, while passing over a bridge near the village of Villeneuve Laubié, jumped the rails and fell forty feet into the ravine. Twelve were killed and thirty injured.

QUEBEC, Sept. 18.—Dr. Parkin, of Rhodes' Scholarship fame, arrived by the "Victorian," left for the Maritime Provinces at midnight. The object of his visit, he said, is to supervise the examinations in Canada and the States which will take place about the middle of October.

DUBLIN, Sept. 18.—Boys attending the schools in connection with the Roman Catholic Cathedral here, joined the ranks of the strikers to-day. When the hour arrived for beginning the lesson requiring the use of books supplied by a firm which had locked out its workmen belonging to the transport workers' union, the boys immediately rebelled. An attempt at coercion was followed by an attack on the masters. The boys, armed with slates, forced assaulted their teachers, two of whom were so seriously injured in the fighting that they had to be taken to the hospital for treatment.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Sir Edward Carson, reviewing the plans of the provisional government to be established when the Home Rule Bill goes into effect, would be discussed next week. We mean to set up that government, he said. The dangers and difficulties will be great. It will, of course, be illegal, but so are volunteers. The British Government dare not interfere because it knows you would not break interference. There are illegals who are not crims. In his speech at Kilkeel, referring to Lord Loreburn's suggested conference, he said to participate would be to surrender.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The motor-bus drivers have not yet taken any decisive steps as to the proposed strike, but the routes served by the motor-omnibuses of the same companies, which originated the dispute by refusing to permit their employees to wear trade union badges, are practically without the means of transportation. Out of 150 vehicles belonging to the concerns, fewer than 20 were taken out of the sheds this morning. Both sides show great determination. It is feared that the men employed by the other omnibus companies will carry out their threat and cease work Friday midnight. The men say that if they do come out they will not return until all their grievances are remedied. They have asked for a uniform rate of wages, and also demand the adoption of
