

Trusses Trusses Trusses

Just at this season of the year, through the heavy harvesting work, it is very important to you if ruptured that you have a thoroughly reliable truss, one that will hold with safety while you are exerting every muscle. Important, we said. Yes, it's dangerous to be without one, or to depend on an old half worn out one.

We have a truss—the New York elastic Water Pad Truss at $1.50, for all sizes, which we will guarantee to fit you. If it doesn't we will return your money. It is the simplest of all trusses and is as comfortable as the suspender on your shoulder. Don't be backward about asking us to show them to you. We do a big truss business.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Mr. Fred Kaiser has a badly sprained ankle, the result of being thrown from his buggy.

On Thursday afternoon of last week Tillsonburg bowlers lost here by 6 shots.

The L. O. T. M. will meet on Tuesday next. A large attendance is requested as visitors from Chicago will be present.

Mr. Charles H. Sherman, who for the past ten months has been on the staff of the Sovereign Bank here, has been transferred to Toronto and left for that city on Monday. During his short residence here he made many friends who regret his departure very much but are glad to hear of his promotion.

J. Miller & Son, land dealers, have sold John A. Stewart's farm near Belmont, to Thomas Wallace, of the county of Wexford, Ireland, also sold A. Lonsbury's farm, near St. Salem to George and Maria Marlow. These sales amount to about $7,000.

After a residence here of 7 or 8 years Mr. Thos. Kiley has returned to London, where he will have charge of a new shoe factory which recently started in that city. During their residence here both Mr. and Mrs. Kiley have made many friends who regret to see them leave town.

Miss Stella McDiarmid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McDiarmid, of Woodstock, formerly of Aylmer was quietly married on Saturday afternoon last at her home to Prof. Clarence L. Brown of the Woodstock College faculty. Miss McDiarmid was at one time one of Aylmer's most popular girls and her many Aylmer friends wish her every possible future happiness.

The King's daughters promenade social at the rink, on Tuesday evening last was a great success, and all those who didn't attend missed a general good time. There was a great deal of fun with the grand promenades which took place at the first and end of the evening while the ladies who waited on tables at which were served, light refreshments, were kept busy during the entire evening. The fish pond also caused a great deal of amusement for both the older people and children.

On Tuesday, June 27, a most artistic wedding took place at Hillcrest Farm, South Darchester, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pendreigh, when their eldest daughter, Agnes, was married to Mr. Joseph B. McKeague, of Chicago, Rev. J. W. Rae, brother-in-law of the groom, officiating. The ceremony, which took place in front of the large parlor window banked in with roses and ferns, was performed in the presence of about 60 guests. Miss Hattie Pendreigh, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while the groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. T. E. McKeague, of Chicago. Miss Minnie Johnson, of St. Thomas, played the wedding march. After a sumptuous repast, Mr. and Mrs. McKeague left for a trip to Montreal, Boston, New York and Philadelphia previous to their departure to Chicago, where they will reside in the future. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond sunburst brooch and a similar one somewhat smaller to the bridesmaid. The waiters were also presented with very pretty gold brooches.

"THE SPRINGTIME IS THE ONLY PRETTY RINGTIME"

The budding flowers of spring seem to carry some mysterious love potion in their fragrance. Perhaps that is why there are so many weddings in June. Incidentally the jeweler plays a part in this little drama for it devolves upon him to furnish a ring which, for its innate purity and goodness, will be as lasting as life itself. The excellence of our plain gold rings is superlative, and you may rest assured that rings trade-marked as the above will never disappoint.

DOCTORING WATCHES

When your pulse quits beating regularly, you immediately summon a doctor, for if you don't, trouble is likely to follow. When the pulse of your watch is irregular you should have the doctor attend to it for the very same reason. We are just as much doctors in our way as any physician. We clean out the whole system, repair all breakages, oil up and adjust the works so that the pulse will be strong and regular, and a regular pulse means perfect time. Our charges are very moderate, too.
